TAX TURKEY IN OVEN

Revenue Measure Completed

Rates Slashed $235,820,000 by Committee's Figures; More, Mills Says

Corporate Incomes Favored; Auto Sales Levy Split; Fight Tax Boosted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—Disposing in rapid order of all major issues entering into the question of tax reduction, the House Ways and Means Committee today approved a program calling for a total cut in income rates of $235,820,000.

The program is expected to be shaped into bill form immediately and final reading of the measure may be started before the week-end for possible changes in its provisions.

With the committee, according to its computations, kept well within the $338,800,000 maximum reduction set by itself, it exceeded by slightly more than $10,000,000 the figure proposed by the Treasury. It also refused to adhere to any of the major recommendations submitted by the department.

MAY BE MORE

Chairman Green explained that the savings in placing the total proposed cut at nearly $236,000,000 were based on its own figures and that if Treasury estimates, submitted by Secretary Mills of the Treasury Department for a basis, the total reduction would approximate $340,000,000.

At the outset of its session today the committee, by a vote of 22 to 1, favored reduction of the tax rate on corporation incomes from 13½ per cent to 13½ per cent, against the 12½ per cent suggested by Secretary Mellon. The action came after rejection, 16 to 7, of a proposal to cut the rate to 12½ per cent.

The committee estimated the loss in revenue by this reduction at $166,000,000, while Mr. Green said the Treasury figures would call for a loss of $200,000,000.

A motion also was approved to increase from $2000 to $3000 the exemption granted domestic corporations with a net income of $25,000 or less. The estimated loss in revenue was placed at $12,000,000.

AUTO TAX HALVED

In another vote, 18 to 5, the sales tax on automobiles was sliced from 6 to 3 1-3 per cent, after a move to cut it to 2 per cent had failed, 17 to 6. The estimated loss in revenue was $30,000,000.

The committee balloted, 15 to 3, to increase from 75 cents to $1 the exemption on admission tickets. A move to raise the exemption to $1.50 was rejected, 13 to 8, and another proposal to exempt up to $3 was defeated, 15 to 5. The loss to the Treasury is estimated at $8,000,000.

The committee voted, 13 to 8, to increase from 10 to 25 per cent the tax on 65 or higher-priced tickets to

GIRL GRADUATES GO RAT KILLING

Two Carry Extermination War Over Whole of Continent

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—Overcoming the traditional feminine aversion to rodents, two graduates of women's colleges, Miss Helen Caldwell of the University of West Virginia, and Miss Evelyn Wagar of the University of Minnesota, have adopted rat-killing as a profession.

In an article in the December issue of a national magazine Miss Caldwell tells how she and Miss Wagar have exterminated rats in thirty-nine States, two provinces of Canada, Hawaii, Alaska and many Mexican cities.

ICE COATS PUDDLES IN BAY REGION

San Francisco Shivers and Mercury Takes Drop Over All North of State

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—Early risers in San Francisco today found the ground covered with frost and small puddles in exposed locations sheeted with a thin coating of ice as the Bay District and Northern California experienced its first cold snap of the season. In this city, the lowest temperature reported by Maj. E. H. Bowie of the Weather Bureau was 47 deg., but it represented a drop of 11 deg. in less than twenty-four hours.

Outside points were hit harder. Readings of freezing or lower were reported from Chico, Lindsay, Mt. Hamilton, Oroville and Santa Rosa. At Paso Robles, the situation was virtually the same, with a reading of 33 deg. At Sacramento it was 38.

Maj. Bowie anticipated a continuation tomorrow, with temperatures as low as 22 deg in the Sierras and probable rains in the north. At Eureka last night, there was .04 of an inch of rain.

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 22. (AP)—A 32-deg. temperature here last night, the lowest of the season, may cause slight damage to young vegetables and unpicked grapes, growers announced today. However, it will hasten the coloring of late maturing oranges.

FATHER OF ANGELENO EXPIRES IN SPOKANE

SPOKANE (Wash.) Nov. 22. (AP)—John Twohy, a resident of this city for twenty-five years, died here today at 73 years of age. After funeral services tomorrow the body will be sent to San Jose, Cal., for burial.

Mr. Twohy leaves his widow, two daughters and three sons, including Mrs. Frank Marten of San Jose; Mrs. James McInerney of Los Angeles; John Twohy of San Francisco, and James P. Towhy of Portland.

PRESIDENT PROTESTS

Coolidge Scores Petition Move

Circulation of Chain Letters to Force His Nomination Sharply Criticised

Views Presented Unofficially; No Good Seen in Scheme; Renewed Stir Caused

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—In unqualified terms President Coolidge let it be known today that the first specific attempt to force the Republican convention to nominate him as its candidate next year has incurred his displeasure.

Breaking a silence of nearly four months, the White House disclosed the President's views in a sharp criticism of the movement started by a Boston broker to circularize the country by a chain-letter system in an endeavor to build up such a dominant sentiment for Mr. Coolidge that his nomination by the Republicans would amount to a nation-wide demand.

In a direct positive manner it was made known that the President disapproves the circulation of the petitions, that he fails to see that any good can come from the move and that he hopes their circulation will be discontinued.

STIR RESULTS

This first amplification of what Mr. Coolidge is thinking in connection with his political future since his famous Black Hills "do not choose" statement of August 2 brought forth a situation of constants and contrasts. Like his pronouncement last summer, today's statement was made to newspaper correspondents and, again, it caused a stir such as only something of the first importance can do.

But, unlike the statement of August, which was neatly typed on small, plain white slips of paper and handed to the correspondents personally by the President, today's announcement was made verbally and without the authority of a direct quotation. On August 2 his declaration was made to newspaper men in an unadorned classroom of a prairie-town schoolhouse; today the first amplification was pronounced amid the luxury of a White House office.

MEANING DISPUTED

And even as the first broadside was received with a mixture of feelings as to just what Mr. Coolidge meant, the amplification caused similar speculation, but, it seems, with a tendency to gather force for that group which believes the President intends to leave the White House on March 4, 1929.

Made during a regular Presidential conference with the Washington correspondents, today's declaration, under the rules, can not be published as a direct quotation nor presented as an official White House declaration. The rules require that whatever is made known in behalf of the President at these conferences must be published on the news writer's own responsibility and while the biweekly meetings have come to be considered in at east a semiofficial light, news stories derived therefrom never have claimed the unqualified author-

REDS PERIL BLACK SEA

Warship Antics Scare Rumania

Bucharest Nears Panic When Soviet Torpedo Boats Patrol Lanes

Vessel Tells of Night Race on Darkened Waters to Avoid Capture

BUCHAREST, Nov. 22. (AP)—The reported sudden appearance on the Black Sea of several soviet war vessels pushed politics off the front page of Rumanian newspapers today and caused what appeared a real scare throughout the country.

For several days torpedo boats have been reported patrolling the routes usually followed by Rumanian and foreign mail and passenger steamers, causing the Rumanian admiralty to arm all its larger vessels. The purpose of the soviet vessels is said to be to capture all vessels formerly belonging to the White Russian Wrangel fleet, but Rumanian vessels are taking no chances.

SHIPS WARNED BY RADIO

The secret police yesterday sent a wireless message to the captain of the steamship Rumania, en route from Constantinople to Constanza, warning him that two Russian torpedo boats were cruising on the Black Sea intending to capture former Wrangel vessels.

Although the Rumania does not come within this category, the captain ordered all lights extinguished immediately and started full speed toward Constanza. The passengers had a thrilling midnight race at top speed across the Black Sea in complete darkness and the steamer arrived four hours ahead of time. The passengers declared that the Rumania was pursued all the way across, but this could not be verified.

The steamer Dacia, leaving for Alexandria, and the steamer Princess Maria, leaving for Constantinople, today had detachments of marines aboard. The Egyptian steamer Geheorche Patro, which formerly belonged to Wrangel's fleet, fears to leave Constanza because of possible capture by the soviet vessels.

RED PIRATES FEARED

Rumanian marine officials at Constanza today sent a wireless message to the captain of the steamer Rascanu, en route from Constantinople to Constanzar telling him that among his passengers were eight Russians with false passports who intend to provoke a revolt among the crew of the vessel.

Rumanian captains also have been warned to be on the lookout for "Bolshevik pirates" who are said to be increasingly active since the expulsion of Leon Trotzky from the Communist party in Russia and whose intention is asserted to start a widespread revolt among Black Sea towns from Odessa to Constantinople.

At intervals during the last three months, the soviet fleet is stated to have held maneuvers near the Rumanian, Bulgarian and Turkish coasts, causing much apprehension in those countries. At Constanza recently several soviet destroyers came inside Rumanian territorial waters in plain view of army and navy officers, who hurried to prepare resistance to any attack.

ATTEMPT TO SPAN OCEAN AGAIN FAILS

Junkers Plane Forced Back to Azores After Few Hours at Sea

HORTA, ISLAND OF FAYAL (Azores) Nov. 22. (AP)—After what appeared to be a favorable start this evening on its long-delayed trans-Atlantic flight from the Azores to Newfoundland, the Junkers plane D-1230 came back to port a few hours later. She was in tow, and while no exact details of her misadventure are yet available, it is supposed that her heavy weight did not permit the continuance of the flight.

In addition to the crew, Lilli Dillenz, the Austrian actress, was aboard. She had flown in the plane from Norderney, October 4, last, and was resolved to finish the overseas journey from Germany to the United States, no matter how it ended.

Oil Wells Drill Into Each Other

TULSA (Okla.) Nov. 22. (AP)—Deep sand wells in the Greater Seminole area have been noted for their "corkscrew turns" and divergencies from a plumb line into the earth, but a precedent is believed to have been set at Little River, where two wells, located 660 feet apart, drilled into each other.

The Magnolia Petroleum Corporation, drilling on No. 4 Petty, was at a depth of 829 feet when it drilled into the Carter Oil Company's hole.

Both holes will have to be abandoned, the rigs skidded and new tests started. A loss of about $10,000 resulted.

Plot Suspected to Blast Tunnel

OAKLAND, Nov. 22. (AP)—Discovery of fourteen sticks of dynamite in a box car near the highway tunnel on the tunnel road near here today caused police to suspect a plot to blow up the tube.

LOVE AFFAIR CALLED OFF BY ACTRESS

Barthelmess and Wilson Girl's Engagement Ended by Mutual Consent

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—Miss Katherine Y. Wilson, actress, told the Associated Press today that her engagement to Richard Barthelmess, screen player, has been broken because she desires to return to the stage.

"Mr. Barthelmess and I," she explained, "are excellent friends still, although we came to this decision several weeks ago. He is now on the Coast making a picture and I am planning to start rehearsals here in New York immediately."

The engagement was announced last August, a year after Barthelmess was divorced in Paris by his first wife, Mary Hay, screen and stage actress.

Miss Hay married Vivian Bath of Singapore, April 10, last, and returned last week to Hollywood, announcing that she wishes her expected baby to be born on American soil.

Miss Wilson announced last week that her contemplated wedding to Barthelmess could not take place "until we are both in the same city at the same time." At the time of the announcement of their engagement, the 15th inst., was set as the tentative date for the wedding.

It is said that the friendship of Barthelmess and Miss Wilson started about three years ago when they both were working in California on pictures.

Miss Wilson was born in Jacksonville, Fla., and until she took up the stage as a career was active in the social life of her home city.

Maine Senator Reports Hoover Strong in West

PORTLAND (Me.) Nov. 22. (AP)—Senator Arthur Gould, here today en route to his home in Presque Isle, from a month's trip to California, expressed the belief that Secretary Herbert Hoover should be the Republican nominee for President in the event Mr. Coolidge refuses to be a candidate. He said there is strong sentiment in the West for Hoover.

Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire would be a wise choice for Vice-President under Mr. Hoover, in the opinion of Gould.

PASTOR RESIGNS POST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—Dissensions with members of his parish at Leonardtown, St. Mary's county, Md., over the Sacco-Vanzetti case, has resulted in the resignation of Rev. C. W. Whitmore of St. Andrews Church.

Huge Holiday Airplane Mail Business Seen

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—Based on the sales volume of air-mail stickers, air-mail envelopes and shop-window displays, officials of the Boeing Air Transport, operating the Chicago air mail, and the Pacific Air Transport, operating the Pacific Coast lines, estimated today that the coming Christmas season will exceed any similar period in history for the transmission of mail and packages in the air.

W. G. Herron, vice-president in charge of traffic for the Boeing company, revealed that in the four months ending October 31, last, tonnage increased 4634 pounds over the preceding period of the same length, and totaled 100,388 pounds eastbound and 85,206 pounds westbound.

Plane Carrier May Come Here

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 22. (AP)—Unofficial word that the giant aircraft carrier, Saratoga, constructed at a cost of $35,000,000 and carrying a crew of 2000 officers and men, will sail from Philadelphia for the San Diego-San Pedro area early in January and that she will have her trial trips here instead of off the coast of Maine or Cuba was received here today by the fleet air force.

Precedent Set on Citizenship

HONOLULU, Nov. 22. (AP)—Judge De Bolt of the United States District Court held today that a Japanese American-born woman in obtaining a divorce becomes eligible to American citizenship she lost when she married a foreign-born Japanese. The case is believed to have established a precedent here.

U. S. Dist.-Atty. Wood had opposed the petition for naturalization of Yoshiko Hoshino, who was born in Hawaii, asserting that her marriage made her a member of a class ineligible to naturalization.

FIRST CIVILIAN FLYER TO HAWAII TAKES BRIDE

RENO, Nov. 22. (AP)—Ernest Leroy Smith, pilot of the plane which made the first civilian flight between the United States mainland and the Hawaiian Islands on July 14, landing on the island of Molokai, was married here today to Miss Norine Harper of San Francisco and Oakland.

Reno is Smith's birthplace and he came here for the wedding, he said, as a matter of sentiment.

FIEND PUTS DEATH WIRE OVER ROADS

Barbed Strands Hung at Right Height to Cut Off Heads of Motorists

STOCKTON, Nov. 22. (AP) — Every officer and all motorists in San Joaquin county, particularly motorcyclists, were warned today by the San Joaquin county traffic squad to use care in driving over county highways, due to the activities of a peculiar type of fiend who is stretching barbed wire in a diagonal and death-dealing manner across roads.

The wire is stretched in such a manner that contact with it by a motorcyclist undoubtedly would result in decapitation.

County Traffic Officer Brumbaugh encountered a wire stretched across the highway just outside the city limits Friday night while returning from patrol duty near Tracy.

Brumbaugh owes his life to a coincidence. Just as he passed a truck a light on his motorcycle went out. He reached down to the side of his motorcycle to adjust a switch and at that very moment a barbed wire struck his forehead and tore his cap from his head. A moment later the truck crashed into the wire with the result that the truck's windshield was reduced to wreckage.

Officers report that a wire was stretched in a similar manner across the Farmington highway southeast of Stockton Thursday night.

SEVEN CITED IN OIL CASE

Contempt Action Up to Judge

Sinclair, Burns and Others Face Punishment Because of Jury Scandal

Charges Made Independent of Indictments Due to Tampering Quiz

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—Harry F. Sinclair, William J. Burns and five other principals in the oil trial jury scandal ran afoul of the law anew today with the filing of criminal contempt proceedings against them in the District of Columbia Supreme Court.

A rule was issued requiring them to appear before Associate Justice Frederick L. Siddons on December 5 to show cause why they should not be punished for their part in the surveillance of the Fall-Sinclair Teapot Dome jury, which has been under investigation by a grand jury for three weeks.

In praying for the order, Dist.-Atty. Peyton Gordon charged on behalf of the United States that the purpose of bringing the Burns detectives to Washington was "to spy upon, to bribe, intimidate and influence" the trial jurors, and "to do anything calculated" to "impede, pervert and prevent the due administration of justice" either by corruptly influencing the jurors or by "concocting false charges" against one or more of them with a view to bringing about a mistrial.

OTHERS NAMED

Besides the wealthy oil operator and the internationally known detective, those named in the petition are Henry Mason Day of New York City and Sheldon Clark of Chicago, close associates of Sinclair; Sherman Burns, directing head of the Burns detective agency, and Charles L. Veltsch, manager of the Baltimore bureau of the Burns organization.

By direction of Justice Siddons a separate petition and rule are filed against Edward J. Kidwell, Jr., juror No. 11, who is under charges of having freely discussed the criminal oil conspiracy case while the trial was in progress and with having expressed the hope of obtaining an automobile "as long as this block."

This time Sinclair and his co-defendants will not face a jury. Justice Siddons will hear the testimony and will decide from the facts whether contempt has been shown. If he holds that the accused are guilty he can impose either fines or jail sentences or both, within his discretion.

From the court's findings of the fact there can be no appeal, but an appeal can be taken to the District of Columbia Court of Appeals on points of law involved in the contempt proceedings. Generally defendants are admitted to bail pending the outcome of such appeals.

SINCLAIR CONVICTED

Sinclair is under sentences of three months in jail and a fine of $500 for contempt of the United States Senate as a result of his refusal to answer questions in the Senate's oil inquiry nearly four years ago and is at liberty on bond pending the outcome of his appeal to the higher courts.

In presenting the petition, Dist.-Atty. Gordon told Justice Siddons that his action is "entirely independent" of the grand jury investigation, which now has been concluded. Whether the jury is to make a presentment is for it to decide, but if it does so the indictments may be held in abeyance until after the contempt hearing.

The contempt action supersedes the charges of conspiracy to influence the verdict of the trial jury which recently were laid against Sinclair, Day and Clark before United States Commissioner Needham C. Turnage. Clark's hearing on these charges, set

NEW ZEALAND FLYER BACK

Capt. Giles Lands Near San Luis Obispo With Story of Battling Storm at Sea

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—Capt. Frederick A. Giles, who took off from San Francisco this morning after announcing he intended to fly to the Hawaiian Islands on his way to New Zealand, succeeded in getting as far as the William R. Hearst ranch at San Simeon, about fifty miles from here, this afternoon.

He alighted in a flat field about a mile from the ranch wharf, according to employees of the ranch, with a story of having encountered severe storms at sea which broke a strut on one of his wings. Ranch employees said he told them he had gone 500 miles when he was forced to turn back, which would have made about 1000 miles flying in the eight hours between the time he left San Francisco and the time he landed at San Simeon. However, his plane is rated as having a maximum speed of 105 miles an hour, and he had not been expected to fly more than 90 miles an hour in the first stages of his journey.

From the wharf near where he alighted, he telephoned to the ranch, informing C. A. Atkins, office manager, of his presence on the ranch. He was discovered by Roy Summers, wharf manager, shortly before he landed.

Following a hearty meal on his arrival at the ranch house at 7 o'clock, Capt. Giles was reported to have retired, leaving orders not to be disturbed until morning.

Capt. Giles, Atkins reported, plans to motor to San Francisco tomorrow morning, returning later to make a few minor repairs to his plane.

No damage to the plane was discernible other than the broken strut.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Nov. 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Mellon foolishly and unppolitically saved up a little money out of our national "jackpot." Well, a forthcoming war or a colossal national pestilence couldn't have stirred up half the excitement among entire America as what to do with this little dab of money.

Half of Congress met three weeks early. Not to solve the Mississippi floods nor to build Boulder Dam, but to split up the "jackpot." We owe $30,000,000,000 but we couldn't think of applying it on that. It's too near an election.

I am beginning to believe that Mellon is the poorest treasurer we ever had. I would like to be treasurer. Here would be my policy and you see if it wouldn't be the best thing for America. Save nothing, have nothing in there. Then Congress and the entire nation could go back to work with nothing in view only what they made themselves.

BATTLE-TORN MINES QUIET

Strikers Stay in as Troops Patrol Property

Inquest to be Conducted in Wobbly Killings

Working Force Larger at Other Colorado Fields

DENVER, Nov. 22. (AP)—The Colorado coal fields, torn by an I.W.W. strike for more than five weeks, were quiet today as National Guard troops took charge of the Northern Colorado territory where five strikers were shot and killed and a score wounded by State police yesterday.

Carrying out their plans formed at a mass meeting the strikers staged no demonstrations of any kind in Northern Colorado. With the strikers remaining in their homes the little coal mining villages of Erie, Lafayette and Frederick took on a deserted look as hardly a person appeared on the streets where, for the past few weeks the miners have gathered daily to discuss the strike situation.

MINES INACTIVE

A number of the strikers wounded in yesterday's battle still are in a serious condition, but no new deaths are reported.

Columbine Mine, where the shooting occurred yesterday, has been made headquarters for the National Guard troops, but three companies have been sent to other mines in the northern field.

None of the Northern Colorado mines attempted to operate and the owners did not make known their plans for resuming work in that part of the State. In the Southern Colorado fields the mines reported slightly increased working forces. In Huerfano county, once the hotbed of the strike, there was no activity by the strikers.

In Las Animas county, five men were arrested on picketing charges near Aguilar, but no serious disturbances were reported.

CORONER TO ACT

Members of the Weld county Coroner's jury who will fix responsibility for two of the five deaths, went to the Columbine Mine to look over the place where the strikers met their death. The jury will meet in Greeley tomorrow to hear testimony concerning the deaths. On the following day a Boulder county Coroner's jury will conduct an inquest over the three remaining strikers who were killed. All of the State police who opened fire with their pistols at the group of strikers have been called as witnesses.

J. G. Nesbit, one of the strike committee in the northern field, told the Associated Press today that "there absolutely will be no violence." He added that the miners are going to stay away from work until they are granted the Jacksonville wage scale, and that they were going to win the strike by peaceful means.

SEVEN CITED IN OIL CONTEMPT

down now for Friday, probably will be postponed.

The contempt action by the District Attorney was in line with that which Justice Siddons initiated last week with the appointment of a special committee of three to determine whether there was just cause for contempt proceedings. Gordon was named a member of that committee but declined to serve, with a result that some tart letters were exchanged between him and Justice Siddons.

In the government's contempt petition, Sinclair is charged specifically with having "ordered, directed and induced," Day and Clark to engage the services of the Burns agency "to spy upon" the jurors and to forward to him reports from the detectives as to their activities.

William J. Burns is accused of coming to Washington as early as October 12, five days before the Fall-Sinclair trial began, to arrange for the operations of the detectives and, with his son, W. Sherman Burns, also is charged with procuring a false affidavit purporting to show that the United States itself, through one of its employees, had attempted to tamper with a juror.

STOCK HOLDINGS

Taking cognizance of Burns's claim that he does not own a share of stock in the Burns Detective Agency, the District Attorney said that forty-seven of the fifty shares of stock of the agency are held by Burns's wife and that Burns in this indirect fashion "receives moneys and other benefits from the holdings of said stock in his wife's name."

Especial emphasis is laid by the District Attorney on those reports of the Burns operatives showing that they had carefully investigated the financial affairs of one of the trial jurors, John P. Kern, going so far as to inquire into what mortgages there are on his home.

While Charles G. Ruddy of Philadelphia, directing head of the squad of detectives brought here for the trial, was not included among those cited for contempt, his name runs all the way through the seven pages of the petition, and he is charged directly with causing many reports to be made.

Among such reports cited is one concerning a brother or father of the juror, Edward J. Kidwell, Jr., which sets forth that this brother or father conducted a place of business located on questionable premises and that raring forms were found in the trash thrown out of the Kidwell place.

CHARGE LOOSE TALK

J. Ray Akers, a former street-car conductor, and Donald K. King, a newspaper reporter, are the informers against Juror Kidwell. Their affidavits charging him with loose talk about the trial are filed along with those concerning the Burns operatives and figured in the decision of Justice Siddons to declare a mistrial in the Fall-Sinclair case on the 2nd inst.

Kidwell, through his attorney, has denied the charges made by King and Akers in detail, and has asked for a hearing. That will be given to him when the contempt proceedings get under way next month.

Although only six names are mentioned in the District Attorney's petition, he asked that others be made parties to the contempt proceedings if it develops that they are concerned.

REMUS AIDED BY STATE WITNESS

Bootleg King's Pay-off Man Faces Perjury Quiz

Contradicts Many Statements Made in Confession

Brazenly Sidesteps Efforts to Prove Murder Plot

CINCINNATI, Nov. 22. (Exclusive) "Pay-off Georgie" Klug, one of the field marshals of George Remus, bootleg king, projected himself into the shadow of a perjury indictment when he developed a sudden attack of amnesia at the Remus murder trial today.

"Pay-off Georgie" looks like a gunman. He has cold, gray eyes. Even when he couldn't recall and "couldn't remember" and "couldn't say" Klug was brazen and tough about it.

He "sweat blood" as the saying is, on the stand today, but when he had finished the State had not wrung one damaging admission from him.

"We will certainly proceed with perjury indictments against Klug if he lied," Prosecutor Taft said later. He pointed out that Klug had, under oath, contradicted several statements he had made in his confession after George Remus murdered his wife, Imogene Holmes Remus, last October 6.

But "Pay-off Georgie" didn't care. He had taken the rap. He had gone far toward saving the bacon for King Remus and his gang, George Conners, Blanche Watson and the rest. Georgie swaggered from the courtroom feeling somewhat of a conqueror, despite the many contradictions and obvious evasions he had plunged into.

The prosecution called "Georgie" but he did nothing except down the conspiracy case the State was making against Remus, Conners and Miss Watson, the red-headed spinster with whom Remus was once accused of misconduct.

Klug, sidestepping and fencing and laying himself wide open to perjury charges, laid the groundwork for a Conners and Watson alibi. For the defense intends to prove that Remus's disciples of bootlegdom were not present at the Remus last supper held in the suite of the king of bootleggers here the night before he so brutally murdered his faithless queen, Imogene.

It was a Remus day throughout. The hoarse little Napoleon of whisky-teers forgot his cold and his failing voice for a moment this afternoon to hurl himself into an impassioned plea for the property—whisky certificates, letters, etc., taken from his wife's room after he killed her.

Possession was denied the slayer, fighting to save himself from the electric chair. But Judge Chester R. Shook, the boyish jurist trying the case, ordered Remus be allowed to inspect all documents before they are placed in evidence.

That means that the wily Remus, who has taken to cross-examining witnesses himself, will be able to ask uncomfortable questions when he grills his dead wife's brother, Harry Brown, and the daughter who saw the killing, Ruth Remus, 20 years of age.

The State called routine witnesses to tell how Remus had grabbed his wife by the throat, pushed her to the ground, pressed a revolver against her breast and fired. While they were testifying Remus took away some of the revolting effect of their cruel tale by refusing to cross-examine any of them. His associate, Charles H. Elston, also waived cross-examination.

Once Remus and one of the jurors laughed heartily when William Smith, colored eyewitness, was asked what he did when he saw Remus kill his wife, the witness said:

"I stood puffectly still until that man was out of sight."

The cruel take of Remus's uxoricide has not robbed the squat little man of the magnetism he exercises for women, it was learned today. He gets at least fifty letters a day from women sympathizing with him and offering him aid. One today, a special delivery, was from Selma Josephine Almfelt, superintendent of the Almfelt Institute at Kingston-on-the-Hudson, N. Y. She once was an intimate friend of Imogene Remus, but she offered to appear in court if necessary to help the ex-convict wife slayer.

Boll Weevil in Arizona Gains

TUCSON (Ariz.)-Nov. 22. (AP)—The highest boll weevil infestation in the history of the Santa Cruz Valley was reported today by T. P. Cassidy, associate entomologist of the United States Bureau of Entomology station here. His statement is based on a survey of all cultivated land in the valley.

MRS. PADDLEFORD LOSES

Asserted "International Adventuress" Convicted at Salinas of Defrauding Merchant

SALINAS, Nov. 22. (AP)—Mrs. Genevieve Paddleford, ex-wife of three multimillionaires and termed, during her trial here, an "international adventuress," was found guilty of obtaining money under false pretenses by a jury of nine men and three women late today.

Mrs. Paddleford was convicted of trying to defraud Mrs. Lois Dibrell, Carmel shopkeeper, of a bill of goods valued at $255. The jury deliberated one hour.

Sentence is to be imposed Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Mrs. Paddleford is liable to a sentence of from one to ten years in the State penitentiary.

Attorneys for the woman declared they will seek an arrest of judgment pending a motion for a new trial. An appeal will be the last resort, they said.

The woman heard the verdict calmly, but went into hysterics two hours later and was taken to the Monterey County Hospital under police guard. In her hysteria she alternately babbled of her luxurious past life, shouted wildly and wept with great sobs. Hospital authorities put guards at her bed.

BREAK IN PLANE BAFFLES FLYER

lans from the Golden Gate to Honolulu, where Capt. Giles is said to have told of encountering severe storms.

Explaining that he based his declaration on reports from ten ships, Reed said he was informed there was "nothing but gentle winds, with a velocity of from six to twelve miles an hour, between here and Honolulu."

The Ventura, he said, was in approximately the position where Giles turned back, according to his reports to Hearst ranch employees.

In that approximate latitude and longitude, the Ventura reported by radio to the Weather Bureau, Reed said, that a gentle six-mile wind was blowing from the north, the sky was comparatively clear and there was no rain.

CAPT. GILES DESCRIBES BATTLE AGAINST DEATH

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22. (AP)—Capt. Frederick A. Giles, British airman, is to arrive in San Francisco tomorrow to map a new campaign against the death winds of the Pacific.

In a telephone message to friends in San Francisco tonight from a ranch near San Simeon, Cal., where he landed safely after surviving a terrifying plane-flipping, wrecking wind 480 miles out over the Pacific today, Capt. Giles said he will return to San Francisco without delay and plan a new flight to New Zealand, by way of Hawaii, Samoa and Fiji Islands and Australia.

The dramatic story of how he cheated death over the Pacific today was told in the following telegram received from Capt. Giles by Bartlett Stevens, assistant superintendent of Mills Field, San Francisco, the flyer's starting point.

SHIP TURNS OVER

"My luck is out—or maybe it is in. Four hundred and eighty miles out I ran into foul weather. The ship became uncontrollable and turned completely onto her back. The gasoline in the main tank then overloaded the ship while she was inverted and the center section braces snapped.

"I managed to right the ship at the critical moment although while inverted I lost all my charts, food, signals, flares.

"I took a rough guess and started for the coast, landing intact on the Hearst estate at San Simeon. I did not expect to make the mainland. I dumped the gasoline from the main tank to relieve the strain. My flying time was eight and one-half hours.

"This experience surely solved the mystery of the Golden Eagle."

The Golden Eagle referred to was one of the three planes lost at sea in connection with the Dole flight to Hawaii last August. No trace of them was ever found.

BESET BY MISFORTUNE

Capt. Giles hopped off from Mills Field, San Francisco, at 7:24 a.m. today to fly to Wheeler Field on the Hawaiian Island of Oahu. This was to be the first ocean lap of his proposed flight to Wellington, N. Z., by way of the Samoan and Fiji Islands and Australia.

Misfortune beset him from the time he started out in Detroit, where W. H. Rosewarne, Detroit business man and Giles's financial backer, lives. The plane was damaged in a forced landing at Hobart, Ind., and again at Elko, Nev., while attempting to take off for San Francisco.

Parts of the plane were shipped to San Francisco for repairs, and, after several delays on account of bad weather, the start was made today. Giles flew out to sea last Saturday, intending to reach the Hawaiian Islands. He was forced to dump his gasoline and turn back twenty miles outside the Golden Gate because of heavy fog.

The biplane Giles flies has an open cockpit, a single Wright radial motor and carries no radio or life raft. The captain depended upon his ability to pilot his ship and navigate himself along the course that had been plotted out for him by marine and aviation experts here. He was to depend solely on charts showing the approximate position of vessels on his course at certain hours, and without these charts he had nothing to guide him, for he does not carry a sextant.

Distillery Fire Causes Fatality

PATERSON (N. J.) Nov. 22. (AP)—Harry Young, 22 years of age, was burned to death tonight when 2500 gallons of denatured alcohol flared up as Young and several other men under direction of county detectives were dismantling a distillery that had been raided.

County officers believe that a spectator threw a lighted cigarette on the floor of the building, which was soaked with alcohol.

JURY AT PLAY WHILE POLICE CHECK SCRIPT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22. (AP)—With a policeman in the audience holding a copy of the script to make sure that the cast said every asserted naughty word, a jury of five men and five women today attended a theater performance of "The Married Virgin" here instead of listening to testimony in court regarding the play, which police contend is indecent. The jury will report its verdict tomorrow. The play is a translation from the French.

GOLD POURS INTO FILMS OF BRITAIN

London Papers State New Picture Projects Floated Will Absorb $25,000,000

LONDON, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—What the British papers term "a second gold rush" is being experienced in this country. It is revealed that no less than $25,000,000 is being raised for the flotation of new all-British film companies.

The Evening Standard estimates the schemes now being built, but not publicly announced, will absorb another $5,000,000 and mentions reports, however, which deny that a combine of the British motion-picture exhibitors are contemplating film production with a capital of $10,000,000.

The revival of the British film production and the fact that the film quota bill is now passing through its final parliamentary stages are assigned as reasons for this unprecedented expansion. Although many well-known names are being associated with some of the film companies, the Evening Standard warns investors that the motion-picture business is extremely technical and suggests that no amount of enthusiasm will prove a paying substitute for expert knowledge and experience.

COOLIDGE RAPS PETITION MOVE

ity which obtains from a written document.

After Mr. Coolidge's opposition to the circularization of the petitions had been disclosed a request was made to permit publication of his views as a direct quotation from the President, but it was ruled that the statement would have to be presented in the same way as other White House news.

FESS INSISTS COOLIDGE WILL BE DRAFTED TO RUN

CHICAGO, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—At about the same moment that President Coolidge again was insisting today that he does not "choose to run for President in 1928," Senator Fess of Ohio, likewise was reiterating his contention that Mr. Coolidge will be drafted for renomination in 1928 by the Republicans. Mr. Fess, who explained that he was not rebuked a month ago when he made similar statements in Washington, but that the President merely told him he "would not say such things," was in Chicago today.

Mr. Fess, qualifying his remarks this time with an "if," made the following statement regarding Mr. Coolidge and the nomination:

INTERVIEW RECALLED

"Unless some one candidate early in the convention makes such headway that there will be no deadlock and therefore no call for 'drafting' the President, Mr. Coolidge will be renominated—unless he issues a second statement more definite than the one he gave out in South Dakota."

Mr. Fess, who is regarded as the most familiar with Mr. Coolidge of all members of Congress, told the story of his interview with the President that since has become historic, although somewhat distorted, he says.

"I had been with the President three-quarters of an hour," he said today. "We had been discussing various things. As I started to leave I told him: 'I trust my frequent reference to your being drafted by the Republican convention has not been embarrassing.'

COOLIDGE CORDIAL

"The President told me that if he were I he would not repeat the story because the repetition would give an impression that I was speaking for him, and also permit my political enemies to say that I was talking for my own political good. I never found him more cordial than he was that day. He did not show the slightest displeasure nor utter one word of criticism or displeasure.

"Outside the executive offices I was besieged by the White House reporters and in saying that I did not want the President to suffer because of my utterances and that I had been talking wholly on my own authority I made the statement—'I found him somewhat displeased.'

"Well," Senator Fess smiled whimsically, "that went all over the country. Nobody was more startled than I when I read in newspaper articles the statement that I had been rebuked, chastised, spanked, scolded and tamed."

CAPPER SAYS MOVE AFOOT TO "DRAFT" COOLIDGE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—While indorsing the Presidential candidacy of Senator Curtis of Kansas, Senator Capper of that State declared today there is a well-defined movement among some political leaders of the country for the "drafting" of President Coolidge as the Republican nominee.

Senator Capper said he is "more convinced than ever that Mr. Coolidge does not want or hope for the nomination."

"Kansas," Senator Capper said, "is whole-heartedly behind Senator Curtis and if there is an open field for the race we believe he has a fine chance."

Fish and Game Guardians May Use Radio Sets

YREKA, Nov. 22. (AP)—Radio broadcasting stations are to be installed at Yreka and Willows, and perhaps in various other California towns, by the State Fish and Game Commission, to serve receiving sets strapped on the backs of all the commission's field deputies, according to persistent rumors here.

W. W. Lippincott of the commission refused today to divulge any information in connection with the reports, which are to the effect that the continental code will be used except in cases not requiring secrecy. This plan would involve a radio operator at each point where there is a broadcasting station, and the deputies would have to learn the code.

CHICAGO POLICE KILL GANGSTER

Thirteen Gunmen Arrested in General Round-up

"Scarface" Comes to Court Under Bodyguards

Death Ultimatum Given Foe by Pals in Jail

CHICAGO, Nov. 22. (AP)—The police scored first today in the grim war to the death between rival gangsters for control of gambling and bootlegging privileges.

One gangster is dead from a police bullet, thirteen others asserted by police to be implicated in plots to kill their rivals face charges ranging from disorderly conduct to conspiracy to commit murder and police squads with machine guns in armored automobiles are searching for new gangsters to conquer.

Even "Scarface" Al Capone, one of the few gang leaders to escape death in the gang war of extermination two years ago and the object of an assassination plot in the present feud, did not escape authorities.

COMES TO COURT IN STYLE

Immaculately groomed, even to spats and a cane, the youthful Capone, surrounded by bodyguards, appeared in Police Court today to answer to a charge of disorderly conduct, which was dismissed. Then, still surrounded by his lieutenants, he was whisked away to his hotel, which has been virtually transformed into an armed fortress.

Shortly after Capone's trip to court one of his enemies, Joseph Aiello, was released on bond and started for his home trembling for his life, after being refused a police escort.

Shortly before being released police heard Aiello converse with members of Capone's gang, arrested yesterday when they were found carrying weapons, confined in cells near him. He offered to get out of Chicago in two weeks if truce is declared, but was turned down.

"WE'RE GOING TO FINISH IT"

"You started this and we're going to finish it," police said Capone's men told Aiello, who with his two brothers is blamed by Capone for the plot to assassinate him, discovered a few days ago when a downtown hotel room across from a cigar store Capone visited frequently revealed shotguns trained on the shop.

The ganster killed by the police was Frank Herbert, brother of "Big Earl" Herbert, bodyguard of Joe Saltis, South Side gangster recently acquitted of murder.

Herbert's body was found in a doorway on the South Side, where he had died after being shot by a police squad summoned by a saloon-keeper, who said Herbert and a companion had threatened him when he refused to buy Saltis's beer.

CANDY JOBBERS INDICTED FOR TRUST

CHICAGO, Nov. 22. (AP)—Forty-five officials and members of the Candy Jobbers' Association of Chicago were named today in an indictment returned by the Federal grand jury before Federal Judge Cliffe charging violation of the Sherman antitrust laws.

The indictment charges the defendants perfected their organization through terrorism, including assaults, beatings, throwing of bombs and other acts of violence against competitors.

HOUSE FRAMES NEW TAX BILL

boxing matches, estimating the increase at $500,000

Another ballot, 15 to 1, cut in half the tax on club dues. Move for repeal of the levy failed, 14 to 6. A loss of $5,000,000 is expected.

The tax on stock transfers was cut from 2 to 1 cent on each $100 of value; the 1-cent tax on the sale of produce on exchange was repealed, and the tax on wines was restored to its prewar level.

COOLIDGE DISAPPROVES

While the committee was taking this action at the Capitol, it was disclosed at the White House that President Coolidge believed the committee had gone too high yesterday in setting its maximum at $350,000,000. This announcement, however, was made before the committee announced its total would not exceed $336,000,000.

It also was said on behalf of Mr. Coolidge that while he believes it the duty of the Ways and Means Committee to frame revenue legislation, he favored the maximum set by the Treasury, rather than that proposed yesterday by the committee.

Also prior to the committee's action today, Undersecretary Mills expressed doubt as to the advisability of a cut in excess of the Treasury maximum. He said that the committee, in his opinion, had invaded dangerous territory.

ANITA AND JOHN SHUN WORK

Famous Literary Couple Will Live in Vienna, Travel Much and Enjoy Themselves

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—A philosophy of life that declares people with a comfortable income should live without work will be followed to the letter by Anita Loos and John Emerson, the famous literary couple announced today on their return from Europe.

"We've got enough money to enjoy ourselves," explained Emerson, "and if we get any more we will have to spend our time counting it, and there is no fun in that."

The sentiment was echoed by his wife, whose book "Gentleman Prefer Blondes," has had a sale of nearly 500,000 copies in this country and has been translated into twelve languages. Royalties from the dramatization of the story for the stage and screen brought in even more money than the sale of the book.

"I'm lazy, I guess," smiled Miss Loos, "but I never want to do any more work. After this we shall live in Vienna, the only civilized city in the world that is not full of noise and dirt. We will spend our time traveling a good bit and retain our American citizenships."

Both Miss Loos and Emerson underwent successful operations in Vienna, Miss Loos for sinus trouble and Emerson for restoration of his voice.

Navy Building Huge Seaplane

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—The Sun says today it has learned that the Navy is secretly building a seaplane with a cruising radius of 3000 or more miles with which an attempt will be made to fly across the Pacific and possibly around the world early next year.

The plane is said to be nearing completion, its first test flight being scheduled to take place in two weeks.

The newspaper says that details of design, names of pilots and other information have been guarded closely, but that the proposed flight is to be the Navy's answer to the Army's recent successful air voyages.

BUSY SKIES SEEN IN SQUINT AHEAD

Aviation Bureau Head Peers Into Day of Future

Luxurious Air Lines and Fast Plane Taxis Predicted

Commerce Official's Work of Past Year Reviewed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—Early in 1927 the Federal government established in the Commerce Department its first bureau for the purpose of regulating and promoting civilian aviation, and today Clarence M. Young, its director, sketched out its accomplishments in the form of an annual report.

In it Director Young looks forward confidently to the dawning of the day when luxurious air lines will operate regularly charted and illuminated airways, when air taxis will speed to and fro in response to civilian's call for ever increasing speed in transportation, while pleasure cruises will voyage comfortably above the clouds on week-end tours as easily as they now do by automobile.

Assuming that ideal, the report says, the government proceeded during the year in its effort to help lay the foundation of the new development by supervising the air worthiness of planes, testing the competency of pilots and marking and lighting the thoroughfares on which the traffic of tomorrow will proceed. On June 20, 1927, the last day for which the report officially accounted, there were 4121 miles of lighted airways, and the work of expanding the net has so far progressed that the total since has been tripled.

CLEAN!

Miss Marjorie Jessting's teeth can stand a smile . . unusual teeth, they say. But not unusual for those who have used Colgate's steadily since youth.

Sparkling Teeth since fifth-grade days

Years from now how would you like to be numbered among the fortunate group of people whose smiles will then be just as attractive as they are today? Remember that a smile is a flash of teeth—the brighter the teeth, the more radiant the smile. Remember that the brightness and soundness of your teeth depend largely on your dentifrice.

Choose your dentifrice on the basis of results. Follow the lead of those who have already kept their teeth sound for years. Simply adopt for your own use the dentifrice most popular among people with well-preserved teeth.

The lovely set of teeth in Miss Jessting's smile, for example. Is it just accident that people who have used a cleansing dentifrice for years and years so frequently have teeth like hers?

In this country, and in foreign countries the world over, you will find thousands and thousands of men and women who began using Colgate's ten, fifteen, even twenty years ago and whose teeth today are exceptionally sound and beautiful.

So, for lovely teeth . . . for teeth that make your smile the social and business asset that it should be . . . ask your druggist today for Colgate's. Or, if you prefer, try the free sample offered in the coupon.

Ruth Snyder and Henry Gray Told Appeal Fails

Man Takes News Calmly as Woman Wails Aloud

Pair Taken to Death House to Await Execution

ALBANY (N. Y.) Nov. 22. (AP)—Ruth Snyder, blond New York housewife and mother, who denied her guilt to the last, and Henry Judd Gray, her mild-mannered paramour, who told freely how they both strangled and beat Ruth's half-sleeping husband to death, today lost their joint appeal from sentence of death.

Both are in the death house at Sing Sing. The date of execution is expected to be set by the Court of Appeal here tomorrow. If Mrs. Snyder dies, she will be the third woman executed in New York State.

Mrs. Snyder's confession before trial, which she repudiated as forced from her while nervous and overwrought, weighed against her in the Court of Appeal decision today which affirmed the death penalty.

TRIAL MOST FAIR

The court did not consider the evidence except as to whether it concerned the point of the appeal, which was that trial was unfair because the defendants were tried jointly instead of separately. The decision found that the trial had been scrupulously fair and that Ruth Snyder's own early confession removed the possibility of substantial injury to her from presentation to the trial jury of Gray's confession.

At the trial Ruth was often defiant and blazing and always keen. She put the whole blame on Gray. Gray followed her on the stand, confessing completely, seemingly to ease his conscience, and making no appeal for mercy.

The evidence indicated that in their relations she was often the dominant personality. Her most descriptive phrase of her paramour was brought out in her correspondence as "darned lovable little cuss."

STORY OF MURDER

The story brought out by the trial was that Albert Snyder, yachting magazine editor, and Ruth went to a Saturday-night party in Queens Village, their Greater New York home, on March 19, last. Judd Gray waited concealed in the Snyder home. After Snyder returned and retired to sleep Ruth and Judd had some drinks. Ruth maintained that Judd then beat her husband with a window sash weight and strangled him with wire. Gray said that Snyder seemed to be getting the better of their struggle and that Ruth helped him kill her husband.

Gray asserted that Ruth had been urging him for a long time to kill Snyder and told how he plotted the killing, even buying the window sash weight in another city while traveling about New York State selling corsets, his regular occupation. He expressed his sorrow at the trouble he brought on his own wife and daughter. Evidence was presented that Mrs. Snyder had increased her husband's life insurance to about $100,000 shortly before his death. Whether her 9-year-old daughter, Lorraine, will get the insurance has been one of the aftermaths of the trial.

The decision of the court was unanimous, except that Associate Judge Kellogg was not sitting.

EACH FOR SELF

Reviewing the murder, Judge Lehman, who wrote the opinion, said that both defendants testified in their own behalf, each attempting personal exculpation by throwing as much of the blame as possible upon the other.

"A mass of circumstances belied the claim of exculpation of either," he wrote. "The jury might well find that each defendant by testimony in open court has established the guilt of both."

"Through the trial and in his charge the trial justice with scrupulous care protected the rights of both defendants," Judge Lehman stated. "He pointed out to the jury that they might not consider the confession of either as evidence against the other. Wherever there was possible room for doubt as to a ruling to be made or a charge to be given he resolved that doubt in favor of the defendants. They have been found guilty upon evidence which is clearly sufficient, after a trial in which no rulings have been made of which they may reasonably complain."

NO RIGHT GIVEN

Regarding Mrs. Snyder's contention that her legal rights were invaded when she was denied a separate trial, the opinion reviewed the law and past decisions, stating that when the Legislature by recent statutory enactment vested in the trial judge the discretion of deciding whether defendants jointly indicted should be tried jointly or separately it was merely restoring the common law that a separate trial might not be demanded as a matter of right but might be ordered in the discretion of the court.

Judge Lehman declared that Mrs. Snyder's own confession removed the possibility that she might be injured by the confession of Gray.

"There is no possible basis upon the record for any claim that a joint trial deprived either defendant of a fair trial before an impartial jury which reached decision by weighing competent evidence."

PAIR INFORMED APPEAL DENIED

OSSINING (N. Y.) Nov. 22. (AP)—When Henry Judd Gray and Ruth Snyder were told in the Sing Sing prison death house today that they had lost their last court fight for life, Gray received the news with outward calm, but Mrs. Snyder burst into tears.

"Gray was receiving a call from his mother," Warden Lawes told the Associated Press, "when the news came. The head keeper told him and he just said 'Thanks' and bowed his head.

"When Mrs. Snyder was told of the court's action she asked what it meant. Told that it meant that unless there was intervention she would die within six weeks she gripped the arms of her chair convulsively and then burst into tears."

During the trial in which Gray and Mrs. Snyder were convicted of the murder of the woman's husband, it was Gray who showed the greatest emotion and Mrs. Snyder who remained calm.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 22. (AP)—Winthrop M. Daniels, professor of transportation at Yale, knows his stuff, he gets where he wants to go.

The key broke when he was trying to open his front door. The windows all were locked except one upstairs. He called the fire department.

JEWS CLASH WITH FOES ON CAMPUS

Fight Between Hungarian College Students Turns Place Into Battleground

BUDAPEST, Nov. 22. (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)—The campus of the Hungarian College at Fuenfkirchen was transformed into a battlefield today when the Jewish students in defending their lives against the attacks of anti-Semitic students erected barricades.

The anti-Semitic riots continued in all the colleges in the country outside of Budapest.

At Fuenfkirchen twenty students, Jewish and Christian, were injured when the anti-Semitic students stormed the barricade which was erected when the Jews were informed of the planned attack.

When the barricade was taken by the anti-Semitics, the Jewish students employed firearms, clearing the exits. Many Jewish girl students climbed to the college windows, prepared to jump. Many of them fainted from fright.

Assistant professors in the science department and Christian girl students helped the Jewish students in their defense, until mounted police arrived to restore order.

COOLIDGE TO SPEAK OVER AIR TONIGHT

Thanksgiving Then Will be Proclaimed to Millions in Homes of America

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—President Coolidge will read this Thanksgiving proclamation over a radio hook-up of more than a score of stations from his study in the White House tomorrow night.

Arrangements for the broadcast, which will mark the first time that such facilities have been made available for any President personally to deliver a proclamation to millions of persons, are being made by the National Broadcasting Company.

The President is scheduled to speak promptly at 8:15 o'clock, eastern standard time, and while the participating stations have not yet been decided upon, it is expected that his voice will be carried to all parts of the country and perhaps abroad.

Ramos and Bride Remain in Hiding

LIMA (Peru) Nov. 22. (AP)—Locked in their stateroom on the top deck of the steamship Santa Eliza, Millicent Rogers Ramos, the former Countess Salm, and her new husband, Arturo Ramos, wealthy young Argentine, arrived in Peru today, turning the tiny port of Callao into a veritable New York Harbor, with reporters and camera men besieging the ship.

Neither emerged as the passengers disembarked, and their plans for the day were kept secret.

The passengers said that the young American heiress and her husband were as "happy as doves." The passengers said that both kept themselves aloof for most of the voyage until last night when Ramos played the ship's horse races.

Mother Slayer to Stand Trial

TONBRIDGE (Eng.) Nov. 22. (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Bowman Delvigne, accused of giving her mother, Mrs. Margaret Waite, poison to end her suffering, was committed today for trial.

Mrs. Waite died the 3rd inst., two days after Mrs. Delvigne appeared at a preliminary hearing on a charge of giving her mother poison. The case arose very shortly after acquittal of a father who killed his young daughter to spare her further suffering from disease.

The poison was given to Mrs. Waite by Mrs. Delvigne after the mother had undergone an operation for cancer which doctors decided would not save her.

SHEEP TRACKS TIE UP TRAFFIC ON HIGHWAY

YREKA, Nov. 22. (AP)—Muddy tracks left by a herd of sheep on a wet pavement on the Pacific Highway near Hilt, Siskiyou county, caused eight cars to skid thirty feet into a canyon yesterday and caused a traffic tie-up for an hour until workmen scattered gravel on the slippery spot. One car turned over twice and most of the others were demolished. No one was injured.

STUDENTS BEGIN TRIAL MARRIAGE

Kansas Authors' Daughter Weds "Boy Friend"

Obligations Disclaimed by Couple and Parents

Pastor Ties Knot by Usual Ritual, However

GIRARD (Kan.) Nov. 22. (AP)—A matrimonial experiment accepted as purely a companionate one, entailing no financial responsibilities at home making, was entered upon here today by Miss Josephine Haldemann-Julius, 18 years of age, and Aubrey C. Roselle, 20.

Dr. L. M. Birkhead, pastor of All Souls' Unitarian Church, Kansas City, united the young couple at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Haldemann-Julius, Girard publishers and authors, who are advocates of companionate marriage.

MARRIAGE—NOT HOME

The ceremony was conventional in every respect, but Roselle and his bride agreed, with the support of their parents, that each would be free to carve out a career without immediately taking on the responsibility of establishing a home.

Next Monday the bride will return to her classes at the Girard High School. Walter Wallace, Superintendent of Schools, said he approved the marriage and saw no reason why Mrs. Roselle should not complete her studies.

Roselle is employed in his father-in-law's publishing house and intends to re-enter the University of Kansas as a student the next semester.

He explained it was necessary for him to work his way through school and he would be unable to provide a home for two until he had completed a law course and established himself in his profession. The bride plans to take up a dancing career.

EDUCATION FIRST

Both said a companionate marriage would permit them to enjoy each other's companionship without sacrificing their education, as many schoolmates had done.

"So many girls, especially those in school, have 'affairs' and they would be better off and more capable of putting their minds on their work if they were married," said the bride.

Mrs. Haldeman-Julius expressed the belief that the marriage would finally terminate in a true "family marriage."

TAILS WIN AT HORSE SHOW

CHICAGO, Nov. 22. (AP)—With tails set higher and straighter than ever before, despite all efforts of the Humane Society to the contrary, the blueblooded aristocrats of the equine world opened Chicago's third annual Horse show at the Chicago Riding Club tonight.

A conflict over use of tail sets was settled in triumph for exhibitors after three Chicago veterinarians went into a huddle over the question and finally agreed that use of tail sets caused no pain.

Opposition to the use of the tail sets was led by the former Irene Castle, now Mrs. Frederick McLaughlin, who asserted the sets were painful to the horses. The controversy for a time threatened to disrupt the entire plans for the Horse Show until the committee of veterinarians explained that tail sets, after once being used, caused the horses no pain, drawing a comparison to a man with a tight belt.

With the dispute settled there was nothing else to mar the grandeur of the show's opening with $1,000,000 worth of the country's select horses taking part. The entry list, though smaller than last year, was even more select, champion mounts from throughout the United States and Canada competing for the varied list of prizes.

Twenty hunters of the heavy and middleweight type galloped into the tanbark arena to be judged in the opening contest amid a blare of trumpets and before a glittering array of Chicago's plain and fashionable horse lovers.

EIGHTEEN DEAD IN RED CLASHES

[Copyright, 1927, by Chicago Tribune.]

RIGA, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—Clashes between supporters of Leon Trotzky and government police at Odessa, Kharakov, and other Ukranian cities, resulted in the killing of eighteen persons and wounding of thirty, it is reported.

A dispatch from Sebastopol says sailors are deserting from the fleet in large masses and demonstrating against the Stalin regime. At Odessa a section of the fleet put out to sea suddenly after disorders in the city.

The Ukranian separationists have seized on the fight within the Communist party as an opportunity to push their plan for a separate Ukranian republic, and Moscow is alarmed over the critical situation.

STATE MAY CURB FRUIT PLANTING

Regulation of Crop by Law Urged on Growers

Board Will Function Like Rail Commission

State Senator Inman Puts Plan to Peach Men

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 22. (AP)—Adoption of a constitutional amendment, to regulate the planting of fruit trees in a manner similar to that in which the State Railroad Commission regulates establishment of railroad, stage and power lines, was submitted to a large meeting of peach growers today by State Senator Inman of Sacramento as one method for stopping cut-throat methods among California farmers.

Inman's proposal came after H. E. Drobish, assitant State Marketing Director, presented figures showing the increased planting of clingstone peach trees indicated a pack of 20,000,000 cases will be produced in 1930, taking into consideration the trees that were out of bearing or will normally be uprooted.

MOSTLY FROM NORTH

Approximately 250 growers, mostly from Northern California, were in attendance at the meeting, called by Wells A. Sherman, chief of the State Division of Markets.

Senator Inman says it should be possible to regulate cut-throat methods among farmers, now rampant in California, just the same as the State now regulates competition among the public utilities.

"A farmer, before making further plantings, should be required to obtain a permit. And the issuance of a permit would be predicated on a study of the general situation by the State Department of Agriculture to determine whether a necessity exists for further plantings, and if the planter can be reasonably assured of a profit."

POINTS TO LOSS

Sherman told the growers that they now have in their pockets $1,000,000 less than they wouldn ave had they allowed an additional 50,000 tons of peaches to drop from the trees.

Approximately one-fourth of the State's peach acreage is in nonbearing trees, Drobish said, which means the bearing acreage will be increased from approximately 79,000 acres this year to 90,000 acres in 1928, with a peak of 96,000 acres for 1930.

This means, Drobish explained, that the 1930 pack might be between 18,000,000 and 20,000,000 cases.

FERRY RIDE CHARMS BRITON

Hewitt-Myring Drinks in Lovely Views as He Crosses San Francisco Bay to Oakland

(Philip Hewitt-Myring, leader-page editor of the London Daily News, who recently served as a reporter on the Los Angeles Times staff as an exchange fellow of the Walter Hines Page Memorial Fellowship in Journalism, established to achieve better understanding between newspaper men of this country and Great Britain, has joined the staff of the San Francisco Chronicle under a similar arrangement. Following is another of his articles written for the Chronicle.)

BY PHILIP HEWITT-MYRING

The passengers of the steam ferry Santa Clara, on one of her voyages across to Oakland a day or two ago, eyed with some suspicion a young man on the unprotected bow portion of the upper deck. He walked from side to side of the vessel, sat down for a minute on one of the benches, jumped up again and resumed his pacing, then pulled out from his pocket something that appeared to be a map. There are important naval and military works in San Francisco Harbor. Could it be—?

It was nothing so romantic. The young man, who was an English journalist, called Hewitt - Myring, was traveling across the bay with as little evil intent as anyone on board. Only there was this difference between him and the other passengers. He was doing it for the first time in his life, whereas the majority of the others had made that same journey, as a matter of routine, day after day, month after month; some of them for years on end.

PHILIP HEWITT-MYRING

COMMUTERS IN LUCK

Yet I do not think that if I lived, say, in Oakland, and did business in San Francisco, I would ever get wholly used to going to and from my work by water. I wonder if the lucky dwellers in this neighborhood who make the passage twice daily do really appreciate their good fortune.

Multitudes of dwellers in New York come, of course, to their offices by ferry boat, and the ferries play an even larger part in the life of Sydney, Australia, but except for these two cities and San Francisco, I know, or have heard of, no other with the same inestimable advantage.

From all around London, steam and electric trains, omnibuses, street cars, underground railways bring hundreds of citizens each morning to their toil in the central districts of the city and return them to their homes at night.

RIDE MEANS TO AN END

The various transportation systems work as efficiently and swiftly as they well can, but in no case—save when it takes the form of a ride on the top of an omnibus in sunny weather—can the daily travel be regarded as anything better than a rather disagreeable means to an end.

Certainly the views one obtains from an underground railway car are notable for their lack of charm, and even with the surface vehicles the ride is generally just as hurrying through mean streets in uncomfortably overcrowded conditions.

In comparison, the smooth, dustless, noiseless journeys on the ferry boat should mean an inspiration for the day's work and a tonic relaxation at the end of it. The sea air is life-giving (I hope it was only because the evening was a little chilly that I saw so many of the Santa Clara's passengers sitting as far in the stuffy heart of the boat as they could manage;) the traffic of the bay an unending source of interest; the shifting lights of mountain and sea a revelation of loveliness.

CHARMED BY SUNSET

I think I have never seen any view more beautiful than that I was accorded on the return journey from Oakland, when San Francisco stood outlined against a sunset of every imaginable shade of rose, while trailing mists made of her some magic town from a child's fairy book. Yet most of my fellow travelers read their papers within the glass screens and seemed quite indifferent to the spectacle.

I have said that I at any rate would never get used to that twice daily passage. And yet—after days and months and years of it—and with something special in the papers about the big game—and with friends coming to dinner, and I late already—who knows?

Perhaps in the end, for me, too, ships bound for the ends of the earth could sail by unregarded and sunsets flare unheeded across the bay.

DAM DELAY FAVORED BY PRESIDENT

Coolidge Reiterates Stand on Boulder Power Plans, Wanting All of Facts

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—The views of President Coolidge regarding a large power dam at Boulder Canyon on the Colorado River have not changed and, while he favors the project, he believes that it should be known clearly what disposal is to be made of the money which would go into its construction.

In this respect the President is in accord with Chairman Snell of the House Rules Committee, who yesterday issued a warning after a call at the White House that the government should go slow in approving any more power projects until the question presented by Muscle Shoals in Alabama has been solved.

Mr. Coolidge understands that efforts still are going forward in the mountain States to effect an agreement regarding Boulder Canyon between the seven States concerned, but he has received information that the chances for an agreement are not so bright. In his opinion, however, while an agreement would facilitate a solution of the Boulder Canyon question, it is not absolutely necessary to a successful solution of the problem.

British Rally Around 'Hands Off Abbey' Cry

LONDON, Nov. 22. (AP)—"Hands off Westminster Abbey," has taken rank with "Hands off China" and "Hands off Russia" as a battle cry for a strong cult in England.

George Bernard Shaw and many other much-alive Britishers who are thinking more of life than of a burial place in England's Valhalla refuse to get excited about the recommendation of a subcommission of the church cathedrals, headed by the Archbishop of York, that an addition be made to the overcrowded Abbey to shelter new monuments to famous men and women.

But there are thousands of protests from Englishmen who are less complacent about the prospect that the historic pile may be altered.

"Sacrilege" is a word frequently used in the protests.

Rum Ring Trio to Be Paroled

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—The parole from the Leavenworth Federal penitentiary of Michael Whalen, Morris Multin and Harry Levin, among those convicted at Indianapolis in the Jack Daniel distillery case, was approved today by Atty.-Gen. Sargent.

The three, all from St. Louis, who will be released as soon as papers arrive there from the Department of Justice, were among the twenty-three convicted in December, 1925, of conspiracy to "milk" the Jack Daniel distillery of St. Louis of 30,000 gallons of pre-war whisky.

Whalen was a Democratic city committeeman and a former St. Louis Alderman. Levin and Multin were charged by the government with being active in the syndicate formed to remove the whisky. Each was given a two-year prison sentence and fined $5000.

Court to Balk Attack Appeal

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—The Supreme Court today took action in the case of Arthur Rich, a wealthy Michigan youth convicted of criminal assault, which under usual procedure would mean dismissal of his appeal on an early decision.

Chief Justice Taft and Justices Van Devanter and McReynolds indicated the belief that no Federal question within jurisdiction of the court had been raised and they were joined by other members of the court before argument for Rich had concluded.

After a consultation on the bench, Chief Justice Taft announced that the court would not hear counsel for the State. This forecast in the practice of the court an announcement soon of the dismissal of the appeal for want of jurisdiction.

Rich is serving a life sentence for an attack on a young woman.

CAPPER URGES PEACE TREATIES

Pact With France and Other Powers Proposed

Senator Declares Time for Action Has Come

Agreements With Three Big Powers Soon Expire

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—A resolution which would request President Coolidge to enter into negotiations with France and "like-minded nations," for treaties outlawing war has been prepared by Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, for submission to the next Congress.

Senator Capper, who is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, proposes also that the treaties should provide that the governments are not "to give aid and comfort" to aggressor nations in warfare.

In the preamble of his resolution, the text of which was made public today, Senator Capper recalls the willingness expressed last April by Foreign Minister Briand of France to negotiate a treaty with the United States to outlaw war, and calls attention that the present arbitration treaty between France and the United States expires next February.

The main body of his proposal which would require approval by both the House and Senate and go to the President for his signature, reads:

TEXT OF PROPOSAL

"Now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, that it be declared to be the policy of the United States:

"(1.) By treaty with France and other like-minded nations, formally to renounce war as an instrument of public policy and to adjust and settle its international disputes by mediation, arbitration and conciliation; and,

"(2.) By formal declaration to accept the definition of aggressor nation as one which, having agreed to submit international differences to conciliation, arbitration or judicial settlement, begins hostilities without having done so; and,

"(3.) By treaty with France and other like-minded nations to declare that the nations of the contracting governments should not be protected by their governments in giving aid and comfort to an aggressor nation; and,

"Be it further resolved, that the President be requested to enter into negotiations with France and other like-minded nations for the purpose of concluding treaties with such nations, in furtherance of the declared policy of the United States."

ACTS NOW WANTED

Recalling the expressions of both the United States government and France in favor of arbitration as a means of settling disputes, the Kansas Senator declared in a statement that "it is time the United States, as the world's most powerful, secure and pacific nation, should follow words with acts.

"Nothing further is to be gained," he added, "by repeating pious platitudes, by uttering high-sounding moral generalities, or by professing to be devoted to international peace and opposed to war. We are under the necessity of doing something constructive to give impression to what is obviously overwhelming public sentiment in the United States relative to the discontinuance of war and preparations for war."

Senator Capper pointed out that the present arbitration treaties with Great Britain and Japan as well as that with France expire next February.

GIRL SAYS GRID STAR JILTED HER

Suit for $50,000 Charges He Broke Wedding Plans to Study for Priesthood

CHICAGO, Nov. 22. (AP) — The praecipe of a $50,000 suit for breach of promise against Edgar E. Murphy, 29 years of age, former Purdue University football captain, was filed today by Miss Ethel Jean Maaden, formerly of Dallas, Tex., charging that Murphy jilted her to study for the priesthood after she had made elaborate plans for a wedding.

Miss Maaden, who is 22, charges that after their engagement was announced last New Year's Eve, Murphy went to Texas to become an architect. She said they planned to be married in Texas and go to Honolulu on their honeymoon and that she made preparations accordingly, purchasing a $5000 trousseau.

However, she charges, her fiance suddenly broke off plans for the wedding and arranged to study for the priesthood, proposing that she become a nun. She says he went to California, where he now is studying to become a priest. Murphy was captain of the Purdue football team in 1922.

SLAYER OF GIRL TO BE TRIED IF HE LIVES

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 22. (AP)—J. H. Troche, 21 years of age, who, early Sunday morning shot and killed Mae Lorenzo, 17, San Francisco, as she sat in his automobile on an El Dorado county road several miles east of Folsom, and then turned the gun on himself, will be tried for murder if he lives. Dist.-Atty. Lyon announced today he is preparing papers to charge Troche with the killing and that he will file them as soon as physicians say Troche has more than an even chance for recovery.

Fields Decisively Whips Callahan at Olympic

SPORTS
The Los Angeles Times

WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 23, 1927.

TROJANS GIVEN ROUSING SEND-OFF TO CHICAGO

SHY HANDED SEVERE LACING

Newsie Given Worst Pasting of Career

Outclasses Rival in Every Department

Beats Chavez in Tame Semifinal Affair

BY PAUL LOWRY

Fields is the king of the this morning. He gave Callahan, the junior welterweight champ, one of the worst whippings that young man has ever received in a Los Angeles ring.

He won the first ten rounds of their fight at the Olympic last night. After that there wasn't any use counting. Callahan's title is still intact this morning because he was one-half pound over the weight limit of 140 pounds, Callahan weighed 141½ pounds.

The battle between these two youths, who began attaining prominence in the professional ring about three years ago, was their first and it was so one-sided that it was surprising.

Callahan outspeeded, outfought and outgeneraled Callahan from start to finish. Nothing but Mushy's courageous heart kept him in there at all. In three different rounds Callahan backed from smashing Mushy in the face, and he was forced to clinch on to save himself from an early trip to the canvas.

MUSHY ON DECLINE

Callahan's band of newsie rooters began to cheer him on and early in the bout they let out some concerted yells of "Fight, Mushy, fight," but Mushy couldn't.

Mushy has gone back terribly. He licked Callahan of a year ago. His speed is missing, his punch is gone, his timing is bad and generalship is worse.

Callahan got a left hand snapping into Callahan's face throughout the fight, mixing this with left hooks to the body and pounding Mushy's head with ripping smashes. Jackie

Del Monte Draws National Golf Classic

NAME SITE FOR 1929 AMATEUR

Stage Title Affair Over Pebble Beach Links

First Championship to be Decided on Coast

Plan Constructive Changes Before Tournament

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—The first national amateur golf championship to be decided on the Pacific Coast will be played over the Pebble Beach course at Del Monte, Cal., in September, 1929. The dates will be determined later.

Announcement of the selection of the California course was made today by N. H. Ramsay, secretary of the United States Golf Association, who also announced the dates for the national competitions of 1928.

Definite assignment of the 1929 amateur to California carries out a policy announced some time ago of a wider geographical distribution of the classic.

The annual meeting of the United States Golf Association will be held in New York, January 7.

The executive committee fixed June 11 for the qualifying round in the various districts for the next open championship which will be played June 21, 22 and 23 at Olympia Fields, Chicago.

The public links championship will be played July 31 to August 5 at Cobb's Creek course, Philadelphia.

The 1928 amateur championship, to be played at the Brae Burn Country Club, East Newton, Mass., has been fixed for September 10 to 15.

The women's championship is scheduled for September 24 to September 29 at the Virginia Hot Springs Golf and Country Club, Virginia Hot Springs, Va.

RABBIT PUNCHES

BY PAUL LOWRY

EVERYBODY is familiar with the "blushing back" story which Knute Rockne sprang after the defeat of Notre Dame by the Army this year. It was a figment of the imagination which proves the bald-headed Norwegian's right to be classed as one of the real nimble wits of the country.

But when Knute thinks he can fool Howard Jones about the class of his football teams he will have to take another tack. Recently, the U.S.C. coach wrote Rockne, suggesting that it would be to the advantage of both teams that every precaution be taken to insure a dry, well-drained gridiron at Soldier Field next Saturday. Knute wrote back that the Notre Dame alumni were caring for that angle, and wound up by saying he was sorry his team would not be able to give Southern California as good a game as they had last year. "Uh-huh," chuckled Jones. "I wonder if he thinks I'm going to fall for that one?"

Leslie A. Henry of Los Angeles and Leslie B. Henry of Pasadena are both bond brokers. But Leslie A. has nothing to do with the Tournament of Roses Association while Leslie B. is chairman of that body's football committee, which annually picks the competing teams for the East-West New Year's Day classic.

As might be expected the sameness of their Christian and given names causes some confusion, and Leslie A. of Los Angeles often has been called upon to tell inquiring acquaintances that he is "not the football Henry." Now he is busy telling folks that he is not responsible for the so-called break between Les Henry and University of Southern California football officials. Oddly, both Henrys were undergraduates at California, where Leslie A. was a football player of note, having graduated from Los Angeles High School as one of the best quarterbacks ever developed in this section of the State. He played on the same Los Angeles High team that boasted in its line-up Walter Rheinschild, who later went to Michigan and became one of Yost's biggest stars at tackle.

In the selection of Emmett Ledwith as matchmaker at the Culver City fight stadium the officials back of that organization have chosen wisely. He knows the game, both fights and fighters,

THIRTY-THREE GRIDDERS OFF TO FACE NOTRE DAME

Southern California Squad Primed For Big Battle With Irish; Williams Left Behind

BY BRAVEN DYER

Amid the fanfare of trumpets and the raucous cheering of several thousand frenzied supporters, the University of Southern California football squad pulled out from the Arcade Station yesterday evening at 5 o'clock. It was the greatest send-off ever given a Trojan athletic delegation and the thunderous ovation will probably be ringing in the gridders' ears when they disembark Friday morning in Chicago.

Thirty-three athletes, five coaches, several managers and a trainer comprise the official Trojan party, which is augmented by scores of rooters going on the same train. These all gathered at the depot half an hour before train time, and Harold Roberts's famous Trojan band uncorked its coolest selections to stir the boys on to victory.

All was hustle and bustle at the station as Howard Jones and his famous team boarded the Golden State Limited. Going into the most important intersectional game ever played by a team from the State of California, the Trojans are a grim and determined lot.

They realize the task that is theirs in upholding the standard of the Pacific Coast football for the first time on Midwest territory. No Pacific Coast eleven has ever participated in so important an intersectional struggle, and the Southern California athletes are primed to the minute, confident that they will not make a poor showing and hopeful that they may be able to reverse that 13-to-12 score of one year ago.

GREAT TROJAN TEAM

But for that unexpected Notre Dame defeat at the hands of the Army, next Saturday's game would be for the championship of the United States, as the Trojans are undefeated and as good as any team in the West. They are the mightiest scoring aggregation on the Pacific Slope, and present a line which has not been crossed this year on straight running plays. They are well schooled and taught by one of the greatest coaches in the country—Howard Harding Jones—a man of few words and a man of action. They are smart, hard fighters and don't know when they are licked—and rarely are. In short, they

PARISIEN INSPIRES IRISHMEN

Rockne Sighs for Another "Froggie" to Send Against Trojan Eleven

CHICAGO, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—Knute Rockne, the ingenius pig-hide professor who has made Notre Dame more than a remark to laugh off in the football world, surveyed the rustic surroundings of his school for rough riders today and sighed for another Parisien.

With Notre Dame's greatest clash of several seasons only a few days off, and this U.S.C. battle at Soldier Field will be all of that, Rockne is hoping he can find one trick card to put in his sleeve as he did last year when the Ramblers bombed the Trojans to defeat at Los Angeles in the final minutes of that memorable 13-to-12 intersectional classic.

"Froggie" Parisien, the left-handed quarter who "threw touchdowns" as Rockne himself expressed it, is gone as everyone knows, but to date no young man has been able to fill his shoes. It doesn't strain the memory to recall how Parisien, rushed into the game as the afternoon faded, tossed two passes and gave Notre Dame a victory.

PREP BABES HOOK UP IN TITLE TILT

Poly and L. A. High Teams Clash Today to Settle Lightweight Honors

BY BOB RAY

A couple of scrappy, undefeated lightweight football elevens, representing L. A. High and Polytechnic, will provide football fans with today's "piece de resistance" when they tangle for the City League Class B championship on the Mechanics' gridiron, Dunn Field.

The Roman babes, coached to the championship by Dave Ridderhof last year, are again pounding at the title portals this season, with a scoring record piled up in five games that has made them favorites to topple their Mechanic rivals today.

However, the game promises to be such a thriller that Poly officials have erected enough temporary bleachers on Dunn Field to take care of a crowd of 2500 fans and for the first time in City League history admission will be charged for a lightweight battle.

L. A. High boasts a powerful wall, featuring Williams and Mindlin, the veteran tackles, and a smashing backfield, composed of Kenny Fay, Horace Miller, Reed and Shiffner, that has run up a total of 174 points in five games. In those five games but twenty-five points were scored

With over 25,000 tickets for the Thanksgiving Day double header at the Coliseum sold to City League and Minor City League students, a crowd of 60,000 fans is expected to see the Hawaii-Oxy and Los Angeles High-Hollywood games. Alumni from the rival high schools have been scrambling for pasteboards. Occidental College will have a large delegation of students and alumni, and even Hawaii will have its section for former residents of the island. The last section of choice seats, 7500 on the fifty-yard line, were put on sale Monday, and but few of them are left. Tickets can be purchased at the B. H. Coach Sutherland's Charges Eager to Grasp Title

Fans Ponder on New Year's Day Possibilities

BY DON SAUNDERS

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Nov. 22.—An effete eastern football audience is now awaiting with the enthusiasm that it cannot conceal, the battle between the Golden Panthers of Pitt and Hugo Bezdek's Nittany Lions, which will be staged in the gigantic Pitt stadium Thanksgiving Day.

Forging ahead at the front of a depleted battle line, the Golden Panthers will be in a position to contest the eastern title claimed for Yale, if Coach Jock Sutherland's colorful team can take Penn State in the season's finale Thursday.

With a brilliant, open attack centered around the phantom captain, Gibby Welch, who tonight was unanimously picked by eastern critics for the all-East mythical eleven, Pitt has amassed a total of 245 points to opponents' twenty in eight games. It was to be expected that Thiel and Grove City would fall by the wayside but no sporting authority would have dared the assertion that the two powerful Western Pennsylvania colleges would tumble by the decisive margins of 48 to 0 and 33 to 0, respectively.

West Virginia, the team of hardy Mountaineers that was expected to give the Golden Panthers their initial test of the season, succumbed by an even more surprising count and was humiliated, 40 to 0.

ENTERS HALL OF FAME

In the Mountaineer game Gibby Welch, who has been a consistently great performer for three years, ingraved his name indelibly into the records by catching a West Virginia kick-off five yards behind his own goal line and dashing and twisting his way through the opposing team for one of the greatest runs of the year. Welch, single-handed, gained 370 yards in three quarters of competition.

Drake next fell before the Panthers, 33 to 0, and Carnegie Tech followed with a 33-to-7 defeat. Without using his first string, Sutherland's team then crushed Allegheny, 53 to 0, and was prepared to meet W. and J., the only remaining undefeated major team in the East.

Panthers and Presidents staged one of the greatest line battles of all time and successfully throttled the great backfields that each team boasted. Pitt gained 256 yards to W. and J.'s 87, registered eleven first downs to W. and J.'s five, hammered at the Presidents' goal line all afternoon but failed to pierce a magnificent defense. Unfortunately, Charley Edwards and Paul Fisher, who alternate at quarterback for Pitt, were on the sick lines and Pug Parkinson, rugged reserve sophomore fullback, was shifted to quarter.

Nebraska's giant Cornhuskers came out of the West with one of the most thundering offensive machines in history and after a sensational battle were turned back by the decisive margin of 21 to 13.

Gibby Welch caught the opening kick-off on his 2-yard line and darted, twisted and pivoted his way through a bewildered Husker team. Nebraska gathered its demoralized forces and started a terrific drive down the field, which ended in a touchdown, tieing the count. When it was apparent that Pitt would have to open up to cope with the Huskers' smashing offense the Panthers started their reverse plays and passes rolling and on the first play of the second period Jimmy Hagen, the blond running-mate of Welch, slid through right tackle and dashed 63 yards for a score. Before the crowd was settled Hagan tossed a wide pass to Welch, who took it in his stride and raced down the side line to score Pitt's third and final touchdown.

LACK POWER

The Cornhuskers had enough in reserve to unleash another crushing drive for a touchdown, but they lacked the power of sustained attack. Pitt has a light 178-pound line that is perfectly drilled in the fundamentals. Outweighed nearly thirty pounds to the man in the Nebraska battle, the Panther forwards wore down their heavier opponents by terrific charging and blocking and Glenn Presnell, the Husker backfield star, stated after the game that his legs were numb from the low, hard tackling.

Inasmuch as Pitt has been invited to represent the East in the Tournament of Roses classic at Pasadena New Year's Day the possibility of "Pop" Warner, the fox of Palo Alto, meeting his old pupil, Jock Sutherland, all-American guard in 1916, has provided eastern grid fans with a colorful angle to mull over.

AND DON'T FORGET YOUR HEAVY WOOLENS

TROJANS LEAVE TO MEET IRISH

are a great football team, fast on offense with a drive that is relentless. Their finest attribute is that battling spirit without which no football team can be truly great. In this respect they seem far ahead of last year's team, which was a veteran aggregation too prone to coast when the old Bunker Hill pep should have been blazing beneath their jerseys.

Only the fact that Don Williams, stellar quarterback, could not make the trip prevented the departure from being a perfect one. Don is popular with the players, as fine a chap is there is on the Trojan squad, and his presence behind the line of scrimmage seems to inspire the forwards to greater effort. Now he's laid up, flat on his back in the hospital, as his mates speed on their way to the greatest game of the season. It is the toughest break a Trojan gridder has suffered in many, many years, and the players are more sorry for Don than they are for the team in his absence.

NOT A ONE-MAN TEAM

However, Jones's eleven is not a one-man team, despite the heavy burden placed on the shoulders of Capt. Morley Drury, the Coast's outstanding ball carrier. Interference is 96 per cent of a long run, was Jones's comment the other day and on Southern California teams interference is given more attention than a debutante at her coming-out party. And with Harry Edelson ready to start in his fullback post the Trojans will be running the same perfect interference that paralyzed California several weeks ago. Edelson, Drury and those two opposition-smacking halfbacks—Russ Saunders and Lloyd Thomas—form a devastating combination, one which is certain to cause the Irish no end of trouble. The constant wear and tear of Jones's interference units wears down the opposition tremendously and it is lucky for Knute Rockne that he is so well supplied with reserve material.

Present plans call for limbering-up exercises at Tucson, Douglas, El Paso and Kansas City. Aubrey Devine, who has been scouting Notre Dame during the past three weeks, is slated to join the Trojans at Kansas City.

Jones sent his charges through a two-hour workout yesterday afternoon, concentrating on defense against Notre Dame formations. The boys are slated to indulge in daily skull practice while en route east.

Having formerly been a resident of Chicago, the writer owns a pair of red flannels. These were resurrected yesterday and dropped into the old suitcase as we boarded the train with the Trojans. There's nothing like being prepared, as the fighter said when he stuck a chunk of lead pipe in his glove before drawing on the mitten.

The Trojan roster is as follows:

Ends—Charley Boren, Lowry DeCaslin, Tony Steponovich, Carl Kreiger, Francis Tappaan and Larry Dithel.

Tackles—Jesse Hibbs, Cecil Hoff, Jim Moser, Al Scheving, John Ward, Eugene Beattie, Howard Bell and Milt McCabe.

Guards—Bert Heiser, Frank Anthony, Bob Gowder, Alvin Schaub, Chick Galloway and John Porter.

Centers—Nathan Barragar, John Fox and George Templeton.

Quarterbacks—Capt. Morley Drury, Howard Elliott and Rockney Kemp.

Halfbacks—Lloyd Thomas, Russ Saunders, Herschel Bonham and Les Coyle.

Fullbacks—Harry Edelson, Don Moses and Max Thomas.

M'Ewan Names All-Star Team

EUGENE (Or.) Nov. 22. (AP)—Capt. John J. McEwan, University of Oregon football coach, today named the following as his Pacific Coast Conference gridiron eleven:

Ends—Phillips, California, and Schuh, Washington.

Tackles—Coltrin, California, and Hibbs, U.S.C.

Guards—Diehl, Idaho, and Wright, Washington.

Center—McCrery, Stanford.

Quarterback—Drury, U.S.C.

Halfbacks—Carroll, Washington, and Elliott, U.S.C.

Fullback—Kirshnik, Idaho.

STANFORD SELECTS NEW GRID MANAGER

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 22. (AP)—John T. Long was elected football manager of Stanford for 1928 at a meeting here today. He is registered from Los Angeles. Stanford will not elect a team captain until the start of next season.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE DIOGENES STEVANDER, BILL HENRY

THE TROJANS have departed for Chicago and it is very doubtful indeed if a team ever left this community with the same amount of heartfelt good wishes that will accompany them half-way across the continent, where they meet Knute Rockne's 1927 edition. The 1927 Trojan eleven has made an impression on the general public by possessing a spirit that wouldn't admit defeat. What the team has lacked in polish it has made up in fight and the smoothness has been more and more apparent every day. The only regret that anybody can have as they go East for the game is that every member of the squad couldn't have been in the very best of condition. It certainly is to be hoped that Drury will be able to play the entire game, even if it does harm the Trojan chances against Washington a week later.

Our Southern California Conference teams, which are taking on invading outfits, this week, aren't regarded as having as good a chance to win as the Trojan team. Hawaii is a favorite over the Oxy Tigers and the Drake Bulldogs are likewise considered to have an edge over the U.C.L.A. Bruins. Both of the local teams, however, have plenty of fighting spirit and won't take a trimming without a struggle. Each is plenty good enough to carry the honors of the conference against the invaders and give a good accounting of itself. A win for either the Tigers or the Bruins would not be an impossibility.

If any of the Hawaiian boys can amble through an open field as Eddie Fernandez did two years ago, they'll be well worth watching. That young man was the wildest rascal that ever broke loose on the Coliseum turf, making run after run of twenty or thirty yards, and all of them in sudden bursts of swerves and dodges from one side of the field to another. A run like that gives you something to remember for a long, long while.

"Les Henry flayed" screeches a headline. When we were over in Europe a good many years ago we spotted a picture of Saint Somebodyorother being actually flayed alive by torturers. At the time we thought it looked very uncomfortable and we've always wondered if it was as bad as it looked. Now we can ask the Pasadena Rose Bowl manager and get the answer first hand.

Pity the poor radio announcer. Imagine trying to broadcast the game between Michigan and Minnesota and having the Michigan touchdown scored by a forward pass from Puckelwartz to Oosterbaan. That would put a strain on any microphone.

Eddie Sauers, sensational local pocket-billiards cueist, was in great form last night at the Hillstreet Billiard Parlors and took a 107-to-26 lead in the first block of a 300-point match. Sauers's high run was forty-seven.

BILLY WALLACE MEETS McLARNIN

DETROIT, Nov. 22. (AP)—Billy Wallace, Cleveland lightweight, will probably face a weight disadvantage of from five to eight pounds when he meets Jimmy McLarnin in the new Olympia Arena here Wednesday night before what is expected to be a capacity crowd of 17,000 spectators. It is expected McLarnin will make 137 pounds, two pounds over the lightweight limit, by tomorrow afternoon, while Wallace normally weighs in at 132 pounds. Both Wallace and McLarnin are outstanding contenders for the lightweight mantle worn by Sammy Mandell.

ROMAN COACHES PICK REDSHIRTS

possibly four touchdowns. We hardly believe that either Rich or White expect the Romans to lose by three touchdowns, but its a good line and so far has kept the Blue and White eleven in a battling mood.

Coach Vic Kelley of Hollywood predicted a tough battle and a close score, and finished up with the statement that the Poothillers would not accept defeat until the game was over.

One reason why the palpitating public puts out large gobs of money every year to see football teams play is because upsets are the rule rather than the exception. Comparative scores have also proven undependable. Teams have a habit of playing unbeatable football one day and terrible football the next, particularly high school elevens.

Hollywood has a slight edge on paper, having scored more points and had less scored on it than Los Angeles High. Back in 1924 a Roman team barely nosed out Hollywood by a 7-to-0 score and Poly walloped the same team, 34 to 0, but that did not prevent Los Angeles High from tying the Mechanics by a 7-to-7 tally. Which goes to show figures do lie now and then.

Herb White has developed some fine teams at Los Angeles High and he has had good, husky material to work with this year. The Roman line is one of the heaviest in the prep loop and several of the forwards have been outstanding. The backfield is not so hefty, but the boys have been able to manufacture touchdowns and, like most Roman teams, this year's outfit plays smart football. Several Roman backs who were bunged up after hard games with Manual Arts and Franklin are now back in shape after three weeks of rest.

The Hoothillers went through a light workout at U.C.L.A. yesterday afternoon while the Hollywood lightweights played Franklin on Snyder Field. The team romped through a speedy drill and called it a day.

Phil Ellsworth, graduate manager of Occidental College, announced yesterday that the game would start promptly at 12:30, which will be over in plenty of time to start the Hawaii-Oxy tilt at 2:30. Twelve-minute quarters will be played under the interscholastic rule, but the time between halves will be cut from fifteen to twelve minutes.

against the Romans, Jefferson accounting for eighteen of these, while losing, 25 to 18.

Poly's hopes will rest on its speedy backs, Max Bercutt, "Porky" Goldman and Slagle, and a forward-passing demon, Fullback "Chili" Gomez. Coach Ralph Jesson's Mechanics have quite a record themselves, for only seven points have been tallied against them in five games, while they were totaling seventy-two.

The game will start promptly at 2:45 p.m. The probable line-ups:

and should prove to be a corking good man for the job.

In Los Angeles Emmett has been known only to fight fans as a manager of boxers and a darned good man in the corner, but in the East he had experience as a matchmaker, and therefore is not a neophyte. As sergeant of the One Hundred and Sixty-fifth Infantry attached to the Rainbow Division in France, Emmett was nine months in the line and participated in every major offensive of the American Army. He is a real war vet.

YALE SELECTS NEXT YEAR'S GRID LEADER

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Nov. 22. (AP)—Maxson Hunter Eddy, right tackle, was elected captain of the Yale varsity football team for 1928 by his team-mates here tonight.

Bruce Caldwell, Yale's all-around backfield star, although barred from participation in either the Harvard or Princeton games, is one of thirty-five members of the varsity squad to receive the coveted "Y."

TONIGHT'S MAT CARD

Paul Jones vs. Pete Sauer, best two out of three falls to a finish.

Jack Roller vs. Dick Daviscourt, one fall, one hour time limit.

Robert Williams vs. Henry Steinborn, one fall, thirty minutes time limit.

Pete Sauer, the new wrestling sensation and the triple-threat man of the mat game, will meet Paul Jones of Texas in a finish match at the Olympic tonight in what is expected to be one of the fastest and most spectacular bouts of the year.

PAUL JONES

Two faster, cleverer and as scientific wrestlers as evenly matched as these two are have not been seen in the same ring at the same time in months. The nearest approach to it was the Jones-John Pesek bout, which was a whirlwind. Sauer is even faster on his feet or just as fast in executing holds as Pesek. He is much younger than Pesek, and if he beats Jones tonight, as many mat veterans believe he will, the big boys will begin side-stepping him.

HAS REPERTOIRE

Whereas most wrestlers have only one finishing hold, Sauer has three. Several years ago the local grappler was bowling over such top-notchers as Stanislaus and Wladek Zbyszko, and Wayne "Big" Munn, who later took the title away from Ed "Strangler" Lewis, with a body scissors hold. Sauer used the hook scissors and the straight scissors for finishing holds for more than five years. When he couldn't get the hook scissors, he would get the straight scissors, and it worked just as effectively.

Since he started his comeback, however, he has adopted the reverse headlock, an invention of Jim Londos, and has been using it with as much success as the Greek has obtained with it.

HOOK SCISSORS ARTIST

He will have these three holds to use to win with against one by Jones. The hook scissors is the Texan's pet, and although it has not been broken on him yet, Sauer declares the hold is breakable, and will prove it tonight if Jones is clever enough to get the hold.

Dick Daviscourt meets Jack Roller of Brooklyn in the one-hour special event. Roller and Daviscourt are about as evenly matched as the two men in the feature event.

Robert Williams, a 210-pound negro, clashes with Henry Steinborn, German strong man, in the opener.

WILL REVAMP RESORT COURSE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22. (AP)—Although already considered one of the sportiest and most difficult courses on the coast, the Pebble Beach course at Del Monte, Cal., will be improved and remodeled to the extent of $30,000 for the national amateur golf championship in 1929.

Roger D. Lapham, one of the directors of the United States Golf Association, announced today that officials of the Pebble Beach course had agreed to make extensive improvements for the classic. He said that the architectural work will be done by either Robert Hunter of Pebble Beach or H. Chandler Egan of Medford, Or. Hunter is internationally known as a golf architect while Egan twice held the national amateur golf title and last year won the California amateur championship.

BEAR CAGE COACH CUTS DOWN SQUAD

BERKELEY, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—Another cut has just been engineered in the ranks of California's 145-pound basketball team by Coach Phil Hempler. Of the fifty men who originally turned out for the squad, which will make a barnstorming tour of Southern California this winter, only nineteen players will be carried throughout the entire season. On their last visit to the south the welterweights won all of the eight games played. Their regular schedule of games will begin next semester when the Pacific Athletic Association undertakes its basketball league.

OXY CAGEMEN PLAN INTERCLASS EVENT

Plans for the annual interclass basketball tournament at Occidental were completed yesterday by Manager Ernest Ketchersid and will find the class teams battling in the Alumni gym starting next Monday afternoon, it was announced by Physical Head Eddie Kienholz. An entirely new plan will result in the playing of the contests at night in place of the afternoon schedule, as was the case last year. This will hinder the games from disturbing the varsity and freshman daily practices which are now on official calendars under Kienholz, varsity coach.

Rockne Sighs For Parisien

ing out," Rockne muttered as he watched his assistant slave-drivers drive a hundred-odd grid warriors through a hard skirmish. "We certainly got in the way of an awful barrage with the Army but I guess it was a good thing at that. The boys should be in there fighting for their lives Saturday and there is no reason to believe they won't, either."

Rockne is worried somewhat over the condition of Big Elmer Wynne, his regular fullback and punter of ability, who has been unfortunate in having been shot down with injuries several times this season. But his chief reliance for his punch against U.S.C. rests on the able shoulders of Johnny Niemiec, Johnny Chevigny, Ray Dahman, Fred Collins, Billy Dew, Wynne, Chuck Riley, the brilliant Christy Flanagan and a few others who may do anything at any time.

The Irish worked like fury on Cartier Field this afternoon, with the shock troops bearing the brunt of the scrimmage. It is they who will meet the brunt of the U.S.C. plays at the beginning of the game.

The whole squad, however, did some line tackling and a lot of time was spent in concentrating for a defense against Morley Drury, the Trojan star back who could not be stopped on the Pacific Coast.

OREGON AND WASHINGTON TO TANGLE ON GRID TOMORROW

EUGENE (Or.) Nov. 22. (AP)—With nothing to lose and with the future in mind, Coach John J. McEwan will send his gridders into the final game of their 1927 season against Washington at Seattle Thanksgiving Day to use every kind of football that they know.

Although Oregon, pursuing such tactics, may not scintillate, some surprising results may occur, the coach believes.

Plays that are theoretically sound but too dangerous to be tried against a conference rival that must be defeated, will be worked into the Webfoot attack. The Oregon forward-passing combination, which was successful in 1926 but which failed in nearly every critical moment this season, will be thoroughly worked over in the course of the Husky contest.

Beavers Pitch Spring Camp in Orange County

The Portland baseball club of the Pacific Coast League will establish a five-weeks' training camp in Orange county on or about February 15, and during that time will play a series of ten practice games, according to word received from the Orange County Boosters.

Negotiations were carried on with the officials of the club by the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce. Those in charge of the project for Orange county were Guy J. Gilbert, Carl Mock, Bruce Switzler, Alex Brownbridge, Jack Wallace and George Raymer of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce; and H. A. Lake S. W. Stanley, F. L. Purinton, George Kellogg, Ralph McFadden, Ted Craig, John Ragan and Mrs. J. V. Kelsey of the Orange County Fair Board.

Games with the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Chicago Cubs have been tentatively scheduled, as both these major league teams hold their spring training camps in California.

AL BROWN LOSES BOUT

PARIS, Nov. 22. (AP)—Al Brown, Panama featherweight, who has been a big drawing card in Parisian boxing for more than a year, lost the decision tonight in a thirteen-round fight to Henri Scillie of Belgium, the European title-holder. This is the first defeat that Brown has suffered in France.

Morgan Faces Glick in Ring

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—The New York State Boxing Commission today sanctioned two championship bouts for December 16 at Madison Square Garden, which will find Tod Morgan of Seattle, Wash., defending his junior lightweight crown against Joe Glick of New York in the main fifteen-round clash.

TOD MORGAN

The added title affair will bring together Newsboy Brown of Sioux City, Iowa, and Corp. Izzy Schwartz of New York in a fifteen-round go for the flyweight championship.

Several days ago the commission selected Brown and Schwartz as the logical contenders for the flyweight title vacated by Fidel La Barba, in spite of protests from Joe Jacobs, manager of Frankie Genaro. Jacobs sought recognition for Genaro, who was formerly the champion in the flyweight division.

KIPKE WILL COACH MICHIGAN STATERS

EAST LANSING (Mich.) Nov. 22. (AP)—Harry Kipke, all-American halfback on Walter Camp's 1922 team, now assistant to Coach "Tad" Wieman at University of Michigan, has been appointed head football coach at Michigan State College, Ralph Young, director of athletics, announced today. Kipke signed a three-year contract.

MANUAL AND LINCOLN TO MEET TODAY

Bates's Railsplitters to Tackle Blewett's Toiler Eleven in Wind-up

The 1927 football season will come to a close for Lincoln and Manual Arts when Coach Bill Bates sends his rambling Railsplitters against Jim Blewett's Toilers this afternoon on Wilson Field in a wind-up game for the two squads.

Lincoln, by virtue of a better record, will enter the clash a slight favorite, but the Toilers will have a weight advantage that may switch the tide of battle over on their side. And then there's that Manual jinx which has given Lincoln elevens so much trouble in the past to be considered. Once this Manual jinx bobbed up and robbed the Railsplitters of a tie with L. A. High for the title when the Toilers held a much stronger Lincoln squad to a scoreless tie.

Coach Bates has a fighting squad that has depended so far on the speedy efforts of Alvis Parrish and Ed Mesa to advance the ball far enough for victory, and the brunt of the ball-packing will probably fall on these two Lincoln backs today. The Lincoln line is fairly light, but makes up its lack of poundage with fight. Capt. Ray Casey at center being the key man in the Railsplitter forward wall.

Manual has a capable set of backs in Capt. Ray Rosenberg, Towle and Elliott, who figure to gain plenty of ground against the Lincoln outfit. The Toilers also boast a fair passing attack that may produce the touchdowns so necessary to victory. Manual hasn't scored in its last four games, though, and some folks think that the Toilers have forgotten the combination to make a touchdown.

The game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Excessive FRONT TIRE WEAR and DANGEROUS HARD STEERING

WHEEL-O-METER SERVICE

Above is the Wheel-O-Meter, the marvelous new invention which eliminates guesswork with its attendant costly tire replacement and dangerous hard steering. At the left, is shown a car being tested. The attendant is reading the dial which shows errors of even 0.0125 inch in alignment.

TEST COSTS NOTHING

IF needless expense means nothing to you and if you're not concerned with either personal safety or the safety of those who ride in your car, this opportunity will mean little to you. If the reverse of any of these conditions is true, however, this IS an opportunity. We, the undersigned, proud possessors of a Prather Automatic Aligner (better known as Wheel-O-Meter) hereby offer you a FREE test which will reveal the exact alignment of your front wheels.

To realize the extreme importance of this, consider the fact that 33⅓% of all front rubber is thrown away. Records of thousands of tests prove the fact that 95% of the front wheels of all cars are out of alignment after having been subjected to road conditions for a short time, mishaps, etc.

Your eyes won't tell you. Neither will the "guesses" of mechanics. Worn tires or bad steering tell the story. Wheel-O-Meter shows the reason.

All you must do to learn the exact condition of your alignment is to drive on one of these machines. The motor of the machine starts and revolves your front wheels. Their exact performance on the road is revealed. And you don't have to take anyone's word for it. You can see for yourself on the dial the exact number of inches misalignment is causing your tires to skid in ten feet, one mile or one hundred miles.

Since this test costs you nothing, why not clip the coupon now and find out whether or not your tires will give you "value received"—whether or not your steering is as flexible and responsive as it should be? Present this coupon to the nearest undersigned possessor of this marvelous machine and KNOW! But, do it now, before you forget.

E. S. (Scotty) Armstrong scored a 74 at Lakeside last week to win low gross honors in the qualifying play of the annual President's Cup tourney, now under way at President Jim Ifeld's championship golfing emporium.

GEORGE MARSHALL

E. S. (Eddie) Browne, tournament chairman in arranging the current event, stated that the thirty-two players defeated in first-round matches would continue as the second flight and the defeated sixteen of the second bracket will constitute the third flight of the President's Cup affair.

George Marshall defeated George Cornes in a thrilling thirty-six-hole finals match last year, and Lakeside's popular Georges are working hard for another crack at the valuable trophy. Waldo Logan, 76-8-68, and H. K. Anderson, 80-12-68, tied for low net in the medal play.

First-round matches in the current affair must be completed before next Saturday. First-round pairings, with handicaps (use three-fourths of difference) are as follows:

PRESIDENT'S CUP

E. S. Armstrong (2) vs. Bert Glennon (18.)
Fred Reed (15) vs. C. O. Wyatt (12.)

GOLFERS BUSY AT FOX HILLS

It is interesting to know that for the first two months, September 15, when Fox Hills opened, to November 15, a total of 9556 players rounded the layout. The largest amount of players to date for a single month was October, when a total of 4891 played. Sunday, September 25, thus far shows a total of 397 on the register for the largest single day's play. The biggest play for one week to date is 1229 players. The daily average of play from September 15 to November 15 was 160 players. This should prove very conclusively the popularity of the Fox Hills layout.

Fox Hills is going to hold its first annual Calcutta championship dinner at the Elks' Club Friday evening. More than 100 reservations are already in and from present indications the attendance will be a large one and the affair should prove a great success. Qualifications for the club championship at Fox Hills close today. To date 120 have qualified. The Fox Hills tournament committee has been appointed and consists of the following: Ad Frankel, chairman; John J. Mescall, Arthur M. Loomis, Dr. C. K. Manhart, Arthur Jones, Chick Fraser and Willie I. Hunter.

CUTTING DEFEATS LYDAY AT BEVERLY

E. J. Cutting, prize southpaw golfer at the Los Angeles Country Club, stepped out yesterday and defeated Chet Lyday, 5 and 3, in the thirty-six-hole final match of the annual fall handicap tournament for Beverly members. Lyday has won three of the annual club features, but hooked up with a golfing whirlwind yesterday. Cutting enjoys quite a baseball reputation, but Lyday claims he is one of the best putters in the country. Cutting's 73, and with a ten handicap, was strokes better than the S.C.G.A. secretary could combat yesterday.

ROBARE SCORES ACE AT SUNSET FIELDS

Harry Robare, playing at Sunset Fields yesterday, dropped his tee shot to the 157-yard fifth for the first official hole in one to be recorded in that particular sector of the popular pay-as-you-play layout. Robare was playing with H. J. Pearson and Tom Sheehan who witnessed the unusual shot that won fame for the "shooter." Holes in one have now been scored on all four short holes at Sunset Fields.

WOMEN GOLFERS BUSY TODAY

Teammates in the women's auxiliary golf league will be staged over the circuit today. California and San Gabriel will have great chances of increasing their sectional leads.

The complete local schedule, is as follows:

FIRST DIVISION

Brentwood at Los Angeles.
California at Hillcrest.

SECOND DIVISION

Bel-Air at Lakeside.
Hollywood at El Caballero.

THIRD DIVISION

Pasadena at San Gabriel.
Oakmont at Annandale.

INGLEWOOD LEGION TO PLAY FIREMEN

Cy Walton and Loren Peake, former U.C.L.A. backfield stars, will play on a Los Angeles gridiron again Sunday when the Inglewood American Legion team tackles the Los Angeles Fire Department squad at Wrigley Park. Both Walton and Peake are now playing with the Legion outfit and are back in excellent shape again. Bill Blewett has instructed his smoke eaters to keep close tab on Walton who ran wild in Southern Conference football fields not so long ago.

Famous Last Words: Burns Gets Married

Little Neal Burns, cinemaland's contribution to Lakeside and the golfing world, is officially scheduled to start in a life-long competition this morning, when he repeats "I will" in unison with petite Joan Marquis's "I Do," for the duo will be—or have been—married this morning. The founder and past president of Hollywood's famous "Love and Learn Club" surrendered various and sundry personal data (phone numbers, etc.,) at a very select gathering last night and this morning will become the blushing bride(groom) of one of the most beautiful girls in the film colony. Neal and Joan are both busy at Christie's, but will take time out for a honeymoon, later. (Wham!)

set a fast pace right from the start and as early as the second round was pasting Callahan around the ring with lefts and rights to the head.

Callahan tried to bring his old favorite left to the stomach and right to the head into play, but Fields would stick out a straight left and beat him to the attack. At other times he blocked with arm and elbow.

BEST IN SEVENTH

Callahan's best round was the seventh, when he landed a good left to the stomach and a pair of stiff lefts, but Fields had piled up such a lead in the early rounds that Callahan's spurt was not enough to offset it.

Callahan nearly went down from a terrific right to the head in the ninth round, but he came back furiously in the tenth, only to relapse into the dazed expression he wore almost continuously throughout the bout.

The house was about three-fourths filled—the best attendance in several weeks at the Olympic. It was a fast fight, and deserved a full auditorium.

The semi-wind-up was won by Billy Burke, who defeated Benny Chavez in six rounds.

Eddie Gill found Jimmy Laventhal rather easy pickings in a six-rounder; Referee Randolph robbed Johnny Cruz in giving Jimmy Lucas the decision in a four-round bout, and Billy Tommey won the other four-rounder from George Fleming by scoring three quick knockdowns in the first round.

Oxy Leaders Kill Rumors

In signed statements, T. R. (Rats) Brobst and Neal F. Archer, leaders in student-body activities at Occidental College squelched rumors to the effect that the Tigers planned to protest asserted rough tactics on the part of Pomona College football players in recent games. Brobst, who is captain of the football team, commended the fine sportsmanship of the Sagehens. Archer, president of the student body, also referred to Pomona's splendid school spirit. The complete statements are as follows:

"Pomona beat us Saturday by playing the best game of football I have ever seen a Pomona team play. If the time comes that Occidental can't lose a football game without trying to make some kind of alibi, I hope we drop football and take up croquet. If there are any 'squawkers' connected with the Occidental student body, football team or coaching staff, it is news to me.
[Signed] "T. R. BROBST,
"Captain football team."

"The rumors that Occidental might make an issue of the fact that the Pomona team was penalized for rough play against both Oxy and U.C.L.A. would be ridiculous if it were not so serious.

"Occidental and Pomona have been playing each other since 1895, and during that period of time we have learned to believe that any isolated instances of rough play on the part of Pomona certainly cannot be taken as typical of Pomona spirit.

"Occidental has never found it necessary to make accusations just because we lost a football game and we have no intention of starting now.
[Signed] "NEAL F. ARCHER,
"President student body."

Bulldogs Work Out in Tucson

TUCSON (Ariz.) Nov. 22. (AP)—The football team of Drake University, twenty-two strong, arrived here today and spent two hours in practice for the intersectional game at Los Angeles Saturday with the University of California at Los Angeles.

Coach Ossie Solem said that the Bulldogs of Des Moines, Iowa, will go through another intensive workout tomorrow, and depart tomorrow night for San Bernardino, Cal. Coach Solem said he plans to keep the team in San Bernardino until shortly before game time.

The Drake mentor declared that his outfit was in better physical shape today than when the Bulldogs met Notre Dame last Saturday. Drake was defeated, 32 to 0, in this encounter.

DOUGERY LEADER IN BEAR POINTS SCORED

BERKELEY, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—At the conclusion of the regular playing schedule, the statistician finds Ralph Dougery, 190-pound fullback of the California football team, is leading his mates in the matter of points scored for the entire season. Dougery's five touchdowns yield him a safe lead over his fellow-gridsters.

Benny Lom, the stellar curly-locked sophomore halfback, is in second place by the margin of one point, having nineteen points to his credit, as compared with eighteen apiece for Paul (Dutch) Clymer and Jim Cockburn, halfback and fullback, respectively. Irving (Brick) Marcus, the sensational half, is tied for fifth ranking with Leland Eisan, the shifty little safety man, at twelve points each. Others who entered the scoring column during the season were Harold Breakenridge, Capt. Fritz Coltrin, Leland Rice, Jim Dougery, Stanley Barr, Bob Fitz and Dinty Evans in that order.

LOUGHRAN SIGNED TO MIX WITH SLATTERY

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—The controversy as to who holds the light-heavyweight championship was settled today with the matching of Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia and Jimmy Slattery of New York, for a fifteen-round bout in Madison Square Garden, December 12.

LOYOLA TACKLES ST. IGNATIUS

Tunney Expected to Star in Bay City

James Tunney

WHEN the Loyola Lions clash with St. Ignatius in San Francisco on Thanksgiving Day, a Lion by the name of Tunney will bear watching. Gene's namesake calls signals for the local Jesuit school and turns in some very creditable showings. Against Gonzaga, he sprinted ninety yards for a touchdown on the kick-off. The following week against Regis, Tunney received the opening kick-off, running it back eighty yards, to be downed on the visitors' 10-yard line. Such rampages along with his smart thinking are the reasons why the Lion quarter is rated one of the best in Southern California.

In the backfield with Tunney are three more triple-threat men, Lowery, Currin and Hoeffer. Lowery is a shifty half employing a galloping style to tear off yardage. On defense he plays a great game, his vicious tackling standing out. Currin, the other half, is the smooth running type. Hoeffer, fullback, besides doing the plunging, also takes care of the kicking duties. Hoeffer, though not a spectacular player, is very consistent in hitting the line and runs some wonderful interference for his cohorts. He is also a main cog in the Lions' aerial game.

Tunney is considered the best athlete ever to attend Loyola. He is a three-letter man, football, basketball and baseball, receiving awards in each of these sports for the past three years. The smiling Irishman was captain of basketball in his sophomore days, the following year he led the football squad through an undefeated season. And received second place as quarter on Pat Frayne's all-Coast team for that season. This year as a senior he will captain the baseball nine.

Mister Henry Takes Stand

PASADENA, Nov. 22. — Withdrawing his invitation to U.S.C. of over a week ago to play the New Year's Day game of 1929 as part of the Trojans' regular schedule, Leslie B. Henry, chairman of the football committee of the Tournament of Roses Association, today said he took this stand because of the misconstruction that has been placed upon his statements by certain Southern California officials.

In the meantime Tournament of Roses officials expressed every confidence in Henry, President Harry M. Ticknor said, and he added if there are any differences between Mr. Henry and U.S.C. they will have to be explained in an official statement from the university.

"I'll be chairman of the football committee as long as U.S.C. maintains its present attitude," Henry declared. "I don't like the job. It brings no salary and plenty of grief, but under no circumstances will I withdraw now.

"If I had said the things attributed to me by certain Southern California officials they would be justified in acting as they did yesterday. But they were not true, and I won't dignify those Southern California officials by answering what they said.

"The invitation to U.S.C. to play the New Year's Day game of 1929 was not a sop because somebody else had been invited this year. Nobody had been invited to play this year when the 1929 suggestion was made. It was an invitation based upon the fact that because the Trojans play until December 3 this year the faculty would be unlikely to grant permission for a New Year's Day game, which was so announced last week in a statement signed by Hugh Willett."

In a statement made by Warren B. Bovard, vice-president and comptroller of U.S.C., yesterday it was declared that Southern California would not participate in future New Year's Day games as long as Henry was connected with the Tournament of Roses Association. It was alleged Henry had made disparaging statements about the University of Southern California and U.S.C. athletes.

Squash Stars Thrill Crowd

Kent Redwine and Kenneth Albright, both of the Hollywood Athletic Club, thrilled several hundred squash fans yesterday afternoon at the Film City club in a bitterly fought match in the second round of the national A.A.U. senior squash tournament. Redwine won the games, but only after being forced to play to a 27-point match did he come out on top. The scores were 21-11 and 27-23. Five Hollywood squash stars have reached the quarter-finals and it looks like another Movie City victory in the national tournament.

The Hollywood Athletic Club squash artists have won all major tournaments since the game was first introduced three years ago at the cinema club. George L. Eastman, president; Bert Hartwell, Tom Gallery, George Audit and a few other members of the club were the first to play the game.

Chet Cooper, better known as the Willie Hoppe of squash, will clash this afternoon at 5 p.m. with Kent Redwine, conqueror of Kenneth Albright. Maxwell Stiles, the journalistic squash star who has reached the third round, takes on Bill Holman, a murderous hitter. Other feature matches bring together Klawiter and McCurdy Vance and Jones.

LEDWITH IS APPOINTED CULVER MATCHMAKER

Emmett Ledwith, one of the best-known figures in the boxing game, both in the East and the West, was named matchmaker for the Culver City Stadium yesterday by Harry N. Lykke, promoter of the movie-city arena. He will succeed Jimmy Murray, who has resigned and will devote his time to the management of a stable of fighters he is now assembling.

PILOTS BURN UP ASCOT TRACK

"Sunday's race is going to be one of the most thrilling I've ever seen in my twenty-eight years of starting major A.A.A. classics," last night declared Fred J. Wagner, who will send the famous speedway drivers away on their sensational speed duel at the new Ascot Speedway Sunday afternoon.

"With such drivers as Leon Duray, George Souders, Babe Stapp and all that crowd entered, the competition is going to be terrible," Wagner continued. "I'm going to caution them all to watch their step when they swing out of the steep curves."

"Wag's" remarks were made after he had forced Babe Stapp, who was testing his low, slender Locomobile junior eight special, and Cliff Bergere, the Frenchman, with his brilliant front-wheel-drive Miller special, to stop their practice because of darkness.

Bergere and Stapp roared around a good part of yesterday afternoon, but George Souders, one of the big favorites to win Sunday, was unable to get started and had to work throughout last night to get his car in shape for today. He was almost at the track yesterday with his racer when trouble developed in his costly supercharger, forcing his mechanicians to tow it back to his secluded garage for minute adjustments.

CROWLEY RE-APPOINTED

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—The reappointment of Charles F. Crowley as head coach of football at Columbia for 1928, was announced today by the Columbia University Athletic Association.

OXY TO START FIRST STRING victory, but an upset would not be entirely unexpected.

Coach Albert Exendine's faith in his first-string backfield is as strong as ever, and the regulars will be started intact with George Fusco at fullback, Ward Schweizer and Glenn Rozelle, halfbacks, and Rats Brobst, quarterback. There is a real wallop in that combination and Exendine has also planned to start his strongest line with Delloag and Smith, ends; Cuthbert and Beebe, tackles; Nash and Hitch, guards, and Klein at center.

START FIRST STRING

The Bengals will be outweighed, but not to a great degree. Bulk means but little to Fusco, whose line plunging in the Pomona game was sensational. If Fusco is going good and the line gets to charging the Hawaiians are going to find him hard to stop. Rozelle is also a brilliant player, but sickness and injuries have kept him from playing his best game this year. Once away in an open field he is hard to stop. Besides, he can kick and pass, making him a triple threat. Ward Schweizer carries the ball once in a while but his principal duty is running interference. When Fusco tires Exendine has a sweet substitute in Johnny Eberhardt, a small man physically but a terrific line plunger.

In Ed Beebe the Bengals have one of the outstanding linemen in the Southern California Conference and few gains are made over him. He is a deadly tackle and has a keen sense for smelling out plays. There is no glaringly weak spot in the entire Bengal line and the big Hawaii linemen are going to be kept busy all the time.

Fair weather has been promised for the game, which ought to help the Deans, particularly Lemon Holt, the fleet-footed halfback. The Islands have turned out some exceptionally fine halfbacks and Holt rates high in his home town. MacFarlane, the husky fullback, has been booting the oval far, wide and handsome in practice and he should outboot the Tiger kickers with the possible exception of Jack Schweizer, who would furnish him with some hot competition. Both boys can boot over fifty yards consistently.

OFFICIALS PICKED

Officials for the two games were announced yesterday. The Hawaii-Oxy game will be handled by Leon Gillette, referee; R. H. McCord, umpire; William Lopez, head linesman; R. T. Butler, field judge. For the L. A. High-Hollywood game, Cyril Tipton, referee; Ray Call, umpire; Fred Cozens, head linesman; Dunn, field judge.

KUSSMAN TO TEAM WITH GORCHAKOFF

Los Angeles High School's famous old doubles machine of Ben Gorchakoff and Arthur Kussman will function again this coming tennis season, but under the Occidental College colors, it was learned yesterday on the Tiger campus. With the ineligibility of Norval Craig, Gorchakoff's partner, with whom he made the finals in the intercollegiate nationals thus season, by absence from school this semester, the old Roman duo will team together and already have started practice. Gorchakoff and Kussman held the State prep championship for two years in 1924 and 1925 and were rated No. 5 in the national juniors in 1926. Gorchakoff was runner-up in the national singles and doubles of the college play this year and the two have hopes of invading the East next summer and grabbing one of the national crowns.

AUTO RACE CARD AT COLTON TOMORROW

Tomorrow afternoon forty-three auto racing speed kings will start their long grind at Colton for the largest purse in the history of the Inter-City speedway and also the initial six-race program for Fred A. Rhetts, millionaire Colton sportsman who purchased the lease on the bowl last month.

Hinckley has crashed six world's records in the past year and leads all drivers for the year with a total of 1550 points at Banning. But Hinckley faces his old rival tomorrow in Dale Pence of Redlands.

Among the drivers who have been established as favorites are Barney Kloepfer, Bill Spence, Speed Hinckley, Dale Pence, Bill Bundy, Harry Jacques, Ernest Tripiett, Cliff Wilson, Jack Buxton and Bud Hyatt.

POPULAR BOXERS SIGN

Vigo Doman and Al Corbett, the heavyweights who sent the boys home talking from the Hollywood American Legion Stadium last Friday night, are going to be on the card Friday night in a ten-rounder. Manager Tomasso Patrico Gallery has made a few changes in the Legion Stadium card to bolster up the show and add more color to the entertainment.

One of the best punchers to enter the heavyweight ranks since Jack Dempsey became the rage is Vigo Doman. WAYS TO SAVE GAS SUGGESTED

State Supervisor Reports to Governor on Plans

Ventura Wastage Cut Some by Aid of Companies

Repressuring Depleted Area One of Proposals

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 22. (AP)—Restricted drilling operations in the Ventura oil fields and the use of surplus natural gas from producing wells in the repressuring of depleted fields was suggested today by R. D. Bush, State oil and gas supervisor, as possible steps to conserve the gas now being wasted.

Bush's suggestions were forwarded to Fred G. Stevenot, director of natural resources and a member of Gov. Young's natural gas conservation commission.

Bush reported to Stevenot that the gas wastage now averages 62,000,000 cubic feet daily in the Ventura field. This in comparison to 137,000,000 feet last April, and 92,000,000 cubic feet as of the 1st inst.

WASTAGE INCREASE

The oil supervisor now suggests the conservation committee interest oil companies in restricting their drilling programs, as he noted a 50 per cent wastage increase as soon as the first conservation program was abandoned. Each well brought in, he says, adds 3,000,000 cubic feet daily to the loss, and it is almost impossible to pipe this gas to new centers of population for domestic use as the initial cost of lines and the possibility of a short life of a field make it unattractive as an investment.

He also is of the opinion that much gas could be used profitably in repressuring depleted fields, some of this work now being done in the Dominguez field, the Seal Beach district and other districts in the Los Angeles and San Joaquin Valley areas. By pumping gas back into old wells it provides pressure for bringing more oil to the surface, he points out.

PRODUCTION CUT

Producing companies last May, at the suggestion of State officials voluntarily restricted the wastage, reducing it from 137,000,000 to 72,000,000 cubic feet, but in so doing reduced their oil productions from 56,866 to 37,300 barrels. This continued until September, when one of the companies, due to the need for more production, opened several new wells and boosted the wastage to 104,000,000 cubic feet.

Bush informed his chief that this latter wastage continued until last month, when renewed efforts to interest the oil companies in saving the natural resources brought about a response that they were ready to close in 25,000,000 cubic feet, a program that was put into effect October 25 by cutting production from 58,270 to 54,474 barrels.

CARELESS CAMPERS, BEWARE

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 22. (AP)—Violators of California's forest laws during the fire season just closed paid a total of $3661 for their errors, M. B. Pratt, State forester, has just reported to Fred G. Stevenot, director of natural resources. These payments represented $2253 in fines, $640 in damages for property destroyed, and $769 for expenses incurred by the State in extinguishing fires resulting from carelessness.

During the past season 190 persons were arrested for fire law violations, of which 135 were found guilty, four were dismissed, and 50 settled out of court. One case is pending. These figures compare with 84 arrests and 53 convictions in 1926. Jail sentences were meted out in 18 cases this year.

Burning without permits brought trouble in the form of convictions to 55 violators. Careless smokers were next with 38 convicted, while campers followed with 23 found guilty. Carelessness charges convicted 4; failing to have spark arresters on harvesters, 6; refusing to fight fire, 4; and incendiary, 4. Locomotive operators were found guilty in one case.

Thirty-six per cent of the 1364 fires were traced to careless smokers, as against 27 per cent a year ago. Seventeen per cent resulted from incendiary operations against 10.7 per cent last year. Lightning caused only 1.3 per cent, as against 3.4 per cent in 1926.

SHERIFF CONVICTED OF PAMPERING PRISONERS

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 22. (AP)—Sheriff Withaup of Cole county and Sheriff Lane and Deputy Lane of Johnson county today were found guilty by Judge Reeves of granting privileges to Federal prisoners and will be held in contempt of Federal court. Sentences of thirty days each in jail and fines of $2500 each will be assessed December 7 unless they make appeals, Judge Reeves said.

Manning Denies End of Romance on Trip to Reno

RENO, Nov 22. (AP)—The Hawaiian love romance of Mrs. Horace E. Dodge, divorced wife of the wealthy Detroit man, and Lieut. Benjamin Franklin Manning, which culminated in their marriage at Honolulu on August 1, last, has not been shattered, and bids fair to be a lasting and happy union, Lieut. Manning declared here today when he stopped off to visit T. L. Withers, a companion in the World War, while on his way east.

Lieut. Manning declared emphatically that his visit to Reno has nothing to do with acquiring a residence here for three months, and, furthermore, that he intends to depart for the East before next Sunday.

He refused, however, to say how he managed to get to Reno from Shanghai, where he left the President Cleveland, on which he and his bride were taking a honeymoon trip, in such a short period of time. He said, however, that he has business in the East and that it would have taken him a month longer to reach this country had he continued on the President Cleveland.

WASTE BLAMED ON INEFFICIENCY

Executives at Fault, Says Aide of Hoover

Secretary Credited With Important Results

Better Management Held Ally of Prosperity

OAKLAND, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—Fifty per cent of a waste of $2,000,000,000 annually in the United States is due to bad management, largely traceable to inefficiency of those in charge as executive officers, according to Frank H. Harris of the Herbert Hoover Committee on Waste Elimination, in an address here.

"Great as the savings have been so far in Hoover's drive on waste, they are small compared to what will be done if he is entirely successful in his efforts to correct bad management of businesses and industries in the United States at the present time," Harris predicted.

"Already much national prosperity is due to improvement of management. Investments are safer and money flows easier as a result of the management of finance fostered in the Federal Reserve system. The ability to telephone to Europe today is due to good management. The improvement of railroads is due to improved management. The greater good will now existing between capital and labor is due to good management on the part of leaders of both these great factors in the conduct of society.

NOTHING NEW TAUGHT

"The Hoover campaign to further improved management does not pretend to tell anything new or to tell how to run business. It proceeds on basic principles and enlists the co-operation of all in bringing about a bettered condition that will redound to the advantage of individuals."

Harris cited a number of examples of simplifications in the conduct of industries that have saved millions of dollars.

"A few years ago there were literally thousands of forms of receipts, invoices, bills of lading, and similar forms of documents in constant use in the exchange of goods, which is at the basis of all business. Today there are about twenty standard forms in common use. The resultant saving in this item alone is estimated at $15,000,000 annually.

"The first impression of waste as entertained in attacking this major problem of modern society was that it consisted of mill ends, leader, scraps of metal left after punching and trimming, residues left after chemical operations, and things of that sort. There was waste here. But there soon were seen to be other forms of waste more simple and sure of correction in which the loss involved was staggering. These involved as a corrective simplification and standardization.

BRICKS STANDARDIZED

"One of the first projects in bringing about simplified practice was in the paving brick industry. It was quickly discovered that there were sixty-six sizes of paving brick, apart from differences of quality and texture and material. Of these sizes the best sellers were eleven. And it was comparatively simple to reduce even these to five sizes and later four, which amply supply all the demands.

"Fifteen years ago there were forty sizes of electric light sockets. Some of us have had memorable experiences in fitting a light to a socket. There now is one standard size which prevails from California to Maine. As short a time ago as seven years there were a confusing number of sizes of electric lamp globes.

"An amusing form of waste that has been rectified was that involved in the kinds of metal seats on farm machinery. Now the only interest the farmer has in the kind of seat he gets is not sitting on it longer than fourteen hours a day if he can help it. Nevertheless one manufacturer was using fourteen sizes of seats. As a result of standardization there now is only one size used for 85 per cent of farm machinery."

Head of Coast Steel Company Dies in Bay City

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22. (AP)—Judge Elliott M. Wilson, 82 years of age, president of the Pacific Coast Steel Company, died here today after a long illness. He leaves a sister, two nieces and other relatives in Youngstown, O., where he formerly lived.

Judge Wilson was born near Shalersville, O., in 1845 and practiced law in that State where he served several terms on the bench.

He was a pioneer steel man on the Pacific Coast. He first became identified with the industry in Tacoma, Wash., in 1893, later operating the Seattle Steel Company in Seattle. In a merger in 1911, the Pacific Coast Steel Company was formed. This company operates plants in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland and Seattle.

Giving Petition to Japan's Ruler Just Isn't Done

TOKIO, Nov. 22. (AP)—A dramatic incident in connection with the Emperor Hirohito's review of the troops at Nagoya Saturday was disclosed today with the lifting of censorship.

A soldier member of the eta or outcast class, stepped from the ranks. He knelt and tried to draw the Emperor's attention to a petition he held for intervention in favor of better treatment for the outcast class. The soldier was arrested immediately.

The Emperor's attention was directed elsewhere and he did not notice the incidents.

All the officers of the regiment concerned subsequently tendered their resignations. These were not accepted. It is expected that the soldier will be sentenced to a year's imprisonment.

AUTO BAGGAGE INSPECTION IRKS

Arizona-California Line Practice Protested

'Agents Called "Bugologists" and Confiscators

Precautionary Measures Regarded Too Rigid

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—The Douglas Chamber of Commerce has forwarded all Arizona commercial bodies, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the Automobile Club of Southern California a protest against the manner of baggage inspection of autos on both sides of the Colorado River bridge. This action is based on a letter written by Fred D. Hubbell of this city, who refers to the inspectors as "bugologists," eager to confiscate a half-dozen oranges or a cotton pillow. Arizona people from sections where there is no possibility of infected cotton or fruits are said to be harassed on the California side, while Arizonans returning from the Coast also are searched. The latter search is called absurd and disgraceful "inasmuch as California has a ban on everything that Arizona has banned, and there is not a chance in a thousand that anything returning from the North Pole or California could be possessed of anything that could be injurious to the fruit or cotton industry of this State."

TWO MINERS KILLED

MORENCI (Ariz.) Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—The casualty record of the local branch of the Phelps-Dodge Corporation, one of the best in the Southwest, has been fractured by an accidental blast in which two miners, Yamael Rivera and Alfred Herrera, were killed. The men were working alone in a remote drift and the bodies were not found till several hours after the blast, when a relief shift entered the workings.

SCHOOL HEAD NAMED

BISBEE, (Ariz.) Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—R. E. Souers has been appointed Superintendent of Schools in Bisbee, succeeding John A. Sexson, who on January 1 will take a similar position in Pasadena. Mr. Souers for years was head of the schools of Douglas, resigning with expressed intention of starting a ranch school for boys. His appointment here was the cause of resignation of Dr. C. H. Hunt, chairman of the local school board, who favored the promotion of C. H. Merideth, who has been assistant superintendent of schools.

NEGRO HOBO KILLED

ASH FORK (Ariz.) Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—An unusual end was that of Thad M. Edmonds, 17 years of age, a Kansas City (Kan.) negro, who had been "beating his way" toward Los Angeles. Trying to enter a refrigerator car by way of an upper ventilation door, the trap fell upon him, with his head and an arm outside, death following by strangulation. The body was found by a brakeman as the train was entering Ash Fork.

PRESCOTT RANCHER DIES

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—At his ranch home, near Prescott, death from heart disease has come to Joseph K. Campbell, brother of former Gov. Thomas E. Campbell of Arizona. He was a chief of government stockyards during the World War. Two brothers and two sisters survive.

LABOR FEDERATION ELECTS

PHOENIX, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—L. E. Brewer of Tucson has been elected president of the Arizona State Federation of Labor. B. P. Carpenter of Phoenix continues as secretary-treasurer. H. S. McCluskey, a member of the Arizona Industrial Commission, was elected delegate to the National Federation of Labor and upon the legislation committee.

REDUCTION RECOMMENDED

PHOENIX, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—A reduction of about 10 cents per 100 pounds on railroad rates on gasoline and refined oils from Pacific Coast points to Arizona and New Mexican stations is recommended in a report of William A. Disque, examiner for the Interstate Commerce Commission. The present rates of 80 cents to Arizona and 90 cents to New Mexico stations he considers unreasonable. Yuma has the lowest Arizona rate, 65 cents.

Fifteen Guilty in Rum Ring Case

TACOMA (Wash.) Nov. 22. (AP)—Former Sheriff Gibson and fourteen others were found guilty today in the Grays Harbor liquor conspiracy case. Sixteen defendants were found not guilty by the jury verdict read in Federal Court.

Found guilty along with Gibson are A. J. (Chris) Curtis of McCleary and R. G. Lane, Aberdeen, who, with Gibson, are asserted to be leaders of the huge rum ring the government charged has been operating in Southwest Washington over a period of several years.

PLOT TO DYNAMITE HIS RIVALS CHARGED

FARM HAND'S ASSERTED PLAN NIPPED BY DISCOVERY OF EXPLOSIVES CACHE

TRENTON (N. J.) Nov. 22. (AP)—A consuming jealousy that would have blasted his supposed rivals out of the way with dynamite was ascribed by police to a 20-year-old farm hand, who was held today on charges of atrocious assault and atempt to kill three boys, 13, 14 and 16.

While Charles Upton, a farm laborer living near Jacksonville, N. J., was in jail at Mt. Holly, State police searched his home and found four sticks of dynamite and several fuses. Authorities said that Upton planned to blow up an automobile containing Thomas Lovell, 16, and his cousins, Thomas and William Seidler, 13 and 14, respectively, after his asserted assault on the youths with a shotgun Sunday night had fallen of its fatal purpose.

Upton, who is said to have been motivated by jealousy over the attentions of the three boys to Miss Margaret Broughton of Jacksonville, was arrested yesterday when he is said to have admitted firing two shots into the automobile occupied by Lovell and his cousins. Lovell was the only one of the boys injured, being cut by glass from the broken windshield.

Edinburg's new hospital for mental defectives will have accommodations for 1000 patients.

LAW STALKS NIGHT CLUBS

Resorts Operated by Tex Guinan and Evelyn Nesbit Threatened With Closing Orders

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—The cold gray light of the legal morning after shone today upon two night clubs and their hostesses and in it Tex Guinan and Evelyn Nesbit blinked slightly. The club where Tex has heretofore reigned lost a license in a sudden and unadvertised action of the Commissioner of Licenses; Miss Nesbit's club, through a representative, was called upon to produce a license or vouchsafe explanations.

The revocation of the permit under which the Century Club was operating, by and with Miss Guinan, came in the routine course of investigations of License Commissioner Quigley. He said action was taken after testimony showed that the club was violating the curfew law.

The Century Club will not, however, close immediately. Its owners obtained a restraining order prohibiting the police or the commissioner from interfering with the club until the case is reviewed by the court. The corporation has filed suit in an effort to have the 3 o'clock closing law declared unconstitutional on the ground that it is discriminatory in favor of hotels and membership clubs.

Jules Martin, 32-year-old manager of the Chez Evelyn, the night club in which Harry K. Thaw early yesterday indulged in those antics which resulted in his return to the first page after an all too brief absence, appeared today in the Westside court to answer to a summons charging him with the operation of a cabaret without a license. Magistrate Greyer granted an adjournment until Friday.

Detectives, referred to him by Miss Nesbit, declared Martin produced a license granted the Cameo Club and said the Chez Evelyn was really the Cameo Club reincarnated.

NATION-WIDE WAR BEGUN ON CANCER

New York Society for Its Eradication to Conduct Crusade in Newspapers

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—Newspapers of the country are to play a leading role in a two weeks' anticancer crusade that started here tonight with a mass meeting at the New York Academy of Medicine.

The campaign is to be waged largely through the medium of authoritative bulletins dealing with various aspects of the disease distributed to the press by the American Society for the Control of Cancer.

"The points emphasized in these bulletins," said Dr. George A. Soper, managing director of the society, "are that delays are fatal in cancer, that many cases can be cured if the disease can be discovered in time and put in the hands of a skilful physician, that facilities exist, in the way of hospital and clinics, for accurate diagnosis and sound treatment, and that a great many wrong ideas about cancer should be given up, namely, that cancer is contagious, that it implies a family taint, and that home remedies are useful.

"There are various procedures that can be taken for the prevention of cancer, and these are stated. Modern methods of treatment are described.

"Among all the measures of publicity employed by this society in the fourteen years of its existence, it has been found that the newspapers take the foremost place because of their ability to reach the public in an interesting and convincing way."

Death Summons Once Prominent London Hostess

LONDON, Nov. 22. (AP)—Mrs. Arthur Wilson of Tranby Croft, formerly prominent as a society hostess, died in London today at the age of 84.

Mrs. Wilson's death recalls the famous baccarat case of 1891, when she and her husband, a wealthy shipowner of Hull, gave a house party which included among its guests the late King Edward, then Prince of Wales.

One of the Prince's sporting friends, Sir William Gordon-Cumming, was detected cheating at cards. The Prince and his friends compelled Gordon-Cumming to sign a pledge never to play again.

Efforts to preserve secrecy failed and the case eventually reached the courts, Gordon-Cumming bringing action for slander against Mrs. Wilson and others. The Prince testified against Gordon-Cumming and the case ended in a verdict for Mrs. Wilson.

Boy Quits School Early and Saves His Mother's Life

OAKLAND, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—A 10-year-old boy who returned home from school an hour early today saved the life of his mother, Mrs. Mae A. Neidrick, who was near death after an attempted suicide.

The boy, Billy, was let out of school early because of Thanksgiving exercises. He had several specimens of class work which he wanted to show his mother and he hurried.

When he rushed into the house to show them he found his mother lying on a cot in the kitchen—all the jets in the gas stove turned wide open and the windows closed.

Billy tried to rouse his mother, but she was unconscious, so he shut off the gas stove, opened the windows and then called his father on the telephone, bringing the police ambulance.

Admiral M'Leon Undergoes Knife

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 22. (AP)—Rear-Admiral Ridley McLean, commanding the submarine divisions, battle fleet, was operated on for acute appendicitis at the Balboa Park Naval Hospital this morning. The admiral was stricken at a dinner party given by Capt. C. W. Cole of the naval training station last evening. He was taken to his home but after a navy physician had been called, was removed to the naval hospital.

During Admiral McLean's absence from the flagship Holland Commander W. L. Friedell, commanding submarine Division Eleven, will be acting submarine divisions commander.

DEAD PAIR IN PROXY FIGHT OVER CHILD

Paris Suit for Custody of Girl Echoes Tragedy of Max Linder and Wife

PARIS, Nov. 22. (AP)—The question of whether the last wish of a man who killed his wife or her last wish in opposition to this should be respected was before a Paris court today in a suit for custody of Maude Lydie Linder, 3-year-old daughter of the late Max Linder, French motion-picture star.

Linder was insane and the murderer of his wife, declared former President Millerand, who is counsel for Mrs. Mathilde Flavie Virginie Peters, American mother of Mrs. Linder, who wants the child, in accordance with her daughter's will.

The actor, whose name in private life was Gabriel Leuvielle, had no legal right to appoint his brother, Marcel Leuvielle, the child's guardian while his wife was still alive, M. Millerand argued, adding that Mrs. Linder, in contrast to her husband, had never displayed the slightest neurasthenic tendency toward suicide.

Previously it was revealed that some months before the murder and suicide in a Paris hotel in November, 1925, Mrs. Linder had written a letter saying she was in constant fear for her life and that if her husband should kill her she wanted her daughter to be given to her mother. Linder had insisted that the child should be sent to his mother, "a sainted woman," to get the kind of education he thought suitable.

A decision in the case probably will be made in two weeks.

FIGURES ON RAIL VALUES AT VARIANCE

Government's Estimate $11,000,000,000 Below That Set by Companies

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—A difference of $11,000,000,000 now exists between the total the government is willing to allow for the valuation of the country's interstate railroad property, and the higher figure that owning corporations attach to the same transportation machine.

Briefs which have been filed by Walter L. Fisher, special counsel for the Interstate Commerce Commission, and P. J. Farrell, the commision's own chief law officer, with the Federal District Court at St. Louis, where the first test case on the subject is awaiting conclusion, revealed today the extent of the discrepancy and outlined some of the anticipated results.

A possibility of a general increase in railroad rates amounting to as much as 18 per cent, should the courts uphold the railroad contention, was seen by Mr. Fisher.

Soldier at Sea Seized to Face Wife's Charge

SAN RAFAEL, Nov. 22. (AP)—How the law reached out by radio and took a soldier from the United States transport Thomas while the vessel was far at sea was learned with the return here today of John Elkins, 24 years of age, of Los Angeles, the prisoner.

Elkins was sought here on a charge of desertion of his wife and children in Los Angeles. Learning that the man had enlisted in the Army and was en route to the Philippines, Sheriff Keating sent a radio message which resulted in the transport Thomas being put in to Honolulu, an unusual procedure for the vessel when loaded with troops for the islands. At Honolulu Elkins was transferred to the transport Chateau Thierry and then returned to San Rafael.

He will be taken to Los Angeles to face trial on charges preferred by his wife, Mrs. Elgie Elkins.

Motion Picture of Heart Taken

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—Motion pictures of the human heart in action were brought here today by Prof. Franz Groedel, German heart specialist, who arrived on the liner Majestic.

The pictures, taken with the aid of the X-ray, will be shown at the meeting of the Radiological Society of America in New Orleans next week, Prof. Groedel said. The specialist is personal physician to President Von Hindenburg of Germany.

San Diego Votes to Build Airport

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 22. (AP)—This city voted by about four to one today to spend $650,000 to build an airport on the tidelands. The airport is to be called Lindbergh Field, to mark the fact that Col. Lindbergh started from San Diego in his San Diego-built plane to reach New York for his hop-off in the flight he made to Paris.

WARSAW (Poland) Nov. 22. (AP)—Charles S. Dewey, former Assistant Secretary of the United States Treasury, has arrived here to take up his duties as foreign member of the directorate of the Bank of Poland to aid in the administration of the recently floated $72,000,000 stabilization loan.

WILL OF QUEEN CAUSES MIX-UP

Alexandra Left Only Scraps of Paper on Bequests

About $15,000,000 Worth of Property Tied Up

Prince of Wales Moving Day Delayed by Tangle

BY W. T. ROBERTS

[Copyright, 1927, in all countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

LONDON, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—Recently there was a hurried and important gathering of the royal family at Sandringham to discuss Queen Alexandra's will and the disposition of her property.

That there have been difficulties in distributing the enormously valuable collection of gold and silver treasures, furniture, tapestries and objects of art is well known. This has been talked about in every club in the West End for months.

One of the reasons for the delay in the Prince of Wales going into residence at Marlborough House is the difficulty over the disposal of the property.

King Edward left Queen Alexandra all his personal property at Buckingham Palace, and the use of all his possessions in the way of furniture, pictures, plate, etc., at Sandringham for her life, these possessions to revert to King George on her death.

GREAT VALUE

When Queen Alexandra made Marlborough House her London home she had transferred there all King Edward's personal possessions that were at Buckingham Palace. How valuable these possessions are may be judged from the fact that the silver and gold treasure in the way of massive gold cups, tea services, candlesticks, pilgrim bottles (silver and gold, some three feet in height; shields, etc., that King Edward left are valued by court gold and silversmiths at £2,000,000.

All the treasure was placed in the plate room at Marlborough House. It apparently was Queen Alexandra's intention to leave the bulk of this treasure to Prince Olaf, heir to the crown of Norway, her favorite grandson.

But whatever her intention was, what she apparently did was this: From time to time she scribbled on half-sheets of note paper how she wished her personal possessions disposed of after her death.

The last note of this kind was made, it would seem, two months before she died. These sheets of note paper, unsigned, constituted her will.

CAUSES MIX

At the time she was making these notes Queen Alexandra was in failing health. Many of the notes were confused and contradictory, and from them it would be impossible to determine with any exactitude how Her Majesty wished her property distributed. To Prince Olaf she apparently left only a small portion of the valuable contents of the plate room.

It became obvious there must be a disposal of the contents of Marlborough House by mutual consent of those presumably having some claim to the possessions. The names mentioned by Queen Alexandra in her notes were those of Prince Olaf, the Princess Mary, the Princess Victoria, King George, Queen Mary and their sons.

The Prince of Wales declined to go into residence at Marlborough House until some settlement was arrived at. The Prince is ready to waive his claim to any of the possessions, but he does not wish to go to Marlborough House in the position of being in charge of the bulk of the valuable contents, which remain materially as they were when Queen Alexandra died.

KING CUSTODIAN

At the family gathering it seems no final arrangement was reached except to make King George custodian of all the valuables, furniture, etc., at Marlborough House until a settlement among all interested parties is made.

So at present the position would appear to be this: Property valued roughly at £3,000,000 (£2,000,000 being the value of the contents of the plate room,) is to be left at Marlborough House in charge of King George, and nothing can be moved from the house without his consent.

The furniture, pictures, etc., have been removed from the apartments the Prince desires to occupy, and placed in other rooms, so the work of getting the suites ready for the Prince may proceed.

The plate room has been sealed and the keys given to the King, but if the Prince of Wales sticks to his resolution not to live at Marlborough House until a settlement of his grandmother's will has been made, it may be a long time before he goes there.

A lawsuit on the will is unthinkable, but the disposition of the property may drift through years. Royalties do not relinquish what they believe to be their just claims to valuable property any more readily than other people.

Trial of Mexico Bishop Starts

TUCSON (Ariz.) Nov. 22. (AP)—The trial of Bishop Juan Navarette, former head of the Catholic diocese of Sonora, charged with violation of the neutrality laws of the United States, began here today before a jury wholly non-Catholic in the Federal District Court.

Jose Gandara, El Paso, Tex., photographer, and Esteban Borgaro, Jr., local curio dealer, are co-defendants of Bishop Navarette and went to trial with him on similar charges.

The prospective jurors were closely questioned as to their religious affiliation before being accepted.

Bishop Navarette was arrested at Nogales several weeks ago.

AID FOR CALIFORNIA FARMER DISCUSSED

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—Speakers at the Commonwealth Club's monthly discussion expressed the opinion that the California farmer needs help, either "by curbing development of undeveloped lands to reduce crop competition or by a tariff." Frank T. Swett, chairman, insisted that overexpansion in the fruit business is largely due to the rapid multiplication of our irrigated sections and the United States awakened to the fact that at least 40,000,000 acres too much land have been brought under cultivation while farms have been abandoned to the extent of 25,000,000 acres.

Gloves produced by Greenoble factories of France last year were worth $8,000,000.

NEW REVENUE CUTTER ENDS MAIDEN VOYAGE

OAKLAND, Nov. 22. (AP)—The Northland, the new $1,000,000 United States revenue cutter, successor to the famous Bear, returned to the Oakland estuary today after a maiden voyage of four months in the Arctic.

CAB DRIVER RETURNS BAG FULL OF JEWELS

CHICAGO, Nov. 22. (AP)—A bag containing $15,000 of jewels, left in a Boston taxicab by Mr. and Mrs. Alan C. Dixon of Chicago in the haste of their departure from the Yale-Harvard game Saturday, was returned to the hotel at which they stayed by the driver of the cab.

FLORIDA RATE BOOST FOUGHT

Western Business Battles to Keep Trade

Increase Means 'Stone Wall,' Commissioner Told

Hearings End and Case Now Goes to Washington

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—Granting of proposed freight-rate increases between Pacific Coast and Florida points would build a veritable "stone wall" around western business and leave Florida business entirely to eastern and midwestern competition, according to a synopsis of the situation placed before Commissioner E. H. Kerwin of the Interstate Commerce Commission today during the hearing of protests on the proposed rate boosts.

Ray B. Cox, vice-president and general manager of the Built-in Fixture Company of Berkeley, used the "stone wall" expression and other witnesses adopted it as a standard.

The proposed rate would make a differential on towns south of Jacksonville, Fla. Since 1918 there has been a flat rate from the West to all points in Florida.

The railroads contend that the rates from the Pacific Coast should be on the same basis as those in the East—based on point of destination. The increased rate, which is said to range from 48 to 60 per cent in some cases, was to have gone into effect September 25, last, but when a protest was registered by western shippers the Interstate Commerce Commission halted the order and issued a suspension until April 25, next.

Today's session, which was designed to give westerners an opportunity to present their contentions, concludes the hearings. The matter now goes to the commission for decision. Hearings also were held at Washington.

B. F. McKibben, executive secretary of the Pacific States Butter, Egg, Cheese and Poultry Association, declared that the Florida markets could be reached far cheaper by sending produce by boat to Atlantic seaboard points and thence by rail into Florida. He predicted that railroad business would fall off tremendously under a higher rate.

H. R. Brashier, traffic manager of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, declared his organization on record as "strictly opposed" to the new rate, which he characterized as "unreasonable."

The proposed increase would cost the American borax industry 148 per cent of what it is now paying for shipments into that section, according to C. W. Tuckwood, traffic manager of the American Potash and Chemical Association of Trona, Cal.

Hija de Conocido Periodista que se Casa de un Modo Nuevo

GIRARD (Kansas) Nov. 22.—Hoy se llevó a cabo el matrimonio de Josefina Haldeman Julius, de 18 años, hija de E. Haldeman Julius, publicista de Girard, muy conocido por sus ediciones de libritos baratos de bolsillo, con Aubrey Clay Rozelle, ex-estudiante de la universidad de Kansas. Los novios se casaron en la casa del padre y el reverendo L. M. Birkshead, pastor de la iglesia unitaria de todas las Almas, fue quien bendijo la unión, que, como se sabe, será a base de compañerismo de experimentación (companionate marriage.)

Ordenes a la Policia por Radio

BURLINGAME, Nov. 22.—La policia de esta ciudad estará dirigida por medio del radio. Ha sido instalado un trasmisor de cincuenta watts, en la estación de dicho cuerpo y todos los automóviles tendrán también un recibidor con una longitud de onda, fija. Cuando alguien esté estrangulando a una dama en Burlingame, todos los automóviles serán notificados de lo que acontece, por radio. Un policia dirigirá el vehiculo mientras los otros oyen las órdenes, dadas desde el cuartel. Serán castigados muy severamente, aquellos policias que cambien la longitud de la onda.

Juicio de un Ex-Obispo Mejicano

TUCSON (Arizona) Nov. 22.—Hoy dió comienzo ante el tribunal federal de Distrito de esta ciudad, el juicio que se le sigue al señor don Juan Navarrete, obispo mejicano, acusado de violar las leyes de la neutralidad de los Estados Unidos de Norteamérica. El jurado ante el que ha comparecido se compone en su totalidad, de miembros no católicos. José Glandara, del Paso, Texas, de profesión: fotógrafo, y Estéban Borgaro, Jr., comerciante en curiosidades, de esta localidad, están juzgados por idénticas causas. Los presuntos jurados fueron cuidadosamente interrogados acerca de sus creencias religiosas, antes de haber sido ratificados en sus nombramientos. El obispo Navarrete fue arrestado en Nogales hace algunas semanas.

Las Muchachas Gruesas no Deben Preocuparse ya Más

NORTHAMPTON (Inglaterra) Nov. 22.—Las personas que se hallen sobrecargadas con carne superflua podrán volverse delgadas a razón de una libra diaria de pérdida del peso, solamente con sentarse un rato diariamente. En efecto, en un nuevo instituto instalado por la sociedad inglesa de Nueva Salud, sus médicos han fijado una silla que sirve para reducir las carnes, de la gente gruesa. Es como cualquier cómodo sillón, menos en ciertos sitios que tocan las partes donde más abunda la gordura y que son así reducidos gradualmente. Otra de las novedades inventadas en el aludido centro es una frazada eléctrica. Es exactamente como cualquier frazada pero tiene entre el tejido un fina red de hilos de alambre por los que corre la electricidad. Cuando un paciente está envuelto en la tal frazada se puede decir que está enteramente envuelto en electricidad.

Escogió un Garage para Presente en su Dia de Santo

LONDRES, Nov. 22.—Los viejos caballeros chapados a la antigua reciben a cada momento sorpresas de las hijas con cierta mentalidad muy práctica. Un viejo par británico, que deseaba obsequiar a su hija con una sarta de perlas verdaderas si dia de su cumpleaños, tuvo un disgusto al oir que ésta decía: "Te lo agradezco infinito, papá, pero si te es lo mismo deseara que en lugar de eso me concedas una participación en una estación de automóviles, es decir, en un garage. Las perlas se pueden usar de imitación, perfectamente." Las muchachas propietarias de "garages," se están volviendo cada dia más numerosas en las islas británicas, y todas ellas pertenecen a las mejores familias de la alta sociedad.

COURT ACTS TO KILL RAIL SUIT

Dismissal of Kansas City Southern Action Forecast

Valuation Fight Held Same as Los Angeles Case

Interstate Commerce Right to Estimates Upheld

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—The Supreme Court took action today in the Kansas City Southern Railroad's attack on the Interstate Commerce Commission valuation of its property, which under custom would forecast that the suit would be dismissed at an early date.

Having lost in the Federal District Court for Western Missouri, the government appealed the case, contending that it was controlled by the Supreme Court decision in the Los Angeles valuation case.

The Kansas City Southern failure will mark the second time the court has decided with the government in the valuations controversy.

The court's action was taken to indicate that on an early opinion today it would reverse the decision of the lower court and dismiss the road's suit for an injunction on the basis of the Los Angeles case.

Members of the court indicated by questions that the commission had the right to make a valuation of railroad property and use it in its discretion and that the railroads could protect themselves against the use of an invalid valuation by going into the courts and attacking any order of the commission which was based upon an improper valuation.

OFFICERS FLUNK ON EASY ONES

Percheron Listed as a Goat, Rhode Island as Horse, in Examinations

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) Nov. 22. (AP)—Seventeen policemen, given temporary appointments here recently when a number of officers were suspended, have "flunked" their civil-service examinations.

One of the "rookies," asked the name of "Confederate Park," which is located downtown on the Mississippi River front, called it "Federal Park." Others described Christy Mathewson as a comedian, Rhode Island as a kind of horse, a percheron as a goat and, according to the answers, "There's a reason" is an advertisement for a revolver.

SONORA DIVORCE MILL GEARED UP

Easier and Quicker Cutting of Knot Planned

Legislature May Use Idea of Near-by States

Second Notice Would be Abolished by Move

TUCSON (Ariz.) Nov. 22. (AP)—The divorce mills of the State of Sonora, Mex., already a Mecca for those eager to cut marital knots, may be geared up to higher speed by the Sonora Legislature in session at Hermosillo, in the opinion of Henry V. Anaya, Mexico City attorney, who is visiting his family here.

Anaya said the Sonora Legislature is considering the adoption of a statute which would conform with the regulations now existing in the States of Cuernevaca, Morelos and Mexico, where a final decree may be obtained in twenty days.

The proposed law, Anaya said, provides for the service of the complaint on the defendant either by registered mail or by publication in Mexican newspapers, without a second notice being required.

Beavers are slow and rather clumsy creatures, and rarely go more than twenty or thirty rods from their home stream.

MARINES IN NICARAGUA KILL THREE

Group of Bandits Fought Near Telpaneca Without American Casualties

MANAGUA (Nicaragua) Nov. 22. (AP) A joint combat patrol of United States marines and Nicaraguan National Guards under Lieut. H. Satterfield against a group of bandits yesterday afternoon six miles northeast of Telpaneca. Three of the bandits were killed. There were no casualties among the marines or guards.

Patrols are sent out daily from Ocotal, but apart from minor engagements and skirmishes there has been no fighting near the Honduran border, according to information received by Col. Louis M. Gulick, in command of the marines.

Some malcontents from Honduras cross the border occasionally to join the forces of the rebel Gen. Sandino, but the frontier is being watched closely to prevent this as far as possible.

POLICE TO GET RADIO ORDERS

Burlingame Officers' Cars Will Be Equipped To Aid War on Crime

BURLINGAME, Nov. 22. (AP)—Burlingame police are to be directed by radio. A fifty-watt transmitter has been installed in the police station and every police car has a receiver with a fixed wave length.

When a man in Burlingame strangles a woman all cars will be notified by radio. One policeman will drive while the other listens to directions from headquarters. Severe penalties are promised for policemen who change the wave length to listen to jazz.

FLOOD CURB HELD TASK FOR NATION

New England and Lower Mississippi Spokesmen Tell Views to Committee

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—The Federal government is the proper agency to control the flood waters of the nation, the House Flood Committee was told today by New England and lower Mississippi Valley spokesmen.

New England as yet has no plan for the control of its streams, but is awaiting the findings of the Army engineers and Atty.-Gen. Sargent and Secretary Hoover, it was said by representative Treadway, Republican, Massachusetts.

Gov. Martineau of Arkansas, chairman of the Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi Flood-Control Committee, urged that a national plan must assume the prevention of flood destruction not only on the Mississippi River, but on the tributaries of the entire basin. He expressed the view that the Army engineers constitute the best agency to carry out flood control.

Spokesmen for the three lower valley States declares it is essential that the entire cost of flood control be assumed by the Federal government.

The committee adjourned over the Thanksgiving holidays until Monday.

REGIONAL PLAN ASKED

G Young To Hold Public Hearing On Request From Monterey

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 22. (AP)—Gov. Young today announced receipt of a petition from residents along the Monterey Peninsula asking him to approve a regional planning district. He also announced he will go to Monterey December 10 to conduct a public hearing on the request.

The petition was filed and the hearing set in accordance with the Regional Planning Act passed by the 1927 Legislature. It was signed by 269 citizens, including two planning boards and the majority of the Councilmen of Pacific Grove, Monterey and Carmel.

The proposed district would comprise all that territory from the Salinas River on the north, down the coast to the Santa Barbara National Forest, including the towns of Pacific Grove, Monterey and Carmel, and all the Big Sur country, and would extend east of Mt. Toro.

SHIP BOARD TIES ON SALES PLAN

Split Comes on Question of Five-Year Guarantee

Hill, Smith and Teller Vote Against Proposal

Deadlock Expected to Bring Issue to Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (Exclusive) Six members of the Shipping Board today deadlocked three to three, the question of disposal of the three remaining government-owned lines of steamships now operating on the Pacific Ocean from the ports of San Francisco, Portland and Seattle. The board, however, by a vote of 4 to 3, agreed for an interchange of ports for all these ships when sold to private purchasers.

The split came over the period of guarantee, and Hill, Teller and Smith voted against a limit of five years. Later on a motion to include in any sales contract for the west-coast government ships the provision for interchange of ports, Plummer supported the motion and it carried by a vote of 4 to 2. Those of the board voting for the interchange of ports were O'Connor, chairman; Meyers of Oregon; Plummer and Smith. Teller and Hill opposed even this concession.

On the vote for a limit of five years proposed by the minority members of the subcommittee on method of sales, Meyers of Oregon was supported by Plummer and Chairman O'Connor. When the proposal failed the whole matter of sales was left before the board for further consideration, but with the agreement for a clause in any ship-sales plan guaranteeing an interchange of ports on any sales basis agreed to by the board.

COAST INTERESTS AROUSED

The failure of Teller and Hill to vote with the administration members was all the more emphasized by a telegram received today from the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce even more determined to have all the government-line ships sold on a five-year basis. The original wire was sent to Teller, but to make sure that it got before the full board a copy of this wire was sent to Chairman O'Connor.

Practically the fight now has been shifted to the Senate and demands will be made on President Coolidge to take steps to eliminate both Hill and Teller from further service on the Shipping Board. Hill has only a recess appointment and Teller's time expires next June. Unless they change their attitude on the ships sales to conform to the universal demand of commerce and shipping interests from the Canadian line to the Mexican border, the entire west coast, it is expected that no nomination of Hill will go to the Senate on December 5. Steps will be taken tomorrow to get several of the west coast Senators to take the matter up directly with the President as to the retention of Teller. It is known that Senator Shortridge, who recommended his appointment, has urged him to agree with the administration and permit the sale on the five-year basis and it was said today that Senator Shortridge had later written him to at once line up with the administration. Tomorrow the Oregon Senators, Steiwer and McNary; Senator Smoot of Utah and Senator Jones of Washington will confer as to whether the one west coast commissioner now on the board still can continue to defy the administration's wishes and remain on the Shipping Board as a commissioner.

GULF LINES LOSING

Commissioner Smith, who has proposed an alternative plan for a so-called sale, but which is really a long-term lease, is said to have done this to permit some of his friends to continue to operate some of the government lines in the Gulf section, where the government during the last nine months has lost $4,000,000, of which approximately $2,000,000 has been paid to the managing agents of the losing lines. Smith and his friends fear that if the west coast lines all go to private ownership the red-ink figures of the Gulf lines soon will make it impossible to continue government operations of such a colossal loss there and Congressional investigation and expose will follow. Unless speedy action is taken on these sales the whole matter may be opened up in Congress and several of the losing Gulf lines will come into the spotlight.

COOLIDGE PREPARES TO RECOMMEND SHIP POLICY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—President Coolidge desires to build up the merchant marine so that it will adequately serve as a second line of defense as well as carrying cargoes to foreign ports, but he believes that it is useless to suggest to Congress again a direct subsidy such as was proposed during the Harding administration.

He believes that there are other avenues which may be explored providing for indirect aid to shipping and he is having these investigated with a view toward recommendations which he will make to Congress next month.

Toy Opposed to Freeing Filipino

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—Harvey M. Toy, former State Highway Commissioner and former president of the San Francisco Downtown Association, in an address to that body on completion of a world tour with former Gov. Richardson, declared that "it will be 2000 years before the Philippines are ready for independence."

"The people are not able to govern themselves," he said, "and it does not seem that they ever will be. If the United States moves out some other country will move in. There is a similar situation in India. Should England give it independence the Hindus and Mohammedans would be at each other's throats in a moment."

LONG TERM IN MEXICO APPROVED

Congress Sends Six-Year Provision for President to States for Vote

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—None of the twenty-eight State legislatures will oppose the constitutional amendment, approved yesterday by Congress, extending the Presidential term from four to six years, in the opinion of numerous Senators and Deputies interviewed on the subject, and quoted in this afternoon's newspapers. Two-thirds of them must approve the measure before it becomes law.

While it is generally understood the amendment will take effect after the termination of the present Chief Magistrate's term, the wording of the provision is such that it may be applied to him, in the opinion of some observers here. The amendment states, "The President will take his seat on December 1, and remain in office six years," and the question is raised whether this refers to the next President or the present one.

Congress today forwarded its approval of the measure to the State legislatures, with instructions for them to act on it. Four States have already approved the provision.

Air Defense of Panama Canal Termed Futile

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—A report that the air defenses of the Panama Canal are "pitifully and extraordinarily inadequate" was given by Assistant Secretary Warner to Secretary Wilbur today upon his return from an inspection trip through the Canal Zone. Mr. Warner, who is in charge of naval aviation, said that facilities at the Atlantic end of the canal not only are inadequate, but are falling down under their own weight.

On the Pacific side, he reported to his chief, there is no landing field "in spite of the fact the coast line on that side is of such a nature as to make defense difficult." The absence of islands that may be used for air bases, in his opinion, makes the construction of landing fields on the Pacific Coast end imperative.

Most Everyone Has Bank Book

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—Seven of every ten persons in California have deposits in banks and six of every ten have savings accounts, according to figures from the office of Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Banks, today. Wood cited the figures as the foremost indication of Golden State prosperity.

The department's figures reveal an estimated California population of 4,950,000. Of that number there were 4,709,779 bank accounts of record June 30, last, aggregating $2,690,107,000. There were 3,069,464 individual savings accounts aggregating $1,698,729,000.

Morrow Landed in Mexico City

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—A glowingly complimentary editorial, devoted to a discussion of Ambassador Morrow's work thus far in Mexico, appears in today's Excelsior.

"Firmly the financier is conquering diplomacy and the business man the politician," it says. "In demonstration of this assertion, which seems truly paradoxical, Mr. Morrow has done more in five weeks to improve friendliness and smooth over differences than during the many years of his predecessors."

FILM ACTRESS GETS INTO CHECK TROUBLE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22. (Exclusive) — Patricia Dorris Cardinal's mother must have forgotten to put some money in Patricia's Los Angeles bank. That was Patricia's explanation today for her arrest on a charge of issuing worthless checks. She described herself as a motion-picture actress and added that her mother didn't want her to come to San Francisco so must have expressed her disapproval by neglecting the bank account. Two complainants have bills for $170 outstanding against Miss Cardinal, each of which is in the form of a check marked insufficient funds and tendered in payment of room rent at different locations. William G. Rawles, who identified himself as an auto salesman and Miss Cardinal's husband, offered to make good the amount.

BAY CITY SUPPORTED

Oregon Republicans Back Move for Convention on Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—Oregon Republicans are unanimous in backing San Francisco as the 1928 convention city for the Republican National Convention, according to Phil Matschan, chairman of the Oregon State Republican Committee, who arrived here today.

"Whatever benefits the Pacific Coast benefits Oregon," said Matschan, who also is president of the Imperial Hotel Company of Portland. "Most of the visitors and delegates to the convention will see the whole Pacific Coast before returning," he declared.

Matschan said that Oregon sentiment in the Republican ranks is in favor of Coolidge, with Hoover as a strong second choice if the President really does not get into the race.

GRACE PERIOD FOR BAR'S DELINQUENTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—Seven hundred members of the legal fraternity in California who did not register for admission into the State bar prior to the 17th inst. have a grace period until January 18, the board of governors announced today. By paying a $3 penalty the barristers will be eligible to membership. All those not complying with the regulation will be guilty of a misdemeanor under the terms of the law which made the State Bar an organization, passed by the last Legislature.

EDISON UTILITY EARNINGS GAIN

Figures for Ten Months of 1927 Released

Net Increase Over 1926 Set at $2,327,535

October Profits 25 Per Cent Up in Period

Increased revenues with a substantial reduction in operating expenses and fixed charges paved the way for considerably higher net profits for the Southern California Edison Company in October and the ten months ended October 31, last, in contrast with the corresponding periods of last year, according to the monthly statement issued yesterday by R. R. Ballard, vice-president and general manager.

After deducting operating expenses and fixed charges, net earnings of the company available for depreciation and dividends for the ten months of this year amounted to $12,494,153.01, as compared with $10,-166,617.57 in the corresponding period of 1926, an increase of $2,327,-535.44, or 23 per cent.

For the month of October, last, net profits available for depreciation and dividends amounted to $1,282,-094.85, an increase of $309,815.27, or approximately 25 per cent, over net earnings totaling $972,279.58 in the same month of last year.

Gross earnings of the company in the first ten-months' period of this year aggregated $25,386,933.22, as against $22,645,946.13 in the first ten months of last year, a gain of $2,720,987.09, or 12 per cent. Net earnings after operating expenses and taxes increased from $14,831,150.14 last year to $17,083,797.48 in the period ended October 31, last, an increase of $2,252,647.34, or 15 per cent.

For the month of October, last, gross earnings amounted to $2,575,-926.85, as compared with $2,379,815.52 in October, 1926, an increase of $196,-113.03, or more than 8 per cent. After operating expenses and taxes net earnings in October advanced from $1,458,025.44 last year to $1,712,418.63 in the month just passed, a gain of $254,393.19, or 16 per cent.

The income account of the Edison company is beginning to reflect the substantial saving in interest charges effected by the refunding of its higher rate securities with liens bearing a lower coupon rate. Interest charges in October this year totaled $430,323.78, as against $485,-745.86 for the same month of 1926, a reduction of $55,422.08.

EARLY TIRE PRICE BOOST IS FORECAST

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—An early increase in tire prices was forecast today by F. A. Seiberling, president of the Seiberling Rubber Company, basing his conclusion on the rise in crude rubber prices the last few weeks. He also took the view that the Stevenson law would be more effective and crude rubber prices would go higher. He pointed out that tire prices now are at the lowest levels in the industry and he thought Ford production next year would help the tire industry generally.

TOLL BRIDGE OFFERING ON MART TODAY

San Francisco Company is Selling $4,500,000 Issue for Bay Project

An issue of $4,500,000 San Francisco Bay Toll Bridge Company first mortgage 6½ per cent sinking-fund bonds, maturing November 1, 1957, will be offered in this market today by a banking group headed by Dillon, Read & Co. at 99½ and accrued interest to yield about 6.60 per cent.

The San Francisco Bay Toll Bridge Company has been organized under Delaware laws for the purpose of erecting, operating and maintaining a toll bridge across San Francisco Bay connecting the two main highways on the east and west sides of the bay. The western terminus of the bridge will be located at San Mateo, approximately fourteen miles south of the city line of San Francisco, and the eastern terminus will be at Mt. Eden and will be directly connected with the Lincoln Highway.

The proceeds of this bond issue and of $2,000,000 fifteen-year participating sinking-fund 7 per cent debentures will be applied to the cost of the project. Provision has been made for the issuance of $730,000 par value of 8 per cent preferred stock in lieu of cash payments due in connection with the enterprise, and in addition $269,500 par value of 8 per cent preferred stock has been underwritten for sale, if necessary, to provide additional funds.

Banker Shares on Ford Stock Bob Up Again

After a period of inactivity, due to widespread publicity on the part of newspapers throughout California, so-called bankers' shares of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Ltd., are again being offered in this State, according to J. M. Friedlander, State Corporation Commissioner. The offerings are being made through the mails by a company at Wilmington, Del., and this company does not hold any authority to sell the shares in California, the commissioner said.

Inquiries received at the corporation department as to the value of these securities show that persons in many parts of the State are receiving notices that they have been given the privilege of subscribing for not to exceed 100 Ford Motor Company of Canada, Ltd., bankers' shares at $10 each. The notices also tell of the profits made by the company, and give the names of its officers, including Henry Ford as president. It was stated at the department that Ford has repeatedly announced he has no connection with the issuance of the so-called bankers' shares.

California investors were warned by Commissioner Friedlander not to invest in these shares. The most recent quotation for Ford Motor Company of Canada, Ltd., is $570. Each bankers' share represents one one-hundredth of a full share of the company. Thus at $10 each the seller would receive $1000 for 100 bankers' shares, the equivalent of one full share. The profit to the seller, therefore, is $430, or the difference between $570 and $1000.

London Daily Radio

BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY

LONDON, Nov. 22. (By Wireless) Markets here today opened quietly, but firmness was maintained especially in investment stocks. Oils, however, were rather better and among industrials Courtaulds was steadily advancing. Brazils were good. Rubbers showed an inclination to go higher with more buying of the raw commodity by the United States.

Sterling kept strong and occasioned some mystification. It is believed that recent purchases of bar gold here are traceable to Poland, which, of course, has also taken gold from America. The report is that British gold was not sent to Warsaw, but was earmarked here.

Stringency was renewed in the money market and investment stocks tended to become duller at the close.

REPORT ON SULPHUR COMPANY OPTIMISTIC

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—Texas Gulf Sulphur is understood to be closing the greatest year in its history. Wall street estimates place 1927 earnings in excess of $12,000,-000, equivalent to almost $5 a share on its capital stock. The growth of its business is reflected in comparison with net income of $3,327,081 in 1920, nearly four times larger in seven years. The company, in addition, has acquired large reserves.

THEATER RUMOR REVIVED

Erection of Nation-wide Chain by Stanley Company Reported Under Negotiation; President Due

BY EARLE R. CROWE

Consolidation under one corporation structure of the various amusement units controlled by the Stanley Company of America and Pathe Exchange, Inc., is under negotiation again if reports coming from the East are correct. The impending visit here of Clifford B. Hawley, new president of the Stanley Company, is probably responsible for the renewal of this story, which gained wide circulation last summer.

In connection with the report that the Stanley president is en route to confer with operating officials here, it is intimated that a nation-wide chain of theaters under the control and direction of the Stanley Company will be announced soon. More than likely this rumor refers to the actual consolidation of the theater systems controlled by Stanley and Pathe, which would erect a nation-wide network of formidable proportions.

HOUSES SCATTERED

Under the control of the Stanley Company are the West Coast Theaters, operating chiefly in California; the North American Theaters, operating in the Northwest, and the Stanley system, centering in the large cities east of the Mississippi. Pathe Exchange has under its control the Keith and Orpheum vaudeville circuits and the B. S. Moss chain. United into one system, the number of houses would total about 600.

As the Stanley Company stands now, its theater operations are widely separated. The West Coast and the North American chains satisfactorily cover the Pacific Coast, but the Stanley system only extends over the eastern field to a limited extent. Between the two territories there are no connecting links. The Orpheum, Keith and Moss systems would readily supply this deficiency.

PLANS COMPLETED

Partial substantiation of the consolidation reports comes, by inference, through the report that the expansion plans announced when the new Pathe combination was effected are ready for inauguration. This may refer only to a consolidation of the theater interests and a working agreement for the release of pictures through the chain by both the Stanley and the Pathe producing companies. Or, the report may presage a wholesale merger of the producing, distributing and theater companies under the wing of the two holding companies.

First National is the producing company for the Stanley combination, while Pathe Exchange has the Cecil B. De Mille studios, the companies releasing through the Cinema Finance Corporation and the Pathe producing company. Unification of these companies into producing, distributing and theater companies under the ownership and management of one executive organization would build one of the largest units in the amusement industry, or about a $250,000,000 combination.

TRADING ON EXCHANGE IN BIG VOLUME

Bank Stocks Again Lead Activity; First National Moves Irregularly

Trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday was again in heavy volume with aggregate sales exceeding the $1,450,000 mark. Bank stocks continued to feature the activity, although trading was well distributed throughout the list.

Los Angeles-First National moved irregularly, opening at 105 3-8, selling off to 103 3-4 and later rallying to 105 1-8 and closing the same as on Monday at 105. Trading in the stock was heavy. California Bank added 2 1-2 points to 490 and Bank of Italy closed 1-4 net higher at 223 3-4. Bank of Italy rights were off a fraction to 8 1-8.

Bancitaly Corporation receded in the late trading and closed 1-4 point net lower at 124 3-8. Los Angeles Investment lost 5 cents to 2.85. Pacific Clay Products preferred added 1-2 point to 98, and the balance of the industrial list held firm.

Activity in the public-utility list was well distributed throughout the group and at prices unchanged from the close of Monday, with trading heaviest in the Edison issues.

Oils moved unevenly. California Petroleum receded 3-8 of a point to 22 7-8, while Richfield added that amount to 24 1-2. Rio Grande rallied 3-4 of a point to 22 1-4. Union Oil of California was off a fraction to 44 5-8, while Standard and Union Associates receded 1-4 each to 55 3-4 and 43 1-4, respectively.

Sunnyside Consolidated, on a large turnover, declined 1-2 cent to 11 and United American moved up a like amount to 3. Western Apex lost a cent to 8 and the balance of the mining list was unchanged.

Cotton Prices Turn Lower on Heavy Selling

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (Exclusive) The failure of the Liverpool cotton market to respond fully to our good rise in the late trading of yesterday on the bullish ginning report, caused enough scattered liquidation and southern selling to send prices here off about 20 points, or $1 a bale from yesterday's closing advance of between 50 and 60 points from Saturday's final price.

This was merely a natural setback and was utilized as a basis by local trade commission houses and spot interests to take contracts more freely on this decline. December went off to 19.73; January, 19.79; March, 19.98, and May to 20.16, after which there was a sharp rally with December recovering to 19.78; January, 19.92; March, 20.12, and May to 20.28 before noon.

After that time prices fluctuated in an irregular manner with mixed trading, due to more liquidation of speculative holdings in December contracts, but the undertone of the market continued good up to the close, supported by the much better feeling in the trade here and throughout the South, influenced by the elimination of all crop ideas of over 12,250,000 bales from yesterday's census report in detail by States and the aggregate amount of but 19,899,-162 bales shown to have been ginned prior to the 14th inst., against what the trade had apprehended would have been above 11,100,000 bales.

Friday is the first day for the issuance of "notices" for deliveries of actual cotton on December 1 on December contracts. As the contract stock here is over 300,000 bales at present and a very large number of "notices" will be sent out Friday morning, speculative holders were liquidating in that month today or transferring their interests to March or May contracts.

At Liverpool cotton futures declined 6 to 8 points against the advance of 4 to 6 they should have held to have met our closing advance of yesterday, due to scattered liquidation by local and continental interests. The market however, finally closed steadier at a net decline of 4 to 6 of their points on the day.

NEW EDISON ISSUE IS GIVEN APPROVAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22. (AP)—The State Railroad Commission today authorized the Southern California Edison Company to issue and sell 400,-000 shares of 5½ per cent preferred stock, series "C," at a par value of $10,000,000 to use for improvements in the power system. Expenditures of the company for the year 1928 were estimated at $32,091,000, figures on file with the Railroad Commission show.

Grain Exports Show Increase

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—Grain exports from the United States last week were 5,981,000 bushels against 5,512,000 the week before. Commerce Department figures today gave the following comparisons between last week's exports and those of the previous week: Wheat, 4,981,000 bushels against 3,757,000; rye, 226,000 against 852,000; oats, 97,000 against 73,000; corn, 819,000 against 168,000; barley, 958,000 against 662,000.

Canadian grains exported through United States ports amounted to 2,640,000 bushels against 2,252,000 the previous week, while last week's exports of North American wheat flour were 295,000 barrels against 195,-000 barrels the previous week.

BIRTHDAY EDITION

Magazine of Wall Street Plans Anniversary Number

From an obscure beginning in 1907, when it was issued as the Ticker, to its present position in the field of finance and business with an A B C circulation of more than 73,-000, has been the growth of the Magazine of Wall Street in two decades. Saturday was the twentieth birthday of the magazine, which is commemorating the event with a "twentieth anniversary issue."

In this number are articles by Herbert Hoover on "Prosperity," and E. H. H. Simmons, head of the New New York Stock Exchange, on "Speculation." The issue also contains a comprehensive survey of Wall street, twenty years ago and now, and other editorial features including a resume by C. G. Wyckoff, the publisher.

TWO INITIAL DIVIDENDS DECLARED

New Haven Railroad and Seiberling Rubber Place Stocks on Paying Basis

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—Seiberling Rubber Company declared an initial dividend of $1 a share on the common stock, payable December 15 to stock of record the 28th inst. Net income for ten months of 1927 was $1,385,282, after all charges.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—Directors of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad today declared an initial quarterly dividend of $1.75 a share on the 7 per cent preferred stock, payable January 3, to holders of record December 5.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—American Safety Razor Company today declared an extra dividend of 25 cents a share and a quarterly dividend of $1 a share, which placed the stock on an annual basis of $4 a share. Both are payable January 3 to holders of record December 16. Previously the company has paid $3 cash annually and 4 per cent in stock.

Bankers Offer Bonds of New Dyas Building

Financing of Hollywood's newest limit-height building now being erected at Hollywood Boulevard and Vine street to house the Hollywood store of the B. H. Dyas Corporation will be offered today in the form of an issue of $800,000 Hollywood-Vine Building Corporation first mortgage lease hold 6½ per cent sinking fund gold bonds, due November1, 1943.

The bonds will be offered by a banking group headed by Miller, Vosburg & Co., Banks, Huntley & Co., and Case, Howard and Sanford, Inc., at 100 and interest to yield 6½ per cent. The liens will constitute a closed first mortgage on the leasehold estate on the southwest corner of Vine street and Hollywood Boulevard, together with the limit-height Dyas department store building, now being erected thereon.

The loan represents approximately 50 per cent of the actual value of the building, without giving consideration to the leasehold estate, which runs to April 30, 2025. The building is valued at $1,000,000.

SUBWAY FINANCED

Traffic Tube to Connect Detroit With Windsor, Ont.

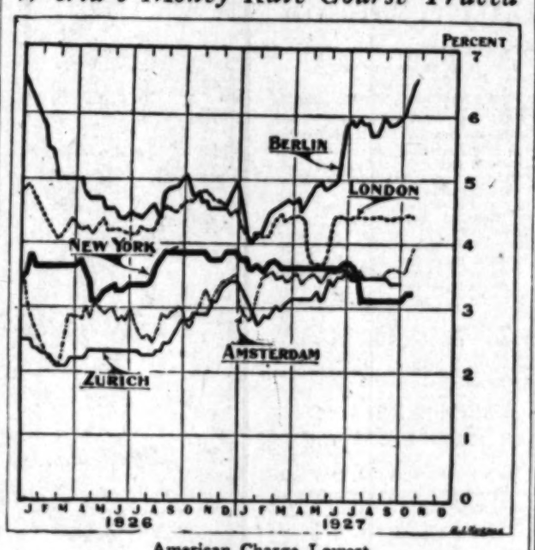
New York bankers will finance the construction of a vehicular tunnel to be built by the Detroit-Ontario Subways, Inc., from Detroit to Windsor, Ont. The voters of Detroit on the 9th inst. approved by an overwhelming majority, a city ordinance giving the Detroit-Ontario Subways, Inc., the right to construct and operate this tunnel, which will be similar to the Holland vehicular tubes. A charter has been granted by a special act of Provincial Parliament covering the construction of the Canadian section, and it is expected that actual construction will begin by January 1, 1928.

William A. Comstock, identified with the lumber industry in Michigan, and who has built and operated railroads in many States, is president of the Detroit-Windsor Subways, Inc. The corporation is authorized to construct under city streets or city-owned property in the downtown area of Detroit adjoining the section for the proposed Civic Center.

END OF ARGENTINE MEAT WAR CHEERS

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—The Argentine meat pact signed a month ago and effective now, ending the two-year "war," should have a most constructive effect upon the meat packers of the United States, England and Argentina, in the opinion of Samuel McRoberts, chairman of the Chatham Phenix National Bank & Trust Company. The agreement, which runs five years, regulates the supply of Argentine meat that may be sent to the London market by South American subsidiaries of Swift & Co., Wilson & Co., Armour & Co. the Vesteys of London and other interests.

World's Money Rate Course Traced



American Charge Lowest

As a result of a somewhat firmer tone for money in Amsterdam and Zurich and an easier tone in New York, open-market rates for bankers' acceptances are lower here than in the principal European financial centers. The steady tightening of rates in Berlin is shown in the accompanying chart, prepared from data supplied by the Federal Reserve Board. The decline in rates here accompanied the reduction in rediscount rates at the several Federal Reserve banks from 4 to 3½ per cent. Current rates here are about as low as they were in the spring of 1926 at the beginning of the latest stock market rise.

FUR BANKERS INTERESTED

Bank Bulletin Approves Move in Industry to Change Date for Ending Fiscal Year

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Bankers who do a great deal of financing for the fur trade are interested in the agitation in that industry for a change in the fiscal year from December to March.

As a matter of fact the present fiscal year in the fur trade ending December 31, does not correspond to the normal cycle of business in the industry. It is a relic of the time before the war when the industry was concentrated in Europe.

The American fur industry is no longer dependent upon Europe for its central market, its financing or its styles. New York today is as important a fur center as London or Paris. The United States not only purchases furs here and abroad, but it imports foreign raw furs and reexports them in a finished state to Europe.

This city is now one of the great retail fur markets of the world and handles from 30 to 35 per cent of the United States fur trade.

The production of fur goods in this country as a whole is now well over a quarter of a billion dollars, rising from $44,000,000 in 1914 to $264,-000,000 in 1925. The import of raw and dressed fur in this country ranks seventh in value in the list of American imports. The United States including Alaska has been producing approximately $70,000,000 worth of pelts a year. This production is compared with $15,000,000 for Canada and $35,000,000 for Russia.

Commenting on the present fiscal year in the fur industry the New York Trust Company in the latest issue of the Index, says: "Today the fiscal year coincides with the calendar year. This arrangement is very disadvantageous. It forces the manufacturer to sell in or before December, just prior to the height of the season, and induces him to buy in the beginning of the calendar year at a time when he still should concentrate his efforts on selling the current stock. Also his desire to present to his bank a good statement without too much inventory at the end of the business year, is a temptation to the fur manufacturer to dump his goods upon the retailer in November and December.

"Under the present system financing is rendered more difficult, sales plans of the manufacturer are cramped and his purchases more speculative.

"When and if this change is actually put into effect it should relieve the manufacturers from the pressure to get rid of their goods at an untimely period. Since the seasons cannot be altered, the change in the fiscal year of the manufacturer will require the dealer to grant longer terms on his sales. But this additional cost is expected to be more than offset by the improvement of the industry in general, which will make possible a more orderly marketing, a more regular demand and in preventing a dumping before the height of the season will give the manufacturer the benefit of better prices. This in turn may enable him to absorb the cost of longer financing."

TIN CARTEL REPORT DOUBTED IN TRADE

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—Tin trade circles here view with skepticism reports from London that leaders of the tin industry plan arrangements for a world tin cartel to control the market and fix the price at $1300 a ton. The report stirred the tin trade here and cable messages to London from leading New York dealers brought replies discrediting it.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—Renewed speculative interest in the stock market centered in shares of assorted specialties, which ran up to new high records, on a turnover. The general list made considerable irregularity and gains again exceeded losses at the close. Trading, which was professional in character, crossed 2,000,000 shares, bringing the year's total to date just above 600 million and shares short of the half million mark.

In the commodity section considerable interest was manifested in advance of 2 cents a bushel in wheat futures, based largely on unfavorable Argentine crop reports. Corn followed about half of yesterday's wheat gain on a base advance, due to the sharp rise in Liverpool traders to follow the rise which started here on the publication of the government crop report.

METALS STRONGER

There was little in the day's news to influence the metal stock prices, although some additional buying came into the market and shares on the announcement of increase in zinc prices. Output was in abundant supply at the annual rate of 2½ per cent quota, calling of about [illegible]. Wall street bankers do not expect to be disturbed over the movements of gold to Canada and

Elementary Principles of Safe Investing

Seldom in the financial history of America has there been available a greater volume of surplus funds for investment than at the present time. Widespread prosperity and an easy money market, with the call of many high-rate issues and a general profit taking in the stock market are placing in the hands of investors of all classes a tremendous sum of money which will seek reinvestment within the next few months.

Experience has demonstrated that a considerable portion of these funds will be lost through "get-rich-quick" schemes and wild-cat speculation. A large part of this loss may be directly attributed to the unfamiliarity of the average investor with the fundamental investment principles.

To furnish in clear, concise and easily understood form some of the essential facts that every investor should know we have prepared a booklet "Investing with Safety." Thousands of conservative investors all over America have found this little book of real assistance in the sound investment of their surplus funds.

We believe you too will find it of value. A copy will be gladly mailed you on request. Just send us your name and address below. No obligation, of course.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—In the face of some irregularity, the curb market today displayed a firm undertone, numerous specialty issues selling at their best prices of the year. Public utilities again were in the lead, selling up on current prospects for good earnings and continued talk of merger plans. American Gas and Electric common and preferred, electric Investors, and National Public Service "B" all improved their year's peaks.

Industrial Rayon was active around new high figures in response to reports of excellent October earnings, but other rayon stocks, such as Tubize and the Celanese and celluloid issues, inclined to heaviness. Atlas Plywood, which had been strong on reports that the company had large unfilled orders, sold off 2 points on profit-taking.

Oils resumed their upward movement after a brief check, vacuum gaining about a point and the Standard group showing considerable activity at gradually rising prices, Illinois Pipe Line changed hands at 179 for the first time this year.

Miscellaneous stocks, which sold at their year's best prices, included Arundel Corporation, Babcock & Wilcox, Bancitaly, Insurance Company of North America, Newmont Mining, Siebering Rubber and Tech Hughes. Club Aluminum again attained a new peak, but other kindred stocks were under pressure.

Fulton Sylphon, Caterpillar Tractor, Midland Steel, U. S. Freight and Safeway Stores were among the numerous issues which closed below yesterday's final figures.

Hygrade Food Products 6's, listed yesterday, jumped 13½ points to 134½, against the initial price of 115½.

Tr. signifies transaction the closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

bond

Mortgage Bank of Colombia

THE OPENING OF THE PANAMA CANAL in 1914 brought all the world's markets within reach of Colombia and since that time its foreign trade and governmental revenues have trebled. This, coupled with the expenditure of over $100,000,000 on interior transportation since the war, has resulted in a steady increase in property values in Colombia.

THE MORTGAGE BANK OF COLOMBIA, located at Bogota, has played a very important part in the economic growth of the country. During its sixteen years of existence the Bank has never defaulted or delayed in the payment of either principal or interest on any of its outstanding bonds. Its losses during that period have amounted to but four thousands of one per cent (.0004).

THESE BONDS ARE the direct obligation of the Bank. The total appraised value of property mortgaged as security is more than three times the amount of the outstanding bonds. Principal and interest of this issue are payable in gold in New York.

Price 97 1-2 and interest to yield 7.20%

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—An active trade cleaned up yesterday's small supply readily at fully steady prices. The run was about evenly divided from California, Arizona and Utah, while the stock were more liberal than steers in the supply. A load of 973-pound Arizona steers cashed for 10.25, with 781-pound weights out at 9.25. A sizeable lot of 937-pound Utahs realized 9.75. Common steers were in small supply from 7.50@8.50, including a load of 975-pound Mexicans at 8.35. A short load of plain 693-pound Arizona feeder steers went over for 8.00.

A load of good 1108-pound Utah cows topped at 8.00. Odd head and small lots of cows and heifers went over from 7.50@8.60, while the price spread of 6.00@7.75 took in the majority of yesterday's she-stock supply. A load of 1127-pound Utah cows made 7.50, while other loads of northerns, including heifers, turned from 7.15@7.35, while a load of 1176-pound California dairy type cows made 7.00. Very common cows in a small way sold down to 5.50, while cutters moved largely from 4.00@5.25, with low cutters down to 3.00. A few good bulls sold from 6.50@6.75, with common and medium kinds from 5.50@6.35.

CALVES—The moderate supply on hand was cleaned up readily at fully steady prices. Odd lots of milk vealers sold up to 12.00 and better, but the best in load lots was 10.75, paid for a car of 302-pound Arizonas. A load of 230-pound weights cashed for 10.50, while two loads of 353 and 411-pound Arizonas realized 9.50. Other lots of calves sold within the price range of the above spread, while plain calves and extreme heavies sold down to 7.00.

HOGS—A brisk trade cleaned up the liberal supply on offer yesterday on the early rounds at generally 25c lower prices. Seventeen decks, including two from Colorado and fifteen from Utah and Idaho, constituted yesterday's supply. Yesterday's top was 11.60 paid for a load of 160-pound Colorados, while a load of 154-pound Idahos cashed for 11.35. Thirteen loads averaging 148 to 190 pounds cashed from 11.10@11.35, mostly 11.25, while two loads of mixed Utahs averaging 148 and 172 pounds brought 10.80 and 10.85, respectively. Packing sows went over from 9.00 @9.50, mostly 9.00, with a few rough heavy kinds down to 8.00.

SHEEP—None. Medium to choice lambs were quoted from 11.50@13.50, with medium to choice ewes from 5.50@7.00.

Florida citrus shipments were reported by the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics as follows: Monday, oranges, 135 cars; grapefruit, 32 cars; mixed citrus, 32 cars.

California Valencia oranges are nearly cleaned up after light offerings in eastern fruit auctions yesterday, and there will be no citrus sales tomorrow. The next citrus sale will be Friday, Thursday the auction being closed in observance of Thanksgiving.

Both Valencias and lemons found a generally firm tone in eastern auctions yesterday.

Analysis of yesterday's sales by auction list averages follows:

Wheat Options Up Briskly on Active Market

CHICAGO, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—Duplicated strength in the Winnipeg wheat market, accompanied by reports that the Canadian pool had done a large export business, with less favorable weather comments from Argentina, brought about aggressive buying of futures in the local market today and prices jumped 2½@2¾c over the early low. The finish was at the top, with net gains of 2¾@2¾c. December closed at 1.39¾@1.39¾ and May 1.38¾@1.38¾. Corn was dull, but ¼ @¾c higher with wheat. December finished at 87¾@87¾ and May 84¾@84¾. Oats were up ¼@¾c and rye 2@2¼c.

An oversold condition was disclosed in wheat, following a small break early, and the advance was easily attained, with some stop orders uncovered on the way up. Local operators and commission houses were free buyers and many of the pit element were caught short. Winnipeg showed independent strength, 2¾@3¼c, with November leading, but no figures were given as to the amount of cash wheat sold abroad. However, it was said that the business had been done at relatively low prices. There was 300,000 to 400,000 bushels of hard winter sold at the Gulf to exporters on Monday for December loading and St. Louis sold 1 round lot for January at equal to 1¼c over Chicago December. Sales of Manitobas were estimated at 300,000 bushels.

General rains were reported in Argentina in late cables, which promise to delay harvesting in the northern zone, but will be very beneficial in the less advanced sections. Bryant's cable to Jackson Brothers from Garson, Argentina, said drought had become a serious problem and subsoil moisture was deficient. Harvest will start in about thirty days, with an indicated yield of around ten bushels per acre. Rust has made its appearance in that territory. Buenos Aires and Rosario closed 1¼@1⅝c higher, with March in Buenos Aires 1.33¾ and in Rosario 1.30¾.

The rain in Argentina had some effect on Liverpool, which closed ¼@¾d higher, and it is due 1¾@2¼d higher, based on the action of the Chicago market during the day. Drought has been relieved in Rumania. World's available supplies increased 9,130,000 bushels for the week and the total is 378,301,000 bushels, against 243,000,000 bushels last year.

Corn was dull and influenced largely by the action of wheat, breaking early on scattered selling and then firmed up toward the last, with short covering in evidence. Offerings were not large on the way up. Cash demand was fair, with sales of 212,000 bushels, and North American available stocks decreased 1,672,000 bushels for the week, and are 22,175,000 bushels, against 32,411,000 bushels last year. Argentine markets were strong, 1¾c higher, with December in Rosario 78¾ and in Buenos Aires 77¾, the latter being the same price as December in Kansas City.

Oats were slightly easier earlier, but advanced sharply on local and commission-house buying. There were reports of a liberal export business in Canadian grain and also talk of sales of domestic, but quantities were not given. Houses with seaboard connections were on the buying side of rye, and with northwestern markets strong, an advance was easily attained. Export sales at the seaboard were estimated at 50,000 to 100,000 bushels, but the buying of futures suggested a much larger business.

Prices of lard were not affected to any extent by the break in hog prices, although there was a larger trade within a small range. At the close near-by deliveries were unchanged and May 2½c lower.

Longs liquidated the near-by deliveries and packers' brokers sold, while shorts were the best buyers. Pushaw sold November hard, and St, with December, finished 20c lower.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, Nov. 22. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: "The approach of the inventory season is largely responsible for much deferment in buying by iron and steel consumers. Increasing optimism is being shown by producers, especially in regard to demand after the first of the year. Inquiry for finished steel for the first quarter of 1928 shows a decided spurt in the Chicago district. Sheet makers are turning down numerous orders for first quarter delivery offered at minimums now quoted on current business, confidently expecting higher prices to develop within the next few weeks. Optimism also manifests in a mixed pig-iron market with shipments, especially in Northern Ohio, showing a good increase compared with one month ago. Good additional rail orders are being placed.

Exempt from personal property tax in California. The mortgage is to contain provisions for refund of Pennsylvania and Connecticut personal property taxes not exceeding 4 mills per annum, Maryland securities tax not exceeding 4½ mills per annum, Michigan, Kentucky, and District of Columbia personal property taxes not exceeding 5 mills per annum and Massachusetts taxes measured by income, not exceeding 6% per annum. Bank of Italy National Trust and Savings Association, Trustee.

A sinking fund is to be provided for, payable beginning February 1, 1932 in semi-annual instalments calculated on an accumulative basis, sufficient to retire the entire issue at or before maturity, by purchase at or below the current redemption price, or, if not so obtainable, by call by lot at that price.

The following information has been summarized by Mr. Arthur Batty, President of San Francisco Bay Toll-Bridge Company, from his letter dated November 22, 1927, copies of which may be obtained upon request, and is subject to the more complete information contained therein:

COMPANY

San Francisco Bay Toll-Bridge Company has been organized under the laws of Delaware for the purpose of erecting, operating and maintaining a toll-bridge across San Francisco Bay connecting the two main highways on the east and west sides of the bay.

The western terminus of the bridge will be located at San Mateo, approximately 14 miles south of the city line of San Francisco and will be directly connected with the El Camino Real highway, and the new Bay Shore Boulevard which is now under construction and expected to be completed to San Mateo during 1928. The eastern terminus will be near Mt. Eden and will be directly connected with the Lincoln Highway. The bridge, planned for completion before July 1, 1929, will afford the most direct all-highway route between San Francisco and points in the San Joaquin Valley.

The county of San Mateo, which has jurisdiction in respect of this bridge, has granted the company a franchise extending to July 11, 1977, to operate the proposed toll-bridge. The power to establish tolls is lodged in the county Board of Supervisors, which body has unanimously approved the franchise and the tolls provided therein. Under the Political Code of the State of California, these tolls cannot be revised, in the opinion of counsel, prior to July 11, 1947, except upon proof that they are excessive or inadequate in relation to the cost or value of the property. The law contains provisions relating to the purchase of the bridge by the counties in which it is situated, either within five years from the filing of the completion certificate or at any time after the bridge has been in operation for ten years; in either case the purchase price is to be determined by a commission on which the company and the purchasers will have equal representation and which will include an appointee of the judge of the county Superior Court.

ESTIMATED EARNINGS

Based upon traffic counts made by the California Highway Commission during 1926, and without allowance for increased traffic during the construction period, it is estimated by Messrs. Sanderson & Porter, engineers, that revenues, at toll rates stipulated in the franchise, and expenses, for the first year of operation after completion of the bridge, its approaches, and the Bay Shore Boulevard to San Mateo now under construction, will be as follows:

Gross revenues	$1,057,729
Operating expenses, maintenance and taxes (exclusive of Federal income taxes)	189,260
Net earnings before interest, amortization and Federal taxes	$ 868,469

Such estimated net earnings are approximately three times maximum annual interest charges of $292,500 on the first mortgage bonds.

SECURITY

These bonds, limited to $4,500,000 principal amount, will be, in opinion of counsel, the direct obligation of San Francisco Bay Toll-Bridge Company, secured by first mortgage lien on all the fixed property now owned or hereafter acquired by the company, including the above-described bridge across San Francisco Bay, together with its approaches, appurtenances, rights-of-way and franchise. The total cost of the enterprise, including construction of the bridge, carrying charges during construction, financing expenses, and allowance for contingencies, has been estimated by Messrs. Waddell & Hardesty, bridge engineers, to be approximately $7,500,000. Based on the above estimate of earnings for the first year of operation and on a conservative allowance for future growth of traffic, these engineers have appraised the bridge, when completed, at approximately $9,000,000.

The proceeds of the bonds and of $2,000,000 Fifteen-Year Participating Sinking Fund 7% Debentures will be applied to the cost of the enterprise. Provision has been made for the issuance of $730,500 par value of 8% Preferred Stock in lieu of cash payments due in connection with the project, and in addition $269,500 par value of 8% Preferred Stock has been underwritten for sale, if necessary, to provide additional funds.

We offer these bonds for delivery if, when and as issued and accepted by us, subject to approval of legal proceedings by counsel. It is expected that delivery will be made on or about December 7, 1927, in the form of temporary bonds of the company or interim receipts of Dillon, Read & Co.

Price 99½ and accrued interest. To yield over 6½%

Population, 1927 (estimated)	472,428

These bonds are obligations of the City of Seattle payable, both principal and interest, from a special fund created out of the revenues of the entire Municipal Light and Power Plant and System, which fund can be used for no other purpose than the payment of principal and interest. The City Treasurer is required to set aside and pay into such fund from these revenues, thirty days prior to payment, the amount of principal and interest falling due. The City of Seattle irrevocably obligates itself to establish and maintain such rates for electric energy as will always provide a sufficient amount to pay principal and interest of these bonds when due and all operating charges and depreciation of its Municipal Light and Power System. It also obligates itself not to sell, lease, or in any manner dispose of the Municipal Light and Power Plant and System now belonging to it, or which may hereafter belong to it, until all outstanding obligations shall have been paid in full, or provisions made for their payment.

The total book value, real and personal, owned by the Municipal Light and Power Plant and System, as of December 1, 1927, less depreciation, will be $39,690,901.29. There are outstanding $23,592,000 bonds, including this issue, which are payable from revenues. There are also outstanding light bonds amounting to $2,099,000, payable from general taxes, but the interest thereon, amounting to approximately $110,000 per annum, is paid out of the revenues of the System. The net earned surplus of the System, as of December 31, 1926, was $7 583,509.49 over all liabilities, which is approximately 25% of the gross revenues since the System was placed in operation. Bonds totaling $3,348,000 have matured and been paid out of earnings.

vance in sterling to around the "gold export point."

Aggressive pool operations were reported during the day in such issues as Abraham & Straus, Coty, Jones Brothers Tea, Midland Steel Products preferred; Montgomery-Ward, Otis Steel prior preferred, Radio, Transue & Williams and Westinghouse Electric, all of which were marked up 2 to 8 points to new high records for the year or longer.

Indications of concerted buying also were apparent in American Republics, Consolidated Gas, International Combustion, Mack Trucks, Roesis Insurance, Symington and Woolworth.

Bullish operations in the Dodge Brothers issues, which advanced 2 points or more, and in Packard and Hupp which continued their climb to new high ground. General Motors moved within a range of about 2 points, closing half a point higher at 129 1-4. United States Steel common also closed only fractionally higher at 142 3-8, although some of the independents recorded good gains.

American tobacco issues failed to respond to reports of a large tax refund by the government and pronounced heaviness also was shown by Clotham Hosiery, Purity Baking B and Weston Electrical Instrument.

Except for the establishment of a new high by Norfolk & Western at 201¼ on a revival of reports that dividends would be guaranteed by the Pennsylvania, which already owns half the stock, under proposed lease terms, there was little of interest in the rail group.

Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Sugar prices held steady but coffee futures reacted 20 to 25 points.

Except for a slight recession in sterling and another break of about 20 points in Japanese yen to around 45.70 cents, the leading foreign exchanges held firm in quiet trading.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (AP)—Bond prices suffered further irregularity today as investors saw money conditions against any material recovery. The soundness of the bond group was exemplified by the subscription, reported by bankers, of the $75,000,000 Argentine 6½ per cent and Tube 5 per cent issue.

Issues of Peruvian bonds was the feature of the day's trading, the 7 per cent issues selling at new highs at 3-8 and 107, respectively. Both of these securities was the result of reports that $10,000,000 of an authorized $15,000,000 Peruvian bonds would be sold within a short time. Foreign obligations were quiet but firm.

Weakness in the railway division appeared to seek out hitherto unnoticed issues which might be compared with the leaders. Issues of Great Northern 6's and Northern Pacific 4's were heavy. Bank outstanding bonds were firm, blind 4½'s and Erie 5's subject to moderate profit-taking.

Specialties attracted attention, Kennecott Copper Mining Corp. reached new high ground for the year on recent stiffening of copper. Barnsdall 6's, Dodge Brothers Kayser 5½'s were firm.

Miscellaneous issues sustained a reaction in two weeks but rubber issues were not numerous. Goodyear 5½'s were firmer.

The following report sales of bonds (to hundred and the high, low and closing prices for the day, together with the net change from the previous day's quotation. Only such issues are listed on which there were sales and those where the change is more than a point.

News of Spring Street

A. J. Schlosser, vice-president of the General Bond and Share Company of New York, left last week for the East following an extensive tour of Western and Pacific Coast States, where he completed arrangements with a number of Morris Plan banks to handle mortgages on owner-occupied homes in their territories. The mortgages will be made by the Morris Plan Homes Corporation and later used as collateral for bonds to be issued and sold by the General Bond and Share Company.

Joins Merchants' National

John Bonner Gladney, formerly a representative of F. W. Chapman & Co., in New Orleans, has become associated with the Merchants' National Company, investment arm of the Merchants' National Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles, it was announced yesterday. Mr. Gladney has had many years' experience in the bond business in the South.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the irritated membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory disease, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.—[Advertisement.

COUNTY AUDITOR CRIES "UNFAIR"

Grand Jury Unfamiliar With His Work, Says Payne

Inquisitorial Body Accuses Him of Extravagance

Controversy Follows Refusal to Honor Pay Roll

Coming back at the statement issued by the Los Angeles county grand jury yesterday charging excessive expenses in the County Auditor's department itself, County Auditor Payne last night accused the grand jury of drawing unfair comparisons and of being unfamiliar with the extent and operation of his department. The conflicting statements came on the heels of a controversy between the grand jury and the County Auditor which has been fomenting for more than a month. The differences of opinion were crystallized when County Auditor Payne refused to honor the pay roll of F. T. Ritter, grand jury auditor, questioning the legality of his claim and demanding an affidavit attesting to the legal nature of the audits which incurred the expenditure. He also questioned the expenditure of $36,765 by the grand jury for other audits and investigations.

At the same time Payne re-iterated in former statement that he will go before the Board of Supervisors, probably today, and ask that he be authorized to bring a civil action against the grand jury auditor demanding an accounting of all moneys spent for grand jury audits this year and of all claims submitted for this kind of work.

JURY'S STATEMENT

Commenting on the statements from the office of the auditor relative to the cost of the grand jury work during the present year, the grand jury authorized the following statement through Ellis Eagan, deputy District Attorney assigned as their adviser:

"It is true that the auditing costs have been greater than in preceding years. In Auditor Payne's own department the appropriation for salaries for the fiscal year 1927-28 was $370,970 as against $370,425 for the preceding year, a net increase for the year of $66,545.

"Also the work of the grand jury office has been greatly increased this year owing to the numerous complaints of taxpayers of the waste of public money in various departments, and when these complaints are received it is the duty of the grand jury to make a full and complete investigation of such departments. This can only be done by a very thorough audit.

MONEY SAVED

"The salutary effect of such an audit as we are making is best shown by the savings of the taxpayers' money that have been effected. Just mention a part of these: Through the grand jury audit the operating cost of the county museum were reduced many thousands of dollars a month after the audit and report of the jury was filed. Also in the outside relief department at least $15,000 to $20,000 a month saving was effected in overhead and in charity disbursements.

"The full reports on this work will confirm the facts and figures that we bear out this contention. We believe that when all the reports of the grand jury are given to the public the taxpayers will be convinced that every dollar we have expended has been well invested in resultant savings.

"In selecting Mr. Ritter as our auditor we turned down recommendations and suggestions coming from various public officials and selected him independently because we believed in his ability and integrity and we still believe in it. In the work he has done he has acted entirely under the instructions of the grand jury and its legal advisers, the District Attorneyand the presiding judge, and believe entirely in the scope of his authority.

INDULGENCE ASKED

"It is a significant fact which can readily be best explained by Mr. Payne himself that he paid the Auditing bills for auditing the museum, the coliseum relief and other departments without protest and only discovered that it was all wrong when his own department and himself were the subjects of our investigation and then an attempt was made to make a audit of that apparently impregnable front of the flood control department. We ask the indulgence of the public until all the facts and figures can be made public from our reports.

"LOS ANGELES COUNTY GRAND JURY.

(Signed)

"GEORGE H. WALLHAUS,
"FRANCIS H. GENTRY, Secretary."

County Auditor Payne declared the county already has spent $43,645 this year for its traveling auditors whose duties virtually are the same as the grand jury auditor's. He compares this figure with the $36,765 already

STAR QUITS POTBOILERS' PLAY COLD

But Those Who Went to See Him Remained to Root for Substitute

BY ALMA WHITAKER

Mr. Reginald Denny got peeved and quit 'em cold.

Dash it all, a star's a star, and the Potboiler amateur players mustn't forget it.

REGINALD DENNY

You see, Reggie volunteered to play the role of Capt. Edstatson in George Bernard Shaw's play, "Great Catherine," at the Gamut Club last night. The Potboilers were very pleased about it and said be might. He rehearsed and everything was going strong—until Reggie saw the playbills. Then he stood transfixed and aghast. Great Jehoshaphat, this would never do.

Dozens of words were in bigger letters than the name of Reginald Denny. Yes, sirs. Bernard Shaw's name, H. L. Mencken's name, Director Henry Kolker's name, Fritz Feld's name, the name of the two plays, the name of the theater, the date and everything, all set out in bigger type than "Reginald Denny," which was just listed in the same-size type as Hedwiga Reicher, Bert Sprotte and all the other players.

Reggie couldn't be expected to stand for that. So he haughtily withdrew. It was scandalous, insulting, preposterous and a lot of other things.

But fortunately for the Potboilers, their crime was not to damn them utterly. Young Gene Gowing hopped into the role at the last minute and did it corking well. The show was a raging success and everyone who had come to see Denny remained to root for Gene.

Louise Fazenda and Wallis Will Wed Tomorrow

Friends of Louise Fazenda, film actress, and Hal Wallis, stopped worrying yesterday when the couple announced the date of their marriage. They are to be married tomorrow at noon at their new home in the Wilshire district, they announced yesterday.

LOUISE FAZENDA

There has been growing consternation among their friends in the film colony of late inasmuch as Miss Fazenda and Wallis, director of publicity at the Warner Brothers' studio, filed their notice of intention at the local marriage license bureau more than three weeks ago.

Thanksgiving Day was decided on because this will be the first day in weeks in which Miss Fazenda will have a day away from her picture work.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast will be served. Miss Fazenda said yesterday the wedding will be a simple one with only immediate members of their families in attendance. They will not make plans for a honeymoon until Miss Fazenda completes a number of forthcoming productions.

Mercury Down to Low Record for Season

The lowest temperature of the season, 49 deg., was recorded yesterday at 7:45 a.m., by the United States Weather Bureau. Forty-nine and nine-tenths deg., is the November average minimum.

No rain was reported yesterday but heavy clouds hung low over the mountains, especially during the first part of the day. A clearing of skies with moderate temperatures is predicted by the Weather Bureau for today.

SONGS WILL RISE IN THANKSGIVING

City and Churches Observe Anniversary Tomorrow

Charities Will Remember Needy With Dinner

Services of Praise to be Conducted Everywhere

No school, no court, no bank, no store, no mail tomorrow, the 24th inst., Thanksgiving Day. It will be one more day of praise and joy for prosperous Los Angeles citizens who will be grateful for all that the city has to be thankful for this year.

Various charitable organizations, including the Salvation Army and the Midnight Mission, will see to it that every needy man, woman and child gets a first-class dinner.

Tomorrow's festivities will be marked by many interesting events in the world of sports, the main event being the football games at the Coliseum, beginning at 12:30 p.m., between Los Angeles High and Hollywood High teams and between the Occidental College and the Hawaiian University teams.

SONGS WILL RISE

Songs of thanksgiving will rise from hundreds of Los Angeles churches tomorrow at the services which will be attended by thousands of devotees of all religions and creeds. Early masses will be said, as usual, at all Catholic churches, and impressive programs have been arranged by the many Christian Science churches of Los Angeles.

Congregations of six liberal churches will conduct a union service at the First Unitarian Church tomorrow morning. An elaborate musical program has been arranged, the speakers including Dr. C. E. Nash of the First Universalist Church, Rabbi Herman Lissauer of Temple Emanu-El, Rabbi E. F. Magnin of Temple B'nai B'rith, Rabbi Isadore Isaacson of Temple Israel, Rev. E. Burdette Backus of the First Unitarian Church and Rev. T. C. Abel of the Hollywood Unitarian Society.

DISTRICT SERVICES

District Thanksgiving union services, arranged by the Church Federation of Los Angeles, will be conducted as follows:

Central District. In this district, including forty-three churches, the union service will be conducted at the First Methodist Church tomorrow at 10:15 a.m., with Dr. Herbert Booth Smith of Emmanuel Presbyterian Church presiding. The musical program will be under the direction of Frederick V. Evans. Invocation will be pronounced by Dr. Sanford MacDonald of the First United Brethren Church and Dr. W. S. Buchanan, president of the Church

Publisher Sued for $50 by Publicist

Seeking $50 damages, Miss Helen Unity Hunter, publicist of 434 Markham Boulevard, yesterday brought suit in Small Claims Court against Eugene V. Brewster, millionaire magazine publisher.

CORLISS PALMER

Miss Hunter charges she was retained by the plaintiff to publicize Brewster's wife, Corliss Palmer, in her film activities over a period of six months. But at the end of two and one-half months, Brewster dismissed her after paying $250 for the work, she said.

The publicity writer says Miss Palmer reaped the benefit of the advertising two weeks after her discharge and that she is entitled to $50 for the last half of the month.

Both sides were ordered to appear in Municipal Judge Sproul's court for trial on December 5.

PAINTINGS TO BE SHOWN

An exhibition of paintings by Carlo Westry, Italian painter, will be placed in the Hollywood Public Library December 19, next, it was announced.

CHEST MEN UNDAUNTED IN APPEAL

Smallest Sum for Any Day of Drive Received as Plea for Budget Goes On

Prospects that the Los Angeles Community Chest appeal might be closed the first week in December appeared less bright yesterday, when the smallest subscriptions of any day since the campaign opened were announced. As tabulated at Chest headquarters, 911 South Grand avenue, new collections amounted to $10,653, making the total in hand $2,340,224. This is 85.10 per cent of the minimum budget of $2,750,000.

That the remaining $409,776 ultimately will be raised, however, was said by Edwin A. Meserve, campaign chairman, to be certain. There is no thought of failure, he said, reiterating that if necessary the campaign will be continued "all winter."

Nine concerns yesterday reported subscriptions by employees 100 per cent or more of their quotas, making the total of such concerns to date 369. New reports are:

PLAY GIVEN ON JAIL ROOF

Hundred and Fifty Women Prisoners Treated to Performance by Theatrical Company

Spick and span in stiffly starched blue gingham aprons, 150 women inmates of the County Jail filed onto the roof of the Hall of Justice yesterday afternoon and for two and a half hours were transported to the Widow Cagle's cabin in the Carolina Mountains while Lucille La Verne and her company of players gave a special performance of "Sun-Up" for them.

Probably never before has Miss La Verne played to a more attractive or appreciative audience, which strained forward in its eagerness to catch every syllable and which laughed and cried with each changing mood of the play. Miss La Verne said she never had given a performance anywhere that thrilled her so much as this one.

HOW IT HAPPENED

It all came about because Miss Faith Chevalier, known as the "angel of the jail," was so impressed with the play when she saw it at a downtown theater that she went to Miss La Verne with the suggestion of giving it at the jail. Miss La Verne was delighted with the idea and lost no time in conferring with Mrs. Veda C. Sullivan, matron of the jail, and after obtaining the approval of Jailer Frank Dewar, preparations were begun at once for converting the roof of the Hall of Justice into a temporary theater.

The scenery for the play, the interior of the Widow Cable's cabin, was all made and painted by one of the men prisoners in the jail and after looking it over Miss La Verne declared that it put her own set to shame. Nothing had been overlooked even to a ham and a side of bacon hanging from the ceiling. A large white canvas arranged on pulleys and held taut by an iron pipe in its lower edge added the finishing professional touch in the way of a curtain.

MISS MACKAYE ATTENDS

One of the most interested among the spectators was Dorothy Mackaye, who, in her trim blue knee-length apron, sat on the front row of benches and apparently lost herself in the action of the play.

Another one of the spectators was the mother of five children who was discharged from the jail in the morning but who begged to be allowed to remain for the performance because she didn't know when she would have another such opportunity.

TALK TURKEY---PRICES SLUMP

Barnyard King Costs Less Than Last Year, But Fixings Are Higher, With Old Pumpkin Pie Only Dish On Menu That's Really Cheap

King Thomas Turkey, the only potentate whose reign begins after he has been beheaded, today enters on what well may be his last day. For a year he has been treated as belitted royalty and tomorrow he will pay the penalty.

For those who have not raised their own, the cheering news is broadcast that the king of the Thanksgiving Day table will be a trifle lower in price this year. The average price will be 55 cents a pound. In 1926, turkey averaged 58 cents a pound. The lesser monarchs of the table, geese and chickens, are retailing at about the same average as last year, 48 cents a pound. Ducks, 48 cents last year, have receded to 45 cents for tomorrow's feast.

Although turkeys are lower in price, "the fixin's" are just enough higher to make the city's Thanksgiving dinner cost about the same as last year. Only the old standby, the pumpkin, stands steady at 5 cents the pound. Cranberries have jumped from an average of 15 cents a pound to two pounds for 35 cents. Apples, selling at three pounds for a quarter last year, are now 10 cents straight. Celery has reversed the apple prices and is now retailing at an average of three pounds for a quarter, against 10 cents a pound last year. Mince meat, sold mainly in tins, has not varied in price.

Hotels and restaurants, anticipating an increase in trade tomorrow in spite of the fact that the "home dinner Thanksgiving" is the popular one, have stocked up on turkeys, ducks, and geese, and are advertising special dinners at special rates. Few huge dinners have been planned throughout the city, most of them being family affairs.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S ROW GIVEN TO GRAND JURY

Serious Charges Made by Ryan and Reply of Davis Face Inquiry; Keyes Out of City

Serious charges hurled yesterday against the District Attorney's office in general and Chief Deputy District Attorney Davis in particular in the resignation of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ryan, "stormy petrel" of the Aimee Semple McPherson kidnaping investigation, have been referred to the grand jury for its consideration, Davis announced last night.

Text of Letter Sent Keyes by Attorney Ryan

The letter of resignation written by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ryan, making sensational charges against Dist.-Atty. Keyes and Chief Dep. Dist.-Atty. Davis, follows:

Asa Keyes, District Attorney,
Los Angeles county.

Dear Mr. Keyes:

I wish to tender my resignation as a Deputy District Attorney of this county. I do not think that this will come wholly as a surprise to you, as you know, on August 29, 1927, I was transferred from Department 23 of the Superior Court where I was in charge of prosecutions. Mr. Harold L. Davis ordered me transferred when I refused to make a motion to release one Pete Speriko on his own recognizance. This refusal was based upon the previous criminal record of the defendant and on the record of the case involved. Speriko and his co-defendants, Arthur Guerra, and Frank Lopez, were accused of heinous crimes against a little girl 12 years of age. She was held by these men for immoral purposes with numerous sailors and fishermen of San Pedro. The child testified that these defendants received various sums of money for this nefarious traffic.

CITES ROBBERY CASE

In my years of trial work I have vigorously prosecuted all cases which involved crimes against women and little children. If fewer defendants were released on their own recognizance and on small bond, there would be less crime of this atrocious nature. My refusal in this case has been since upheld by these men pleading guilty and being sentenced to the State penitentiary

Another case where Mr. Davis wished to have a lesser plea was the case of People vs. K. W. Davis, charged with two counts of robbery. Mr. Harold Davis wanted to dispose of the case by accepting merely a plea of guilty to petty larceny on one count. I refused and this defendant, likewise, went to San Quentin for robbery. Mr. Davis later told me that he was a nephew of Tom Finn of San Francisco. His reason for this plea is obvious.

Another case was People vs. Charles W. Whyner, a widely known pickpocket, wherein I was instructed to take a plea of petty larceny when the man was guilty of a felony charge as well as a previous conviction of grand larceny and for which he had served a term in San Quentin. I would not take a lesser plea because the crime merited a penitentiary sentence. Had a plea of petty larceny been accepted the maximum term would have been only six months in the County Jail with opportunity of parole after three months.

SAYS MISPLEAS COMMON

In the case of H. J. Kimmerle charged with felonious assault on a man named Loeb, who lost an eye as a result of Kimmerle's attack, I refused to accept an order to plead this man to simple assault because it was a much more serious crime. Simple assault carries a maximum sentence of six months in the County Jail and also the right to parole after three months. Upon my refusal to accept the lesser plea he was tried before a jury, convicted and received a two-year sentence. This man was convicted previously for a similar crime.

From talks with other deputies concerning cases they have handled I could safely state that 75 per cent of the cases in the office are disposed of by accepting lesser pleas when the crime warrants more severe punishment.

A recent and more prominent case was the murder of Frederick A. Stern by Jacob Goldstein. A plea of manslaughter was accepted when the crime, from the facts, demanded a

"I have placed Ryan's resignation and my answer before the jury and told the members they can do as they wish," Davis said. Grand Jury Foreman Wallhaus intimated the matter will be given careful consideration.

Ryan threw the District Attorney's office into uproar yesterday morning when he addressed a letter to Dist.-Atty. Keyes in which he asserts he was approached by Davis and asked to handle some cases irregularly. Furthermore, his letter said, "I was not cognizant of the conditions prevailing in the office until your dismissal of the Aimee McPherson case."

DAVIS REPLIES

In the absence of Keyes, who is reported hunting in the mountains on a fourteen-day leave of absence, Davis retaliated to Ryan's charges with the statement that the young deputy prosecutor is fostering political ambitions to become District Attorney in event of Keyes's resignation.

Ryan opened his sensational attack with a charge that he was shifted from one court to another when he refused to accept the order of Chief Deputy Davis to make a motion for the dismissal of three men who were charged with a crime against a 13-year-old girl. They later pleaded guilty and were sentenced to San Quentin.

The second bombshell exploded by Ryan asserted that Davis wished to dispose of two counts of robbery against K. W. Davis by accepting a plea of guilty to one count of petty larceny. K. W. Davis, whom Ryan asserts is a nephew of Tom Finn, recently defeated for Sheriff of San Francisco, was sentenced to San Quentin.

TOUCHES JULIAN CASE

The Julian stock-fraud case bobbed up in the next citation in the letter of resignation. In the case of H. J. Kimmerle, charged with blinding A. M. Loeb, a Julian stockholder committeeman, in a fight, a plea of guilty to simple assault was sought, Ryan charges, but he refused and tried Kimmerle. He was convicted and sentenced to two years in the County Jail.

A lesser plea also was sought for Charles W. Whyner, a pickpocket, Ryan's letter of resignation declares. The deputy asserts he refused to submit to tactics which would place Whyner in the County Jail for a short period, subject to parole.

"From talks with other deputies concerning cases they have handled," Ryan wrote, "I could safely state that 75 per cent of the cases in the office are disposed of by accepting lesser pleas when the crime warrants a more severe punishment.

"When I came into the District Attorney's office I believed the District Attorney and his deputies to be mere representatives of the people.

"I was not cognizant of the conditions prevailing in the office until your dismissal of the Aimee McPherson case.

"My next doubt of your sincerity came when you ordered me to prosecute the case against the Board of Supervisors. I learned, after the dismissal of the charges, that you, knowing these men to be innocent of the charges and assuring them and their legal representatives that there could be no charges, filed against them, and instructed me to prosecute them. Ryan paid high compliment to the regime of Buron Fitts, former chief deputy, now Lieutenant-Governor, who is recuperating from an operation at the Lutheran California Hospital.

In answering Ryan, Chief Deputy Davis stated that Ryan, in conformity with the policy of the office, had been ordered to report for duty at Long Beach in connection with a campaign against bunco men. Aside from his letter Ryan declared the move a plot to "give me the air or something worse."

DAVIS HITS BACK AT RYAN

Gives Version of Deputy's Resignation and Charges Falsification in Regard to Cases

Answering the charges made by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ryan in his letter of resignation, Chief Dep. Dist.-Atty. Davis last night gave out the following unsigned typewritten statement through his secretary:

"Mr. Ryan's resignation followed an order issued for him to report to Dep. Dist.-Atty. McCartney, in charge of the District Attorney's office in Long Beach for duty, to assist him in conducting a campaign against bunco men. Mr. Ryan apparently dislikes this assignment.

SOUGHT PUBLICITY

"Some months ago the policy was inaugurated of transferring deputies at frequent intervals—every other deputy in the office has fallen in line with the policy except Mr. Ryan, who has sought to keep himself in the position where he could have cases with the most publicity and least work.

"A statement issued by Mr. Ryan in resigning relates, in the majority of instances, to cases which he did not handle or have any personal knowledge of, and he has not hesitated to falsify to facts in the cases he did handle, as can be established by the records in court.

"If Mr. Ryan were 'as burned up' as he appears to be about the way the cases he mentions were handled, he should have resigned long ago when they were an issue. His delay until he was disgruntled over the duty assigned him bespeaks his motive.

ASKED APPOINTMENT

"Mr. Ryan has been a candidate for District Attorney for some time past. Shortly after dismissal of the charges against the Board of Supervisors which Mr. Ryan was assigned to prosecute, he appealed to the Board of Supervisors to appoint him District Attorney in case Mr. Keyes resigned. Since that time he has devoted a large portion of his time to electioneering and publicity seeking in behalf of his candidacy. In the statement of cases Mr. Ryan handled, he has left out of consideration that which brought about his first enmity toward me, namely, the Stone case in which Mr. Ryan, while stating privately that he believed that Stone, whom he had assisted in prosecuting, should not receive the death penalty; only under the strongest pressure wrote the letter to Gov. Young publicly admitting his private conviction that the sentence should be commuted to life imprisonment."

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

I HAVE read this cable message from Berlin from the top down and from the bottom up; and the more I read it the less I understand it.

The Associated Press hurls across the sea the burning tidings that Berlin regards the play, "Chicago," as a satire on American justice and did not take it seriously.

Was Berlin expected to think of it as a treatise on the tariff, or as the best way to carve a Thanksgiving turkey; something to start another revolution, or destroy the tomb of Bismarck?

GEORGE WASHINGTON AGAIN

I positively and firmly refuse to get excited again over Maj. Rupert Hughes and George Washington.

I don't know how many volumes Maj. Hughes intends writing on the subject, but one can't stir up one's emotions afresh for each new volume.

The best way out of this frightful affair is to let everyone have his own George Washington. Those who prefer to think of him as a solemn gentleman who looked like those Gilbert Stuart portraits and better stay clear of Maj. Hughes. He likes his Washington as a gay dog.

The one thing that overwhelms everything else about Washington is that the writers of public-school histories could positively contrive to write so stupidly as to turn an interesting and colorful character into a solemn stuffed shirt who apparently did nothing but utter the kind of homilies that adorn copybooks.

WASHINGTON'S LOVE AFFAIR

The only interesting life of Washington I ever read was in manuscript form from the pen of Albert Shelby Levino of this city.

It relates very largely to Washington's hopeless love affair with Peggy Shippen—a wound from which he apparently never recovered—even after his marriage to the delectable Martha.

It was very interesting to read that, in those days, there were flapper young ladies who wore tight riding breeches when they rode to hounds—even as now.

WAR GAS

Europe is edging in toward another war. And if it comes, the patriots at home will not be as enthusiastic as in other wars.

If the new gas attack lives up to the plans, the safest place will be the trenches.

STARVING HERO

The trouble with the fervid war spirit of those of us who stayed at home is that it is a delicate flower which dies.

For instance, I know right here in Los Angeles one of the greatest heroes of the World War. He was decorated, I believe, by every Allied country. He had a collection of war medals that couldn't be all hung at the same time on his uniform.

He has been reduced to actual starvation in Los Angeles. He even tried to sell his war medals. One big-hearted Los Angeles man offered him $2 for the collection.

"Oh, it's 'Tommy this,' and 'Tommy that!'

And 'Tommy, wait outside.'

But it's 'special train for Atkins!' When the troop ship's on the tide."

LITERARY EXPLORERS

When the Arctic explorers begin sending movie subtitles down from the frozen north by radio, the thrill is all gone.

The old-time explorers went out of New York Harbor for a long mystery. They came back after five years with frozen limbs and shattered ships.

The Macmillan expedition sends back word that "the Arctic is under the mantle of the six months' night."

Van De Mark Murder Jury Discharged After Six-to-Six Deadlock

TALESMEN OUT TILL LATE HOUR

Half for Manslaughter on Last Ballot

Five Verdicts Possible in Shooting Case

Used Car Dealer Accused of Killing Party Guest

After they reported they were hopelessly deadlocked, six to six, the jury in the case of Arthur H. Van De Mark, charged with murder in connection with the slaying of H. C. Mitchell, was discharged at 10 o'clock last night without reaching a verdict. They had been out since court convened yesterday morning.

After the jury was discharged it was learned that of the six men and six women on the panel four men and two women had voted for a verdict of guilty of manslaughter on the last ballot while the other four women and two men were in favor of an acquittal.

FIVE VERDICTS POSSIBLE

The jury retired shortly after court convened yesterday with instructions to bring in one of five possible verdicts: Murder in the first degree without recommendation, which would carry the imposition of the death penalty; murder in the first degree with a recommendation of life imprisonment; murder in the second degree, carrying a prison term of from five years to life; manslaughter, carrying a term of from one to ten years, or acquittal.

No word was received from the jury throughout the day and it was assumed the jurors were experiencing difficulty in reaching an agreement on any of the charges.

Van De Mark, a used-car dealer of Inglewood, was accused of shooting Mitchell, a real-estate operator, following a party staged by Van De Mark in his home September 18, last.

FIRING DURING SCUFFLE

Van De mark, who appeared as a witness in his own defense, testified that he procured an automatic rifle to defend himself when Mitchell threatened him with a hammer. During a scuffle for possession of the gun, Van De Mark said, three or four shots were discharged from the weapon. Van De Mark denied that he shot Mitchell intentionally, or that he knew Mitchell had been wounded during the melee.

The State sought to show the case was one of outright murder and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Menzies, who prosecuted the case, asked for a death penalty. Van De Mark was defended by Attorney Jerry Geisler, who pleaded for an acquittal on the ground Van De Mark acted only in defense of himself and his property.

SPRAY-GUN REGULATION UNDER FIRE

State Commission Seeks Information Here on Use of Safety Measures

The fate of a new code of safety rules governing the use of spray-guns for painting, lacquering and enameling will be decided in Los Angeles on the 29th inst., at 10 a.m. when the California State Industrial Accident Commission will meet to conclude a hearing started in San Francisco yesterday which failed to result in a definite decision for or against the suggestions.

Strong opposition to the proposed safety rules was voiced at the San Francisco hearing by Christopher M. Bradley, representing the Bay City and Los Angeles business men engaged in the trade use of the spray-gun for painting. He charged that the proposals to force spray-gun users to wear a respirator or gas mask, rubber hood, jacket and gloves are so radical that they would threaten the industry.

Frankie MacDonald, representing the San Francisco Building Trades Council, upheld the proposed legislation, asserting that the spray-gun when not guarded against is a menace to the health and safety of the operator, exposing him to poisoning from gas and danger from fire.

Chairman John A. McGilvray continued the hearing to give the opposing factions an opportunity to obtain definite statistics regarding the asserted injurious effect of spray-guns. The commissioners are expected to investigate the matter before the next meeting.

TIRE EXPLOSION INJURES DRIVER

Rim of Wheel Hurled From Truck Striking Him On Head

The victim of a freak accident yesterday, R. N. Jackson, 40 years of age, a truck driver living at 164 Carleton street, Pasadena, is near death at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. He was struck in the head by an auto wheel rim when a large rear tire on his truck exploded as he was changing it at Sixty-third place and Vermont avenue.

The exploding tire, which carried about 170 pounds of air pressure, hurled the rim against his head, fracturing his skull, according to Police Surgeon Dorn. His condition is critical.

COUNTY AUDITOR CRIES "UNFAIR"

spent this year for grand jury auditors.

In capitulating the salary appropriation expenses of his department referred to as the grand jury statement, County Auditor Payne said that $148,290 of this sum was expended in the collection of delinquent taxes. For this reason, he said, the comparison is unfair.

LARGER STAFF NEEDED

Further, Payne pointed out, the constant growth of the county continually adds new and heavier duties for his department making a larger staff necessary to retain efficiency.

Among the duties of his department, Payne said, are the insurance and management of county property, keeping of accounts for all county departments, control of budget expenditures and preparation and auditing of all claims against county and city boards of education. There were 700,000 of these last year from 156 elementary and twenty-six high school districts. Other accounts kept are those of the flood control, thirty-five protection districts, sixty-two lighting districts, six sanitation districts, seven water improvement districts, and all accountings for 400 county improvement districts.

Referring to the intimation that he is endeavoring to block an audit of the flood control books, Auditor Payne declared he has no objection to the audit but he opposed it because he can not legally pay for such an audit out of county funds.

Fitts Recovery to Be Complete

Complete recovery of Lieut.-Gov. Fitts, operated on for the seventeenth time last week following a bad knee injury in the World War, was predicted by Dr. Francis L. Anton, his surgeon, last night.

"I think we've finally saved that leg," said Dr. Anton. "Lieut.-Gov. Fitts still has a little pain, but nothing like he had before. He will be out of the hospital for good, I hope, in about two weeks."

The product sounds a great deal like a brass band in the rendition of his "solos," the artist makes use of his lungs, legs, arms and an electric motor.

COURTESY URGED ON MOTORISTS

Reduction in Accidents to Follow Such Conduct, Sergeant Says

Closer observance of the rules of ordinary courtesy in motoring would result in a great reduction in the number of accidents on the road, Sergt. E. L. Johnson said yesterday in his traffic safety talk over Radio Station KHJ.

Motorists commit discourteous acts, such as cutting in ahead of other cars, refusing to pull over to allow machines to pass them from behind, and similar offenses which they would never dream of doing while afoot, he said.

ALIMONY SUIT PUZZLES COURT

Invalid Wife and Sick Mate in Contest

Mrs. Alice Leach and Two Children

ALTHOUGH Mrs. Alice Leach came to court in a wheel chair to fight for alimony from Dr. Lloyd Leach, once one of Hollywood's most prominent dentists, Judge Enge, who heard the proceedings, found it hard to decide which of the couple was in the direst straits.

Leach showed that he has been incapacitated and unable to work for a long time, because of ill health. Mrs. Leach is unable to walk.

Judge Enge yesterday made an order requiring Dr. Leach to pay to Mrs. Leach any income he may receive in excess of $75 a month. As Dr. Leach is not practicing, having leased his office to another dentist, the court further ordered that the community real estate be sold and the proceeds impounded pending further order. Dr. Leach is represented by Attorney Emil Koehl and Mrs. Leach by Attorney Frank Gray.

DAVIS ANSWERS RYAN'S CHARGES

the cases he mentioned were handled," Davis said, "he should have resigned long ago when they were an issue. His delay until he was disgruntled over the duty assigned him bespeaks his motive.

"Mr. Ryan has been a candidate for District Attorney for some time past. Shortly after dismissal of the charges against the Board of Supervisors which Mr. Ryan was assigned to prosecute, he appealed to the Board of Supervisors to appoint him District Attorney in case Mr. Keyes resigned. Since that time he has devoted a large portion of his time to electioneering and publicity seeking in behalf of his candidacy.

"In the statement of cases Mr. Ryan handled, he has left out of consideration that which brought about his first enmity toward me, namely, the Stone case, in which Mr. Ryan, while stating privately that he believed that Stone, whom he had assisted in prosecuting, should not receive the death penalty; only under the strongest pressure wrote the letter to Gov. Young publicly admitting his private conviction that the sentence should be commuted to life imprisonment."

RECALLS THREE CASES

"Supplementing my written statement," Davis said, "I recall but three of the cases mentioned by Ryan which were voluntarily brought to me by him and in which he asked my opinion, to which I replied the cases should be prosecuted only on the basis of the amount of guilt justified by the evidence. My recommendations were made openly and without personal knowledge of the defendants, but only upon evidence shown to me by Ryan."

Ryan sprang into prominence during the investigation of Mrs. McPherson's "kidnap" case. He conducted the investigation from the time she reappeared in the Sonora Desert and was responsible for bringing her to trial when he unearthed evidence at Carmel indicating she spent some time in a cottage there.

He obtained the first conviction recorded in the State entirely on finger-print evidence alone and other outstanding cases with which he was associated as prosecutor, include the Councilmen Downs and Fitzpatrick bribery trial, the J. K. Fronk embezzlement case, the Charles Seiber murder case, M. T. Layton, so-called "America's master forger," and Pedro Perez, the "Christmas tree burglar." He had been with the District Attorney's office for five years.

Atheistic Creed Declared Finding Way in Schools

Atheistic propaganda is finding its way into local schools, according to Joseph Scott, who spoke at a luncheon meeting of the Justinian Club at the Alexandria yesterday. The speaker also touched on Superior Judge Burnell's marriage plan in his address.

"While I do not care at this time to discuss Judge Burnell's suggestion," Scott said, "I want to say that I question the sincerity of men and women who espouse such plans. We are getting away from the foundations of our society."

The speaker then launched into an attack on "the clever, insidious propaganda of unbelief going through our schools and colleges. We have a philosophy coming into this nation which says," Scott continued, "that there is no God and no hereafter. When you get into the hearts of youth a rebellious spirit because there is no God in Israel, what is going to save us?"

RYAN'S LETTER OF RESIGNATION

conviction of first-degree murder.

When I came into the District Attorney's office I believed the District Attorney and his deputies to be mere agents and representatives of the people.

I was not cognizant of the conditions prevailing in the office until your dismissal of the Aimee McPherson case.

My next doubt of your sincerity came when you ordered me to prosecute the case against the Board of Supervisors. I learned after the dismissal of the charges, that you, knowing these men to be innocent of the charges and assuring them and their legal representatives that there could be no charges filed against them, instructed me to prosecute them. You, Mr. Keyes, and your chief deputy, Harold Davis, left for a trip to Chicago to avoid any unpleasantness arising from these circumstances.

I know of no case that could warrant criticism while Buron Fitts, now our Lieutenant-Governor, was Chief Deputy. During that time the regime of the office was one of honesty and integrity. I cannot say the same of conditions now. The office, which under the administration of Mr. Fitts, was a place where justice was meted out, has now become corrupt. The responsibility for this I place upon Harold L. Davis, chief deputy.

CHARGES DAVIS IN CONTROL

I believe were you in actual control of the office, Mr. Keyes, that the office would be known state-wide for its principles of justice and fairness instead of the reputation it now bears of corruption.

Knowing as I now do, the conditions which exist under the dominion of Mr. Davis, the actual District Attorney, I cannot remain in the office and keep the oath I took when I became a Deputy District Attorney, namely, to enforce the law without fear or favor.

In justice to the principles to which I adhere, it has become necessary for me to tender my resignation at this time which I wish to take effect immediately.

Very truly yours,
JOSEPH W. RYAN.

Local Police Snare Record Crop of Asserted Robbers

JAIL CROWDED WITH SUSPECTS

Thirty-two Held on Charge of Being Bandits

Brought Back to City from Dallas, Tex.

Women in Group That Faces Accusations

With the return to this city yesterday from Dallas of two women who have been identified as having taken part in two recent robberies and suspected of thirty more, Chief of Detectives Cline announced the police have in the City Jail thirty-two bandit suspects. The most of this number were gathered in from all parts of the city during the past week-end by detectives and members of the special crime division.

JOHN DUMAS

In an effort to connect the major-ity of the suspects held for investigation with recent robberies and burglaries a public show-up was ordered by Chief Cline for 2 p.m. today. Victims of hold-ups will be given an opportunity to observe the features and mannerisms of the suspects without themselves being seen by the suspects as the latter are passed through a show box.

LARGEST NUMBER

This is the largest number of suspects of violent crime we have had in the City Jail this season at one time," said Chief Cline, "and we expect there will be a great number of citizens on hand to co-operate with us in attempting to rid the city of this class of criminals."

The suspects arrested in the Texas trip brought back here yesterday by Detectives Lieutenants Doyle, Allen and Sergeants Dixon and Walker and Detectives Bet-tencourt, Berryman, Johnnie Green, Ruth-ven, Allen, Rosen-berg, Al Whiz-zen, David Judkins, Berryman is the son of age. Whizen 20 and Green 18 years of age. Suspected of having been with their companions, the girls were taken to the City Jail as their companions were held in the City Jail. Mrs. Whizen, under the name of Viola Thomas, was the object of many days' search by police for her association with numerous lo-cal crimes. She admitted she married Whizen in Dallas but a month before their capture.

LINKED TO BANDIT

Green, according to police records, was the partner of John Watnick, 23, who was shot and killed in the hold-up of an oil station at Wilshire Boulevard and Serrano street October 10, last, by Officer Whisman. He was traced to Dallas, according to police, after he had driven a stolen car from San Francisco. En route he stopped here at a garage formerly frequented by Watnick and it was because of this circumstance that he was identified as Watnick's partner.

CHARLES EATON

Brought back from Dallas in the same party are John Dumas, 19, and Charles Eaton, 18, arrested in Fort Worth on suspicion of grand theft. The pair rented an automobile and drove it through to Fort Worth, according to police.

Mrs. Whizen, according to Captain of Detectives Cato, has been identified as the woman who took part in the robbery of the Uptown Theater and Kessler's drug store here late in September. Miss Berryman is said to answer the description of a dark-haired woman bandit seen in numerous other robberies.

The quartet were returned here on grand-jury indictments. They will be arraigned today.

SOCIETY HEARS OF DEATH

Members of the Clearfield County (Pennsylvania) Society in Los Angeles will learn with regret the news of the death of Asbery Lee of Clearfield, Pa., on the 21st inst. Mr. Lee was a banker and lumber merchant and well known throughout the county. He was 86 years of age. Word of his death was received here by George R. Mokel in a telegram from the son, A. W. Lee, Jr.

CIVIL SERVICE DEFENDS TEST

Recent Examination Found to Have Been Regular

Commission Reports After Full Investigation

Character of Questions Up for Court Decision

After a lengthy investigation, the City Civil Service Commission yesterday adopted a resolution denying there were any irregularities in a recent examination for the grade of detective lieutenant in the police department.

In its findings, the commission did not pass on the merits or the character of the questions asked in the test but left that matter for a future decision to be handed down after a Superior Court ruling is had.

The examination was brought to the attention of the public when a number of the officers who failed to pass filed an action in the Superior Court charging that the questions were improper and did not test the candidates' ability. They also asserted that there were irregularities in the conduct of the test. The case has been submitted to the Superior Court and a decision is pending. The commission's investigation was on its own motion.

The resolution denies that any one taking the examination was not given an identification number in the usual manner; that any police officer or employee of the commission had previous knowledge of the questions to be asked; that there was anything that would enable the examiner to identify the particular person whose paper he was marking; that there were any changes in the marks. It is the commission's finding that the examination was honestly, fairly and impartially conducted.

Dinner Tendered Near East Aides by Backers Here

Members of the Near East Relief of Southern California and friends of the organization were present at a Golden Rule dinner and program last night at the Biltmore. The dinner, complimentary to the relief group, was under the supervision of the Southern California Golden Rule Committee, of which Police Commissioner Schweitzer is chairman. Chief of Police Davis was introduced as the honor guest at the speakers' table.

Following the dinner Chairman Schweitzer introduced Rt. Rev. W. Stevens, who presided and gave a brief talk on "The Golden Rule Idea." Music followed and the principal address of the evening which was given by George A. Miller, State director for the Near East Relief, who has just returned from an inspection trip through Greece, Palestine-Syria, Armenia and Russia. He gave his hearers an unusual story of the relief work now being carried on by the organization.

Specimens of the handwork of the refugees and orphans in linens, woven fabrics, pottery, Oriental rugs and jewelry of silver filigree were arranged for display in the lobby of the dining room.

SEWAGE CHANGE ORDERED

The State Bureau of Sanitary Engineering has recommended that arrangements be made whereby the City of Los Angeles receive sewage from the southeast portion of Vernon, the connection to be at Fifty-seventh street and Slauson avenue. The Council yesterday instructed the clerk to so notify the City Engineer.

AUTO APPROPRIATION ASKED

A request for $1544 for the purchase of a new automobile for the use of the general manager of the Humane Treatment of Animals Commission was filed with the Council yesterday by that commission. The matter was transmitted to the Mayor and Finance Committee.

MADE-OVER BATTLESHIP COMES HERE

Reconditioned New York Arrives Christmas Day to Join Pacific Fleet

The battle fleet will gain another dreadnaught on Christmas Day, when the U.S.S. New York, modernized at a cost of $3,500,000, arrives here from the Atlantic to become a unit of Battleship Division Three. She will sail from Norfolk for this base on December 2.

The New York and Texas, sister ships, were the only coal-burning battleships operating with the battle fleet and in 1926 were sent to the East Coast for modernization—receiving new oil-burning boilers, new fire-control systems and deck and hull protection making them the equal of any late superdreadnaught in defensive power.

The new 33,000-ton aircraft carrier Saratoga, to be stationed at Los Angeles Harbor after March, 1928, yesterday left the Brown-Boveri yards, her builders, at Camden, N. J., for the Philadelphia Navy Yard for final fitting-out before departing on her shake-down cruise.

The submarine tender Argonne and the three giant V-type submarines of Division Twenty are today scheduled to sail from the Canal Zone on the last lap of their 5500-mile journey here from the Portsmouth Navy Yard to join the battle fleet.

The fleet is at anchor this week for periodic overhaul and tomorrow all ships will declare a four-day Thanksgiving holiday, officers and men being granted unusual liberty and leave. All units likewise will remain at anchor next week for overhaul and communication tests. During the week of December 5 to 11, however, the battleship divisions will fire night battle practice "B."

Wife of Screen Man Gets Quick Action Over Suit

When Mrs. Mabel Kent, wife of Sidwell Raymond Kent, general manager of the Paramount-Famous-Lasky studios, greeted her husband on his arrival here from New York with a divorce summons, she precipitated quick action toward an early airing of their marital difficulties in open court.

This was learned yesterday when Gavin McNab, attorney for Kent, announced that the same evening Mrs. Kent was served with a summons to appear this morning at 10 o'clock at the office of Attorney Frank L. James for the taking of her deposition.

Attorneys McNab and James went into conference early yesterday with the studio chief to inspect the complaint and lay plans for their defense.

Neither McNab nor James would indicate whether Kent will enter a general denial and fight the divorce, or enter a cross-complaint and seek a divorce in his own behalf.

In her suit Mrs. Kent charges desertion and mental cruelty. She asks alimony of $5000 a month for herself and an additional $500 a month for their 10-year-old daughter, Peggy. She also asks attorney fees of $10,000. Her suit was filed by Attorney A. P. M Narian and recites that the couple were married in 1911 and separated in September, 1925.

PROTESTS DENIED ON FOUR STREET PLANS

THREE PAVING PROJECTS AND ONE FOR LIGHTS GIVEN COUNCIL SANCTION

The Council yesterday denied all protests and confirmed the assessments for the improvement of Kerckhoff avenue between Thirtieth and Thirty-fourth streets, the improvement of Kingsley Drive between Tenth and Eleventh streets, and the lighting of Olive street between Fifth and Seventh streets.

The confirmation of the assessments for the Seventh and Bixel streets improvement district was continued until December 6, and the opening and widening and extending of Flower Drive between Thirty-seventh Place and Thirty-eighth street was postponed until January 6.

LIGHT PETITION REFERRED

Installation of a lighting system on Echo Park avenue between Bellevue avenue and Temple street has been petitioned of the Council and yesterday was referred to the Board of Public Works and the Traffic and Lighting Committee.

TROY LAUNDRY THE BEST

Capitalize on Your Experience as a Housewife. Get in touch with TROY LAUNDRY today!

Housewives of Los Angeles have a chance for eight days more to make money out of what has always been regarded as household drudgery—the family washing.

A great list of prizes ranging from $10,000 to $100, and 1200 other awards, are being offered for the best letters on "Why the Laundry Should Do My Washing."

Your experience may sum up exactly the reason why thousands of women have turned to laundries for a solution of this ever-present problem. You may win the $10,000 cash prize.

In your letter, however, you must include not only your own thoughts but a full understanding of better laundry service—why laundry-washed clothes are cleaner, more sanitary, longer lived and less expensive.

This you can learn from Troy. Troy Laundry has been serving the people of Los Angeles since 1889. Many of the oldest and most prominent families have been entrusting us with their most precious things for twenty years continuously. Outstanding service causes people to say "Troy Laundry the Best."

Send your bundle this week to Troy. Ask our driver to explain Troy service. Arrange, if possible, to go through the Troy plant. For only by studying the scientific methods; modern equipment; clean, airy workrooms and humanized services of this great organization can you get the proper inspiration for your best letter-writing effort. HAS THE STUFF

Men who are suing Henry Ford for $6,000,000 have at least the satisfaction of knowing that a judgment is worth something. Some litigants are not so fortunate.

FAIR ENOUGH

Anyhow, the Supreme Court in Mexico is disposed to be considerate of the rights of actual investors. The oil magnates may have a run for their money; and it need not be toward the border.

LOOKING BACKWARD

The world's earliest effort in making a dictionary was in Nineveh, 2700 years ago, but there isn't anything in it about a garage or even an electric belt. At that time there wasn't a telephone directory in all Assyria.

NO MORE WRESTLING

Soviet Russia has abolished wrestling tournaments as "too brutal." But it isn't too brutal to tax peasants to the point of starvation or to line up a dozen or so dissenters to Communism in front of the firing squad.

FLYING DOWN

Ruth Elder appears to have taken up aviation for the purpose of going into vaudeville and the movies. Instead of starting at the bottom and going up she elects to begin at the top and work down. After the first week she will have to pay for her press notices.

DANCE IN CHURCH

A Pittsburgh church is establishing a dancing school. All the new steps will be taught and proper music will be provided. The young folks will dance anyhow and if it can be done in an orderly and respectable environment it may be better than to take chances with the mob.

THE SIMPLE LIFE

According to a Washington gossip the President has said that at the expiration of his term he will go back to Vermont and whittle for a year or two. Now if only certain Senators would agree for the next four years to say nothing and saw wood the country might be reconciled to the President's decision.

NATIVE POLITENESS

According to a correspondent the white badge of politeness and courtesy should go to a Japanese youth who was struck and knocked down by a motor car near the Plaza. One of the wheels passed over his toes and the woman driving the car—who was hardly to be blamed for the accident—shed a few tears in sympathy as she paused by the lad. At this the youth came to his feet and graciously murmured: "Thank you to most honorable lady for cries about most worthless foot, but I have another one."

SECRET DIVORCE

Since the passage of the English law forbidding newspapers to publish reports of divorce proceedings except in bare outline there has been a great rush to the London divorce courts, which is causing concern in King George's realm. The idea of the anti-publicity law was to clear the journals of unsavory details. So far as these details are concerned the law has had that end, but it has resulted in what is still worse, the multiplication of those seeking to untie the nuptial knot, but who were previously deterred because of publicity.

DECLINED WITH THANKS

Gov. Smith does not seem willing to break bread with the propunents of the Jackson Day dinner at the national capital. It is billed as a harmony feast, but New Yorkers have a suspicion that the harmony means the elimination of their favorite son. The leaders want to catch the Governor at the table and work on his good nature. Gov. Smith has never yet announced his actual and active candidacy for the nomination, but that does not prevent his name being away out in front. His enthusiastic friends do not propose to permit his inveiglement into a withdrawal in the interest of harmony. They prefer a fight to harmony of that pattern.

DEAD SEA RICHES

Palestine, a miserably poor country, may yet become rich by means of the exploitation of the great potash beds along the Dead Sea and in its heavy brine. The simplest way to produce the potash has been found to be by pumping it ashore. This strange body of water is more than 1000 feet below the level of the Mediterranean Sea, and the valley in which it lies is one of the hottest places in the world. The British concessionaries have paid over the first deposit on the deal and say they will see it through, climate or not climate. They have figured it out that potash can be so cheaply produced on the shore of the Dead Sea that its price on board the steamer at Jaffa is still competitive after four handlings. As the world's agriculture needs all the potash that can be produced, it is believed that the enterprise will be a profitable one.

GET THE FACTS STRAIGHT

The trouble at the coal mines in Weld and Boulder counties, Colorado, is not and never has been properly designated. It is called a strike or industrial dispute; in fact, it is riot and insurrection, promoted by the revolutionary Communists of the I.W.W. It has been an outlaw movement from the start, and had it been dealt with at the start as such it could not have reached the stage in which State police, for their own protection and that of the property in their charge, were forced to fire into a charging mob and cause several deaths.

Nothing that Colorado law could recognize as a strike occurred at the mines What happened was that some men at a few mines, prompted by I.W.W. agitators, quit work without stating any grievances or making any demands, and that the more disorderly of these, together with hundreds of imported Wobblies, who were not miners and had no personal interest, attempted to prevent other mines not involved in the matter from operating. It was nearly a week before any demands were formulated, and these were purposely made so absurdly high as to prevent even the thought of acceptance. The State's arbitration board declined to attempt mediation under such circumstances.

News dispatches which speak of these outlaws and would-be revolutionists as "miners," "pickets" and "strikers" are obviously misleading. One news agency with radical leanings sponsored an account which described an advance of "500 pickets" upon the Columbine mine, apparently trying to give the color of legality to their action in making an invasion of private property, armed with clubs, stones, knives and probably other dangerous weapons. Legal picketing consists of one unarmed man at each mine entrance, and no more.

Even the radical dispatches admit that before the State police fired into the mob, they exhausted every other means of quelling the disturbance, and that the mob continued to advance, showering the officers with missiles.

Under the circumstances, what is virtually martial law was proclaimed none too soon by the Colorado Governor. His employment of the State's military forces is for the purpose of suppressing a political revolt, for which the industrial basis is a mere excuse with no foundation in fact.

Clear realization that the I.W.W. is not a labor organization in any true sense of the word, but a political organization seeking the overthrow of all American institutions by force, caused California some years ago to place a ban upon it that drove Wobblies from the State. The ban has been maintained in spite of agitation for its removal by sentimental pinks and amateur Bolshevists. The Colorado riots emphasize the wisdom of that course, and prove that Colorado will not have tranquillity until she takes similar steps. They also show the wisdom of the Governor of New Mexico in sending a military force to guard the State's border and prevent an invasion of the New Mexico mining district.

The Colorado affair cannot be camouflaged. The so-called "strike" leaders seek not more wages or better working conditions, but revolution and political dictatorship. They are trying by force and violence to make Colorado into a miniature Russia.

RACE SEGREGATION

In deciding a race segregation case arising in Mississippi the Supreme Court has gone further toward settling one of the vexed problems of cities than by the mere decision of the case at bar. The court ruled that Martha Lum, daughter of an American citizen of Chinese descent, was not denied the equal protection of the laws in being refused admittance to a school maintained only for Caucasian children. So long as the school facilities offered her were equal to those provided for Caucasian children, the court held, she was not injured nor discriminated against to her detriment.

In deciding the case the court referred to the "Jim Crow" laws which it has heretofore upheld, and thus apparently broadened the basis of the decision so that it seems to cover any sort of reasonable segregation that may be made.

That race segregation in cities is desirable and necessary has long been felt by the thinking men of all the races represented. Segregation plans are not predicated upon the assumption that any races are either superior or inferior, but upon their irreconcilable differences, making them as impracticable of mixture as oil and water. Most States already have laws prohibiting the intermarriage of different races. These laws are based upon recognized biological principles and experience and upon the natural pride which wishes to retain racial integrity.

More than mere prejudice is thus involved when neighborhoods resent an invasion of a different racial group, more than the possible depression of property values which follows the invasion. Such invasions lead at times to breaches of the peace and even to race wars, and may result in lasting harm of many sorts. Segregation serves to avoid these difficulties, benefiting all alike. That the race problem has not been even more acute is due to the fact that segregation, extralegal but fairly effective, already exists.

The Supreme Court's opinion points the way to making it still more effective. So far segregation depends largely upon private agreement, and private agreements sometimes break down when they are submitted to severe strain. It will be better all around when they can be given legal backing.

POWER BOOK-KEEPING

City Controller Myers, after a long tangle with the auditing department of the Bureau of Power and Light, has finally forced the adoption of a system which he says is fairly satisfactory in that it will safeguard, to some extent, transfers of funds and will give reasonable assurance that the proceeds of bonds voted by the electorate for new construction will be used for new construction only and not for operating expenses such as repair and maintenance.

Prior to July 1, as nearly as a layman can understand the so-called book-keeping system then in use by the Power Bureau, funds realized by the sale of bonds were placed in the power revenue fund, from which bills were paid for pay rolls and material, with no special attention paid to whether the work done was repair or new work. Thus a construction gang might work half a day on maintenance and half a day on construction, with the entire pay roll met from bond funds.

It appears that under the system now in use all bills for material and pay rolls, whether for maintenance or construction, are met from the power revenue fund, but an attempt is made to segregate and classify the bills, and the fund is reimbursed from the bond fund for expenditures chargeable to new construction.

Perhaps the Controller can understand why it is necessary to go around Robin Hood's barn with the money in this manner, but most people would consider it simpler to keep the funds entirely separate; to put into the power revenue fund only receipts from the sale of electricity; to take from it only operating expenses; to use the bond money for construction only. It would then be possible for anyone not an expert accountant to discover whether the Power Bureau really has any surplus revenues or is running in the red.

So long as these complications are continued, most people will suspect that they are maintained with intention to confuse, and that the last thing the Power Bureau wants is for anybody to find out whether or not it is making a profit.

FAIR PLAY WINS

Retirement of the Foundation Company of America from the construction work on the plant of the Goodrich Rubber Company here represents a victory for fair play and industrial peace, and for the continuation here of the American Plan principles which have been the upbuilding of Los Angeles. The Foundation Company was placed in a dilemma by a demand that it either enforce the closed shop on the Goodrich job, or face the possibility of sympathetic strikes against its work in other cities. But for the intervention of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association and the strong stand taken by the Goodrich company, several hundred free workmen might have been deprived of employment as a result of this union plot.

The Foundation Company, by relinquishing its contract, has saved itself trouble elsewhere and at the same time has had an object lesson which may cause it to be more cautious in the future about the agreements it makes with unions. Los Angeles workmen, also, have had an object lesson of the protection the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association is able to afford them against unfair and un-American tactics.

A few open-shop carpenters, who paid union agents for "working permits" under the false representation that they would be discharged if they did not, now realize they were made victims of trickery and will be on guard in the future. Prosecution of some of the union agents for larceny or extortion would seem to be indicated.

The trouble at the Goodrich plant was the first fruit of the American Federation of Labor convention here, and was hatched behind the scenes while speakers on the stage were making a great parade of devotion to principle. The practices of the organization, however, turn out to be the same old mixture of chicane, fraud and threats of violence.

MARRIAGE STATISTICS

Recent reports of the Department of Commerce show that marriage is not going out of style. In 1890 out of all the males over the age of 15, the married numbered 53.9 per cent; in 1900, 54.5 per cent; in 1910, 55.8 per cent; in 1920, 59.2 per cent. Among every 1000 males over the age of 15 the number of husbands has increased by fifty-three in thirty years.

The prosperity of the country has not seemed to be a deterrent to matrimony. In spite of the growing economic independence of women and the fact that young folks are marrying at a later age, more marriages in proportion to population are occurring.

Even though more women work for a wage outside of the home and fewer females, therefore, enter matrimony merely for a living, yet in 1890 the single women formed nearly 43 per cent of all women over 15 years of age. In 1920 the number of single women had fallen to 27.3 per cent.

Students of conditions offer many explanations. Either the accepted impression of the retardation of marriage is wrong, or this retardation does not mean the abandonment of hymeneal vows. It seems to be that both men and women wait until they have received an education or competence and then marry faster than ever. The wife helps to contribute to the family budget.

The economic independence of women is not discouraging matrimony. Ten women are full-fledged partners in Wall street financial houses. A woman is president of the Louisiana Railway and Navigation Company. A woman runs the Lincoln (Neb.) Automobile Club. Two hundred female bank executives attended the American Bankers' Association at Houston, Tex., recently. One hundred and twenty-two women are in thirty-four State Legislatures. Four women will sit in the seventieth Congress. Ten women government employees at Washington receive $5000 a year or over. Sixteen thousand Federal employees at Washington are women. And yet there are fewer single women today than three decades ago.

DISTORTION

The private war of the Chicago Mayor against the English Georges would be a thing of jest and sport were it not for the fact that the ultimate purpose is to turn the educational machinery of a great city into the keeping of political demagogues. Some of Mayor Thompson's supporters attempted to bolster his feud by giving pretended quotations from some of the school histories in use in Chicago. It was said that the home of the Boston patriots was described in the words: "The capital of Massachusetts was the seat of vulgar sedition." The patriot leader was mentioned in these terms: "George Washington was a tyrant, despot, dictator and the stepfather of his country."

It must be conceded that all this sounds rather harsh and upon it Big Bill rested much of his argument that British propaganda was trying to undermine the schools of America. A little research, however, shows that the politicians are using the ancient trick of picking out a word here and there to make a quotation of their own. What the book of history really says is: "To the eyes of King George the capital of Massachusetts was the home of vulgar sedition." This places an entirely different construction upon the phrase and one to which no student of any country could take exception. What the work says about Washington comes in this form: "The press on both sides became coarse and abusive. Washington was reviled in language fit to characterize a Nero. 'Tyrant,' 'dictator' and 'despot' were some of the epithets hurled at him. He was called the 'stepfather' of his country."

Nothing here to which any American could raise any objection. Merely a brief recital of some of the calumnies heaped upon the patriot by his active enemies in the press. The way these words are butchered and distorted shows the fraudulent and disreputable methods used to bolster the ravings of a blatant demogogue.

ALWAYS SOMETHING

It's a mighty discontented man who can't find something to be thankful for in this gladsome year.

INSPIRATIONAL VERSE

By James J. Montague

Keep your eye on the clock, never toil after hours,
You will not find in history's pages
That Napoleon wasted his wonderful powers
In working for miserly wages.
Tell the boss that you know when you've done a day's work,
Observe with a brave, manly sneer—
"This isn't the country of Kemel, the Turk Mussolini ain't running things here."
I know a young fellow who made this remark,
I met him today on a bench in the park.

Look out for yourself, let the boss do the same,
Be peppy and full of ambition
If he wants you to take a real part in his game,
He must give you a better position.
Walk up, with a businesslike frown on your face
And say you are working for cash,
And if you can't get it you'll throw up your place
And let the whole works go to smash.
I know a young fellow who spoke in this style—
He hasn't been working for quite a long while.

Complain if the boss has an automobile
While you have to ride in a flivver,
Declare he must give you a much better deal
Or you certainly will not deliver.
Make a row every time some one else gets a raise,
Say you only are there for the pelf,
Say you never can live on a few words of praise
And could use some more money yourself.
I know a young fellow who spoke in this way,
He asked for the loan of a quarter today.

THE AMERICAN MERCHANT MARINE

BY ARTHUR FREE

(Congressman, Eighth District, California, Ranking Republican member of House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries.)

Seventy years ago the United States divided honors with Great Britain as mistress of the sea. Today the United States would be in fourth or fifth place but for its coastwise trade. Last year Italy built more ships than we did, and such small countries as Norway, Spain and Holland are running us a close race in deep-water commerce. It is a sad commentary on our conception of what is essential to natural progress and welfare when we permit impoverished Germany to outstrip us in shipbuilding.

What are the reasons why our country, the richest in the world and with a vast ocean-going commerce, does not occupy a place of greatness on the sea?

One reason is, of course, that we have not been a ship-minded people. With vast inland resources to develop, we have not turned to the sea either for a livelihood or as an outlet for business and industrial enterprise. We may not be able now to persuade our youth to turn to the sea for an occupation, but nevertheless we must, in every possible way, educate our people to the nation's great need of a strong, healthy American merchant marine both to carry our goods to the markets of the world and to aid our national defense in time of emergency.

Another reason why we do not occupy the place we should on the sea is because Congress has not materially aided the proper development of an American merchant marine. Having imposed on American shipowners and operators conditions, with respect to the building and operation of ships, with which foreign owners and operators do not have to comply, we have failed to provide aids and awards to counterbalance those conditions. Moreover, by permitting the government to remain in the shipping business, we have made it extremely difficult and hazardous for the private American shipowner or operator to continue in business at all.

I believe in a strong American merchant marine, privately owned and operated. Private endeavor has developed virtually every great American resource and enterprise. Private endeavor made America great on the sea once. It can do so again if our government will not improperly interfere; and if, when it exacts conditions of the American shipowner which his foreign competitors do not have to meet, it will grant aids and awards to compensate for those conditions. I am strongly in favor of government loans at very low interest for the building of American ships, and of long-term mail contracts between the government and our ships. We can hardly expect American business men to put their money into shipbuilding and operation with the threat of government competition such as the Panama Transport Service and Army Transport Service continuing; nor to compete, without government aid, with foreign ships which have such aid from their governments. But let the government get out of the shipping business, and let Congress grant, wherever necessary, that aid which other nations generously give their shipowners and operators and we will get an American merchant marine that will put the United States in that position on the sea, where, by virtue of its wealth, its great commerce, and the considerations of its present and future security, it belongs.

THE BLUE DEVILS

During the fighting in the Vosges in the World War the French soldiers belonging to the Chasseurs Alpins were nicknamed "the blue devils" by the Germans because of their blue uniforms and dashing attacks. The phrase "blue devils" is applied to mental depression, despondency, morbid melancholy, or even delirium tremens. For instance, William Cobbett wrote: "It was just the weather to give drunkards the blue devils." James Robinson Planche, in "King Christmas," says: "There are blue devils which defy blue pills."—[Pathfinder.

William Shakespeare is credited with having written thirty-four plays in all, counting as one Henry IV, which is in two parts, and Henry VI, in three parts.—[Liberty.

LETTERS TO The Times

[Name and address of writer must accompany all letters for this column. Letters of a personal nature or involving contentious religious questions are not acceptable.]

Exceedingly Helpful

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Upon my return from attendance at the peace officers' convention at Sacramento my attention was directed to an article appearing in your paper in your night edition Wednesday night and the Thursday morning paper. The article was accompanied by a conspicuous headline. It covered the story of the shooting of the "Lone Wolf Bandit," by Capts. Cahill and Pruitt.

I write to express my appreciation of the prominence then given to the effective police work done in this case. News handling of this description which gives much more prominence to the story of effective police action in dealing with the crime situation than is given to the perpetration of the crime itself seems to me to be most desirable and commendable. Many crimes would not be committed if the criminals felt fairly certain that they could not "get away with it." Crime stories that tend to convey an impression that crime pays and that the criminal escapes punishment do a great deal of harm. On the other hand stories that emphasize the nonpaying character of criminal life are exceedingly helpful to the community.

I desire to thank you most heartily for this particular story and the prominence given to it.

JAMES E. DAVIS,
Chief of Police.

By Decree of New York

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] When the thermometer registers 90 degrees in the shade my conscience tells me that I should wear my straw hat. I tried it the other day, and in walking down Broadway I caused so much commotion and excitement that I did not have the temerity to attempt it again. My horrified friends informed me that in New York, fashion decrees that no straw hat shall be worn after September 15, and all men in Los Angeles are supposed to be bound by this decree. My friends inform me that although there are many days in the winter season when a straw hat would be the only comfortable head piece, yet any Angeleno would be taking his life in his hands if he dared to violate this New York mandate.

"They Also Serve . . ."

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 16.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Have you not noticed the P. E. signs, "Ride the big red cars," "Read as you ride!" "Get your education as you go to work," and so on? Why of course you have; and the best of it is that it can be done. This morning I read about half of a book entitled "The Hard-Boiled Virgin," while sitting in one of those big red cars at the subway, waiting for it to get started, and the other half as we poked along the boulevard.

RIPPLING RHYMES by Walt Mason

THE CRIME FAD

We must have a volume thrilling for the cozy inglenook; so each old and recent killing is worked up into a book. "Bring me here a tale of slaughter, something that will raise my hair," says Tired Father to his daughter, when he takes his easy chair. Authors of the highest standing grind out tales of blood and dole, for the people are demanding stories that will jar the soul. Hands that might be busy waking to high strains the living lyre, in the museum are raking through old yarns of murder dire. All the old historic killers come in grave clothes from the tomb, that the folks may have their thrillers in the den or sitting room. Killers who would be forgotten, sleeping where the dun grass waves, fully punished, hanged and shotten, must come forth from dusty graves; men who died for robbing stages in the dim and musty past, must disport in foolish pages while the murder fad shall last. Old Doc Crippen doubtless figured that he'd be forgotten soon; "And," he muttered, "I'll be jiggered if that will not be a boon. All I ask is just to perish, be forgotten by the race; where the lights are bright and garish I would have no part or place." But a hundred scribes are telling of the Old Doc every day; in cold print his fame is dwelling, with no symptoms of decay. Charlie Peace and Deacon Brodie and a thousand who were swung, form a sort of mental toddy for us when the night is young. "Bring me something raw and bloody," says Tired Father to our aunt—he who once desired to study works by Spencer, Marx or Kant.

PLACE FOR COSMETOLOGISTS

The doctors insist that they wish only to protect the public against unlicensed persons dabbling in medicine, and against dangerous drugs. Dr. G. M. MacKee of New York says: "There is a place for the cosmetologist. He does a lot of things that the dermatologist does not care to do." Cosmetology is really "a neglected stepchild of dermatology," according to Dr. E. B. Tauber of Cincinnati. The dermatologist takes care of the abnormal skin and restores damaged tissue. The cosmetologist gives attention to the fairly normal skin. Urging that cosmetics be placed as a definite branch of dermatology and taught in the medical schools, Dr. Tauber believes that the medical profession can "make the world safe for cosmetology."

The trouble is that there are all breeds of skin specialists, many of them not licensed as physicians, and calling themselves "beauty specialists," so that their quackery brings discredit not so much upon the medical profession as upon the beauty business.—[Woman's Home Companion.

THANKSGIVING HABIT

BY LANNIE HAYNES MARTIN

We are often embarrassed when a person heaps excessive thanks upon us for something which we have done for them, and when we are most deeply grateful we express it in other ways than in giving loud hurrahs. Gratitude makes a sort of glad melody in the heart which is best expressed in deeds and words of kindness.

Genuine gratitude is not just a one-day, flash-in-the-pan emotion. It is a permanent, dynamic, all-pervading force which has as much to do with man's happiness, success and adjustment in the general scheme of things, as any mental faculty he possesses. It is well to be grateful for food, such a state of mind aids digestion, but a person does not eat merely to be a well fed, physically content animal.

A man is fed that he may work, and it is the normal man, loving his work, his trade, profession, who has been for a time deprived of that work and then had it restored to him who is the most humble thankful person on earth. And that is what America has to be most thankful for—the privilege to do the thing we want to do, and for which we should give thanks with every breath we draw.

Can an artist paint his picture unless he has the calm, the peace which law and order bring? If he thinks an anarchist's bomb is going to shatter his studio window will he draw with a sure and masterful hand? With the unrest of war, revolution and the experimental adjustments which follow such cataclysms, ambition, energy and persistent effort die, and it is to the security that our country gives us that we owe the measure state we call happiness.

For, to the normal adult, happiness does not consist in exciting diversions, sports, recreation, fun, but in expressing one's self through some kind of constructive occupation, and here, to a great extent, we may all choose our work and carve out our own destiny with whatever tools we may fancy. The right to work, the opportunity to receive recognition and compensation for our labor, this is the thing for which we should give thanks every day, every hour of our lives, for that habitual attitude brings success.

TRADE DIRECTOR SOLD ON FUTURE

Dr. Julius Klein Points Out Business High Spots

Proper Distribution Held Vital to Industry

Commerce Expert Addresses Two Meetings Here

Confirming the optimistic outlook of Los Angeles business men, Dr Julius Klein, director of the United States Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, in addresses at the Alexandria yesterday noon and again last night told several hundred representative citizens that "American business was never more dynamic and volatile than it is today."

DR. JULIUS KLEIN.

Dr. Klein was guest of honor yesterday noon at a luncheon given in his honor by the Chamber of Commerce and last night at a banquet at the Alexandria given by the Foreign Trade Club of Los Angeles.

"Progress of American business since 1921 is marked by a series of monuments of which me may be proud," said Dr. Klein.

CAUSE OF FAILURE

"There have been failures, of course," continued the speaker. "One of the major causes of mortality in modern business is lack of intelligent buying and selling. For the maintenance of stability in industry and commerce an outstanding need is the spread of applied research in marketing. However, the most pressing problems of American industry today are those relating to distribution. Manufacturers, as a class, are devoting too little attention to the distribution phase of their business."

"In spite of weaknesses and drawbacks, the general situation has changed for the better since 1921," continued Dr. Klein. "An outstanding example is the motion-picture industry. The post-war era has revolutionized its practice and technique, to say nothing of the vast capital investment, which runs in excess of $1,500,000,000 in picture theaters alone. This sum will be increased during the coming year by more than $300,000,000."

Turning to foreign trade and recalling the after-war prophecies that we would soon be overwhelmed in every one of our oversea markets by an avalanche of returning European competition, Dr. Klein declared that experience has belied such gloomy forecasts.

EXPORTS GROW

"Even at the bottom of the pit, in 1922, our exports were greater than before the war, both in value and volume," he said. "They averaged about $2,130,000,000 a year during 1910-14 and exceeded $3,830,000,000 in 1922. Exporters have climbed with surprising speed, having increased their oversea sales by more than $1,000,000,000 during the last five years, in the face of harassing competition in the shape of depreciated European currency and labor costs."

In his address before the Foreign Trade Club, Dr. Klein said the trade outlook for the Pacific seaboard of Latin America, from Lower California to Cape Horn, "presents that most fascinating of commercial problems for the enterprising American merchant."

EVE OF NEW ERA

"Peopled with descendants of the world's oldest civilizations, this truly majestic coast, comprising every variety of climate and resources, stands today on the eve of a new era," said the speaker. "In 1913 the total imports into this vast area, with its population of 40,000,000, were valued at $350,000,000, of which the United States supplied about 32 per cent. In 1925, total imports into Pacific Latin America reached $635,300,000, of which $315,600,000, or approximately 50 per cent, came from the United States.

Dr. Klein voiced appreciation of the fact that "in spite of troubled times and business interruptions," our exports to Mexico, which amounted to only $48,500,000 in 1913, had reached $138,000,000 in 1926.

CUPID NAILS SCREEN PAIR ACROSS LINE

Lori Bara and Ward Wing Fall Victims to Archer on Trip to Tia Juana

Lori Bara, film actress and sister of the once-famous screen vamp, Theda Bara, was married yesterday in Baja California to Ward Wing, scenarist and gag man, at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio.

News of the marriage was contained in a brief message sent to the studio by the couple from Tia Juana, Mex. The message read:

"Married in Mexico today. Lori and Ward."

More than once Miss Bara and Wing have vehemently denied they were engaged and rumors went so far as to have them married, on several occasions.

Miss Bara, who recently toured Europe with Miss Norma Talmadge, has appeared in many recent pictures in Hollywood.

Wing is widely known in the industry as a comedy constructor. He wrote the comedy gags of "Rookie" and a number of other pictures, his latest work being in a comedy directed by Robert Z. Leonard.

The couple are expected by their friends to return to the film colony shortly.

TURKEY DAY JAIL TERMS GIVEN TWO

San Dimas Man Gets Sixty Days for Drunk Driving; Speeder Also Sentenced

Two traffic violators will spend Thanksgiving Day in the City Jail as a result of being sentenced yesterday by Municipal Judge Valentine in the City Traffic Court.

Ira D. Honeyman, 27 years of age, a fumigator of San Dimas, was sentenced to sixty days for driving an automobile while under influence of intoxicants and Harry C. Petersen of 1621 East Eighty-first street received a five-day sentence for speeding fifty-eight miles an hour in a fifteen-mile zone.

Motorcycle policemen took Honeyman into custody on the 11th inst., after he is asserted to have driven into the rear end of an automobile operated by Mrs. Jack Turner of 425 West Vine street, Glendale, at the intersection of Alhambra avenue and Eastlake street. They reported Honeyman failed to stop, although Mrs. Turner was slightly injured, and they were forced to chase him several blocks before he came to a halt.

Petersen pleaded guilty to exceeding the speed limit by forty-three miles at Longwood and Adams streets on the 1st inst.

"BLIND," A TRAGEDY IN ONE ACT

Characters: Sightless Old Beggar With Music Box—a Thief; Setting: Shabby Room on Main Street; Action: Thief Takes Music Box

He was just a blind beggar. For more than thirty years he sat on a low stool either in front of the old Plaza church or the cathedral at Second and Main streets with his old-fashioned talking machine on his feeble knees.

Women in flounce sleeves and bustles and men in derbies and cutaways passed him back and forth. Some, a little more charitable than others, would pause to drop a coin in the little wooden box attached to the music box. For their slight effort they would, perhaps, carry away with them a few wheezing strains of "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree." Then he could hear the clop-pety-clop of horses' shoes and the rattle of wagons on the cobble stones. He could only guess what the mottled throng which passed him by might look like.

And the years passed on. Later, unseen but only felt or heard by him, the horses and the wagons vanished, there was the honking of automobile horns, the drone of airplanes overhead. From the same old talking machine on his still feebler knees passersby would hear "Alexander's Rag Time Band," then later, "Marcheta." Times changed, fashions changed, songs changed, but always the talking machine on the old man's knees wheezed out his music with the same old wheels and springs. It never failed. With deep affection he clutched it to him as he stumbled off in the glare of the lights from hot-tamale wagons at the end of his day's vigil.

Yesterday he groped his way to Central Police Station for the first time in all those years. He gave the police his name, John P. Taylor, 75 years of age. Someone, he said, had stolen his talking machine from his room at 2261½ North Main street.

MONEY BLAMED IN WALL INQUIRY

Husband Ascribes Death to Natural Causes

Says Jealousy Over Estate Started Police Quiz

Report on Ashes Analysis Not Yet Received

Persons "jealous because there are a few dollars involved" started rumors that caused the investigation of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Hollenbeck Wall, wealthy Wilshire resident, according to the belief of Wesley Wall, the woman's third husband, from whom a written statement was taken yesterday by Detective King of the District Attorney's office.

When Mrs. Wall died on October 10, last, she left a will making her husband the sole beneficiary of her estate, estimated at more than $125,000. Some weeks after her demise, when physicians were unable definitely to determine the cause of her death, an analysis of the vital organs was ordered. Still later came another analysis of the ashes of her cremated body. The first analysis showed no trace of poison and a report on the second is expected from the county chemist today.

When the final analysis was ordered a general investigation was begun by Chief of Detectives Contreras of the District Attorney's office, who asserted later that no evidence to support a poison theory had been uncovered. The last person questioned was Wall, who gave his statement yesterday in the office of his attorney, George Dryer.

Wall not only asserted his belief as to the origin of the rumors of poison, but declared that he and his wife had been remarkably happy together and that she was not despondent, as intimated. He ascribed her death to a common ailment and asserted that her mother had died of like trouble at approximately the same age.

PROMINENCE BLASTED HIS HAPPY HOME

Ex-Mayor and Police Head States He's Through With High Positions Hereafter

Walter G. Ressler is through with being first in a little Iberian village, the white light that blazes on prominence and all that sort of thing. He explained this matter yesterday to Judge Schauer in support of his prayer for a divorce from Eva Jane Ressler.

"Back East," related Ressler, "I was prominent, too prominent. We lived in a little town and at one time and another I was Mayor, postmaster and police commissioner.

"That was just the trouble. Power brought me enemies. They started snooping around after me. You can imagine how the police commissioning business is. It leads a man to strange places and they would follow me to them, and then tell Mrs. Ressler where I had been.

"Judge, we had a teacup—a very old teacup. It was an heirloom and we valued it highly. That probably explains why Mrs. Ressler did not hit me with it. She hit me with everything else in the house, though. Finally one night I came home to find the doors all locked and the locks changed. So I resigned my honors and came to California."

He got a divorce.

Police Will Push Pursuit of Pushball

Firemen and policemen today joined in a State-wide search.

The quarry is neither a fire-bug nor a bandit but an air-inflated, eight-foot leather-covered spheroid commonly known as a pushball.

When the startling discovery was made that in all Southern California no one knows where such an article can be had, an urgent "S.O.S." was sent out by both police and fire departments of the city.

They must have a pushball to entertain a large proportion of the public between halves in the firemen-police football game and interdepartmental fiesta the afternoon of December 10 at the Coliseum.

Boyology Class Banquet Tonight

Notables representing practically every civic organization in the city are expected to attend a banquet in the Chamber of Commerce Building tonight, concluding event of the course in boyology conducted by the Knights of Columbus in their hall, 614 South Flower street. Joseph D. Becker of Notre Dame University, chief instructor of the course, will present diplomas to graduates and prizes to the "gang leaders" in the group.

Short addresses are to be delivered by Bishop Cantwell, Dr. J. P. Ryland, president of the Protestant Federation of Churchmen; Rabbi Magnin, Municipal Judge Haas, Judge Scott, D. C. McWatters of the Red Cross, Judge Tom White, Postmaster P. P. O'Brien and E. B. DeGroot. Boy Scout leaders and others interested in boy welfare work will attend the dinner and participate in the program.

Carpenter Hurt in Fall on Fence

Landing on a board fence after a fall of four stories from the top of a building on which he was working, Kirk Boone, 27 years of age, 417 West Twenty-third street, a carpenter, received internal injuries which may prove serious, a fractured left arm, and compound fracture of the left leg.

Boone was working on an apartment building on Flower street between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth streets, when he stepped backward into space. He was treated at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital by Police Surgeon Dorn.

ANNOYER OF GIRLS FACES LONG TERM

Dishwasher Convicted of Offense Against High School Student

Delmar Calkins, a dishwasher by trade but a "sheik" at heart, yesterday was convicted in Judge Bishop's court of an offense against a 13-year-old school girl that carries with it a term of from one to fifty years in the State penitentiary.

Calkins, according to testimony introduced at his trial, made a practice of "hanging around" the Lankershim High School during his idle hours. He is asserted to have posed as a "sheik" and to have sought to persuade various girl students at the institution to accept his attentions.

Calkins was accused of a statutory offense against a girl who formerly attended the Lankershim High School. He is said once to have been warned to stay away from the school.

In reaching its verdict the jury recommended imprisonment for Calkins in the State penitentiary and Judge Bishop will be bound by the recommendation unless a new trial is granted. It is expected counsel for the convicted man will move for a new trial when Calkins is taken before the court Friday for sentence.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

When "The Chief" pulled into the Santa Fe station yesterday morning it brought quite a number of prominent Angelenos who have been away from Southern California for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Murphy of West Adams street with their daughter, Miss Bernardine Murphy, and sister, Miss Sue Sonnott, who have been traveling abroad for some eight months, were amongst the passengers as also were Mrs. Willard James Doran of Hudson avenue with her brother, William A. Innes, and his daughter, Miss Louise Innes, who left for the East November 1, and visited in Wichita, Kan., where they were guests of their brother's family, the Walter Inneses, later going on to Chicago, Oklahoma City, New York City, and St. Louis.

Mrs. Frederick W. Flint, Jr., of St. James Park came back from New York where she left her daughter, Miss Geraldine Flint, at Briar Cliff School and Miss Muriel Flint will remain in New York City studying for the winter.

Mrs. Virginia Walsh-Nebeker also was on board as were Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Hunter (Gwendolyn Mitchell) of Pasadena and the latter's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil K. Kellogg (Louise Mitchell.)

Honoring Debutantes

Miss Eleanor Wailes and Miss Dorothy Hill, two of the popular debutantes of the season, are being much feted within the next few weeks. Mrs. Dean Mason of Lafayette Park Place giving a luncheon for Miss Wailes Saturday at her home, while December 3, Mrs. Morris Barnes Miller of Pasadena is entertaining with a luncheon and bridge for her and December 14, her aunt Mrs. Arvin Brown is giving a buffet luncheon in her honor at the California Club.

Miss Louise Burke of Berkeley Square is planning a dinner party in her honor December 6, while Misses Geraldine and Elizabeth Herron are giving a bridge luncheon at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Erwin Herron in West Adams street December 9, at which Miss Hill will share the honors of the afternoon; and Mrs. E. Avery McCarthy will be hostess Sunday afternoon December 11 at a tea and supper party at her home in Norton avenue when the two debutantes will be the guest of honor and the guests will include members of the younger set, including both men and women.

Miss Hill will be presented formally to the friends of her mother, Mrs. Dorothy Hill of Pasadena, at a tea dance December 30, which Mrs. Hill is planning at the Midwick Country Clubhouse.

Interesting Affairs

Initiation for the five pledges of Quill Club at the University of Southern California was held recently at the Artland Club. The new members are Miss Eunice Martin, Miss Jessica Heber, Miss Ruth Sharon, Miss Gene Sherman and Miss Virginia Childs, and each initiate entertained the members of the Quill Club by reading original manuscripts.

The American College Quill Club is a national literary fraternity organized for the purpose of furthering creative writing and literary culture. Application for admission to membership in the club is on the basis of creative ability and literary aptitude. Runes of chapters of Quill Club are found in leading universities throughout the country, the chapter at the University of Southern California being known as Os Rune.

The first luncheon of this semester held by the Commerce Women's group at the University of Southern California took place Monday noon in the Women's Residence Hall, 669 West Thirty-sixth street.

Miss Nora Hoffman, vice-president of the commerce student body presided as hostess. The guest of honor and speaker was Miss Agnes Mahoney, comptroller for the California Tax Payers' Association.

The Trojan commerce co-eds plan to hold a similar luncheon each month with some prominent business woman as guest speaker.

WEEK-END SPENT IN NORTH

Football Game at Palo Alto Attended

Miss Jeannette Braddock

AMONG the members of the younger set who has just come home after a delightful week-end in the North is Miss Jeannette Braddock, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Braddock of 4458 Dundee avenue, who with Miss Mary McAlister, Miss Adele Brown and Miss Florence Hamburger, left Thursday for San Francisco where they attended the big game Saturday afternoon at Palo Alto returning home Monday morning.

Friday evening they were honor guests at a dinner given by Allen Hoover at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hoover, other honor guests including Allen Campbell, son of the former Governor of Arizona and Mrs. Campbell, Thomas Bunn and Max Lewis, who are all students at Stanford, a theater party followed. After the game Saturday afternoon they were dinner guests at the St. Francis with dancing and supper afterward.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

BABIES DO NOT LIKE DIVIDED ATTENTION

Mrs. A. S. K. writes: Your most wonderful column I read every day. I am all at sea about my own baby. For a long time I have been able to tuck him in his crib, kiss him and leave him alone, and he has waved by-by and gone to sleep. Now he positively refuses to sleep in his crib. When I put him down he cries bitterly and sits right up. I have put him down seven times and he would still bob up. Finally I resorted to rocking.

At 3 o'clock in the morning he crawled out of his crib into my bed, apparently asleep. He is 21 months of age and weighs thirty-five pounds.

The past week I took in two children from a home to board. Could it be the excitement which affects the baby? Or is he too young to notice things like that?

Answer: You are quite right in your surmise that the new children have wrought the change, but not entirely from the excitement of their presence. It is your divided attention which is bothering the baby. Quite unconsciously he is using all the weapons in his control to urge you to look more at him and not so much at the other children. He has sensed your interest in them and likewise because of your new duties you may be giving the baby less attention than he is used to. The baby doesn't figure this out, it is his natural reaction to a new situation in which he is sensing some unpleasant factors.

It is the same situation which arises in a family when a new brother or sister arrives and the first child finds himself relegated, so he thinks, to second place. He reacts by being naughty, and using all his tricks to call attention back to himself.

Treat the baby exactly as you did before the children arrived, until he has become used to their presence. Don't hurry him off to bed at night if he is accustomed to a more leisurely bed hour. Leave him alone exactly as has been your habit and do not go back to him. Tuck him up after he is asleep.

He may vent his rage in loud screams, but the habit of going to sleep alone is very strong, and if he has the same attention and love and "fussing over" in the daytime, he will return to his good habits—providing you don't start the bad one of rocking him to sleep.

WASHING CLOTHES

Mrs. G. A. W.: The woolen knitted wear purchased for a baby is clean and need not be washed. Clothes, made from new, clean bolts of material, do not need it either. It is sometimes better to wash diapers as they have a tendency to be somewhat stiff when brand new.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Dahlias and Chrysanthemums

Place a lump of sugar in the vase containing thick-stocked flowers and it will prevent the unpleasant odor which so frequently accompanies these hardier plants.

Delicate Lace

Fine lace collars can be washed without fear if basted carefully on a piece of white muslin and washed on that, using lukewarm water and white soap. Rinse thoroughly and dry in the sun.

Safe and Sound

An asbestos plate underneath the preserving kettle insures the contents from burning and permits the housewife to go peacefully about her other duties while her jellies and preserves take care of themselves.

Easily Soiled

So much white furniture is used in the kiddies' rooms these days and it is very hard to keep little finger marks from showing. However, they are readily removed by applying a solution of baking soda dissolved in warm water with a soft cloth, polishing afterward with a dry cloth. A teaspoonful to a pint of water is a satisfactory amount.

Coat Hangers

Always keep one or two attractive coat hangers on the clothes tree for the visitor. Her coat will then stay in press all the time she is with you and at the same time you will not have outside dust brought in on your clean bedspreads.

What Women are Doing

By Myra Nye

In recognition of the holiday spirit pervading the week's activities, the ways and means committee of the Soroptimist Club selected "Why I Am Thankful I Am an American" as the subject for the Thanksgiving program of yesterday noon, the meeting taking place in the Music Room of the Biltmore. Mayme V. Matthay, who presided over the luncheon, a regular Thanksgiving dinner with turkey, stuffing and even cranberry jelly, turned the meeting over to Dr. Della H. Hubbard, who introduced the speakers.

Dr. Mary Sinclair Crawford, dean of women at the University of Southern California; Mme. Savant and Miss Lina D. Willis told why they are glad to be American women, from the cultural, musical and financial viewpoints. Each pointed out the many privileges and opportunities in America which are not given women in other countries, but Dr. Crawford struck a new note by criticizing the lack of cultural development in proportion to the opportunity.

"It takes great courage to say it," she said, "but we have had wonderful opportunities for fifty years, and as yet have made no cultural mark. Woman's position is not high in politics, the State or the church. And I believe it is because she is afraid of new ideas. She accepts them as manifested in something mechanical, such as the radio and the airplane or in household labor-saving devices, but finds it very difficult to accept the new in pure theory. I have watched the reaction of the women's clubs toward the new marriage theories with amusement, but with disappointment at their muddled thinking."

Mme. Savant said, in part: "Why wait years and spend more money to go to Europe to study music when you have the same opportunities here? Our opportunities come to us too easily. The only way to become a musician is to make up your mind, select a good teacher, and start in and work. In all ways this is the greatest country in the world. Nowhere can ordinary people succeed so quickly or so easily."

One of the most interesting features of the program was the report by Marjorie Quigley, who had taken the signatures of all the members. Her "constructive highlights" concerning character, talent and disposition were awaited breathlessly.

"President Mayme V. Matthay is ambitious, endowed with good business acumen, and is a merry soul," she said. "No doubt many of these characterizations will sound similar, since the Soroptimists are all capable and all successful, and the signatures were often alike in many ways. Mme. Anna Till accomplishes much by persevering, she is an individualist, and rather likes display. Dr. Hubbard is unselfish, even too generous, of jovial disposition and most sympathetic, while Bertha M. Just, an ambitious person, also has a happy disposition and creates contentment." She characterized Alice Mayor Edwards as "ambitious and progressive,' Enid Beck as of "great originality, shrewdness, paying attention to detail," and Mae Carvell as "firm-minded, of decided opinions and great loyalty." One member, to the enjoyment of the others, was "fond of kissing."

During the program Miss Francis White sang two solos, accompanied by Mrs. Marley, which were greatly enjoyed, and Murel Knight read "Thanksgiving Time" by Dunbar.

Local Composition Produced

"The Flaming Arrow," a prize-winning opera by Mary Carr Moore, will be produced Friday evening at 9:15 o'clock under the auspices of the Los Angeles Opera and Fine Arts Club in the new headquarters on Loma Drive. The opera is a one-act romance of the Zuni and Hopi tribes, and promises to be as delightful entertainment as "Narcissa," which has been presented many times here under Mrs. Moore's direction.

Friday evening's performance will mark the debut of Rosa Honykova, whose voice, according to the composer, is very lovely. The cast also includes Gage Christopher and Harold Spaulding, a young tenor who was most successful in his interpretation of a leading role in "Narcissa" in San Francisco in 1925, loaned for this occasion by the National Broadcasting Company.

Ample stage facilities for the presentation of the opera, as well as for seating a larger audience are afforded by the new auditorium which is the future meeting place of the opera club.

Friday Morning Club

Nelle Gothold, dramatic soprano, Mischa Oegna, violoncellist, and Mrs. M. Hennion Robinson, pianist, in a recital of classical and modern music will furnish the program for the Friday Morning Club, meeting at 10 o'clock at the Playhouse on Figueroa street, while the luncheon speaker will be Miss Vera Hueck, a Russian woman of the upper class, who will speak of her experiences in the revolutions of Russia and Constantinople. The honored guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Flower of Stratford-on-Avon, who are in this country in the interest of the Shakespeare Memorial Theater. Mr. Flower was Mayor of Stratford for ten terms.

A week from today a matinee luncheon will be given at 12 o'clock with five members of the Norman Sprowl Players as guests. Afterward the club will attend en masse the performance of "Just Married," given by those players in the Playhouse, which is a part of the Friday Morning Club building.

Presidents to Meet

The Los Angeles Presidents' Association will meet at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in Parlor D of the Chamber of Commerce Building to hear a brief report from the forestry department of the Chamber of Commerce. Members are to be present for free discussion on matters of general interest.

Change of Address

Beginning Friday the meeting place of the Los Angeles Opera and Fine Arts Club will be changed to the Council House, 214 Loma Drive, near Second street, and the Belmont High School, where permanent headquarters have been obtained. It may be reached on a Crown Hill C car to Loma Drive and Second street, a First-street I car to Belmont ave. nue, or a West Sixth-street D car to Loma Drive.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By Dr Frank McCoy

Author of "The Four Ways to Health"

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of The Los Angeles Times, inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

Correcting Flat Feet

The one suffering from flat foot often does not feel any local discomfort in the foot, itself, yet an endless list of aches and pains are caused by this weakness. What appears to be rheumatism in the calves of the legs or the knees is many times due solely to fallen arches. Even sciatica and disorders in the lower back can be traced to this deformity.

I recently examined the case of a lady who had been treated by many doctors for rheumatism of the lower limbs. Every medical method had been tried, even to blistering the knees with the cautery, but the pain and swelling of both legs continued. I tried strapping up the insteps with adhesive plaster, and all symptoms in the legs disappeared in a few days. The strain upon the nerves and ligaments in the legs due to the faulty position of the arches of the foot had caused all the trouble.

Flat feet are often caused simply because the muscles of the foot and calves are too weak to support a body which is overweight. When obesity is cured, the feet are again restored to their normal shape. When one picks up and lays down 200 or 250 pounds every step, of course a great strain is exerted on the bones and tendons of the foot. If the person weighs 250 pounds, it only takes eight steps to raise and lower a ton of weight.

The ordinary size foot is equal in strength to its task, but there is a certain limit of endurance, and too much weight will eventually make the foot collapse, and the natural spring of the arch will be lost. Until the weight is reduced to normal, not much success can be hoped for in the correction of foot troubles. For a time, arch supports will help to relieve the burden, but these only serve as crutches and do not strengthen the feet.

The most effective means for the correction of flat feet is to take certain systematic exercises to increase the tone and strength of the foot and calf muscles. One of the best exercises can be taken at the time of your daily walk. Learn to walk at least part of the time with the toes pointing in and not out. This is the way primitive people walk who do not use shoes with stiff soles. In this way the toes are used to grip the ground, and the foot is arched more naturally. Walk "pigeon-toed" every other block, and wear lighter shoes.

Another good exercise is to stand barefooted on a thick book and attempt to grasp the edge of the book with all of the toes.

An excellent exercise can be taken when standing with the feet crossed: Pass the right foot over in front of the left until the toes of the right foot touch the side of the left heel. Point the toes as far back as possible and then, placing the hands on the hips, sway slightly to one side and then the other, catching your weight on the big toe of each foot as you throw your weight first to one side and then the other.

These exercises, if persisted in, will gradually bring back the muscular power in the necessary muscles, and your arches will soon return to their normal strength. You can then discard the arch supports, and your feet will be strong enough to wear shoes with lower heels. At least wear those low-heeled shoes when walking, and continue to take the "pigeon-toe" exercise, and you will keep your feet as strong as nature intended them to be.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: Hopeless writes: "I am a young woman of 25 years of age, five feet three inches tall, weight, ninety-one pounds. Have tried everything on earth to put on weight. Was on a milk diet for three months and put on two pounds. I have consulted several doctors and they all claim I'm perfectly well. One doctor advised me to remove my appendix and that would sharpen my appetite. I've done so, and no success. Walk from three to four miles per day, and very seldom do I feel hungry, and then, if I drink a little water, my appetite is gone. Please advise me what to do, because it will drive me to suicide."

Answer: You may be perfectly healthy and yet only weigh as much as you do. However, the average thin woman of your type is usually unable to put on weight because of a systematic poisoning which she gets from a sluggish colon. One of this type usually has a complete prolapsus of the stomach and intestines, and usually has adhesions holding these organs down. When the adhesions are broken loose by manipulative treatment the organs may be brought back to normal position through exercising. The patient will then soon begin to gain weight without any stuffing diet.

Q.: K.O.K. writes: "Sometime ago I saw advertised in the paper a new electrical device for sleeplessness. As I have been suffering from insomnia for quite a while, I would like to know what you think of this, and where I could find it."

A.: Many experimental machines have been devised for use in attempting to induce sleep, but I do not know where any such apparatus is obtainable on the market. The main object is to produce a sort of hypnosis, but you can do this just as well yourself by completely relaxing, and mentally repeating the word "sleep" over and over again. As long as you have no physical irritation which keeps you awake, the repeated suggestion of the word "sleep" or "sleepy" will always get results, and is a sure cure for insomnia.

CHEF WYMAN'S Suggestions for TOMORROW'S MENU

Every Tuesday and Friday at 1:30 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southern California Manufacturers' Exhibit, 130 South Broadway.

Breakfast

Strawberries and Cream
Ham and Eggs, Country Style
Waffles Maple Syrup
Milk Coffee

Dinner

Pasadena Fruit Cocktail
Ripe Olives Celery Hearts
Salted Almonds and Walnuts
Cream of Green Peas aux Croutons
Roast Turkey with Raisin Dressing
Corn Souffle Avocado Pomona
Sweet Potatoes Creole
Frozen Fruit Roll
Coffee Orange Small Cakes

PASADENA COCKTAIL

For this fruit cocktail, mix one cupful of diced grapefruit pulp with one cup of orange pulp, diced, one cupful of diced canned peaches, half a cupful of candied cherries and four tablespoonfuls of finely chopped preserved ginger. This should be mixed four or five hours before dinner and set on the ice to become thoroughly chilled. Serve in tall stem glasses, on a small plate covered with a large autumn leaf.

CREAM OF GREEN PEAS

To make the cream of green peas, press two cupfuls of cooked green peas through a sieve. Place in a double boiler two tablespoonfuls of flour, when thoroughly blended stir in three cupfuls of milk and cook smooth. Add the two cupfuls of green pea pulp and a seasoning of salt, paprika and mace. Cook twenty minutes and just before serving, add one cupful of hot cream and one cupful of small cubes of bread fried in butter.

ROAST TURKEY

The turkey should weigh ten or more pounds; never buy a light turkey as they have very little flesh and a heavier turkey will have no more waste than a bird that only weighs six or seven pounds and the best part of a Thanksgiving dinner is the cold turkey served the next day.

Dress and clean the turkey, stuff with raisin dressing, made by adding to four cupfuls of bread crumbs, one teaspoonful of salt, four tablespoonfuls of melted butter, the finely chopped heart, liver and gizzard of the turkey, one and a half cupfuls of seeded raisins that have been soaked for four hours in orange juice, half a teaspoonful of finely chopped onion, pinch of mace, half a level teaspoonful of poultry seasoning and half a teaspoonful of paprika; beat well one egg and stir in the last thing. This dressing will be light and spongy.

CORN SOUFFLE

Cut the corn from seven ears of freshly boiled corn or use the corn from one canful of good corn and mix with the beaten yolks of two eggs, two tablespoonfuls of flour, four tablespoonfuls of table cream, one teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of sugar and half a teaspoonful of paprika. Sprinkle the bottom of a well-buttered, earthenware baking dish with bread crumbs, stir into the corn mixture the stiffly beaten whites of the two eggs, pour over the crumbs, sprinkle the top with bread crumbs and bits of butter and bake in a moderate oven twenty-five minutes.

SWEET POTATOES CREOLE

Wash, pare and slice six medium-sized sweet potatoes and boil in salted water for six minutes, drain and place in alternate layers of sweet potatoes and finely chopped pineapple. Pour over a syrup made by boiling half a cupful of brown sugar and four tablespoonfuls of water three minutes, add four tablespoonfuls of butter. Sprinkle fine bread crumbs over the top and cook until potatoes are tender.

FROZEN FRUIT ROLL

Mix the well-beaten yolks of seven eggs with two cupfuls of boiling milk, one cupful of sugar and one teaspoonful of orange extract. Stir until thick and add two and a half cupfuls of thick cream, cool and freeze. Line the bottom of an ice cream mold with seeded raisins that have been soaked in cider for twelve hours, cover with the frozen cream and fill the mold with alternate layers of cream and raisins. Cover mold tightly and pack in ice and salt for three hours. In serving cut the frozen roll in slices and pour over a hot sauce made by melting in a buttered saucepan, set in hot water, two squares of unsweetened chocolate. Add two cupfuls of light brown sugar, mix well, add two tablespoonfuls of butter and half a cupful of rich milk. Cook until it will form a soft ball when a little is dropped in cold water. Flavor with half a teaspoonful of lemon extract and one teaspoonful of vanilla extract. This will harden when poured over the frozen fruit roll.

SMALL ORANGE CAKES

Beat well the yolks of three eggs, add one cupful of sugar, one-third of a cupful of melted butter, and the grated rind of one orange, beat smooth. Sift one and a half cupfuls of flour with two and a half teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a pinch of salt. Add to the egg and sugar mixture with two-thirds of a cupful of orange juice. Beat smooth and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the three eggs. Butter and flour a shallow baking pan, pour in the mixture and bake in a moderate oven. When cold cut in oblong pieces and frost with orange frosting.

TWO GOOD FROSTINGS

To make the orange frosting, mix the grated rind of two oranges with half a cupful of orange juice and let stand for fifteen minutes. Strain and add the beaten yolks of two eggs and about two cupfuls of confectioners' sugar or enough to thicken, and one tablespoonful of melted butter. Beat until smooth and creamy.

Another nice frosting for this cake is called creole icing and is made by boiling two cupfuls of brown sugar with two-thirds of a cupful of boiling water and one-quarter of a teaspoonful of cream of tartar until it will spin a thread when dropped from the top of a spoon. Pour the hot syrup slowly onto the beaten whites of two eggs and beat until thick and creamy. Flavor with maple or almond extract.

In preparing the Thanksgiving dinner, the cakes, ice cream and salted nuts should be prepared the day before. The turkey should be cleaned and all other material should be checked and placed handy.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for receipts are answered in the department PRACTICAL RECIPES published every Tuesday. [All rights to reproduce reserved by A.L. Wyman.]

House Ferns

Many ferns that grow wild in the woods make splendid house plants. They should be taken in about now, after the frost has destroyed the tops but before the ground has been frozen. Set them outside in water in a large pot until they freeze solid. Then take indoors and let them slowly thaw out. They will begin to grow again in about two months.

The Thanksgiving Table Was a Thing of Beauty

By Florence La Ganke

Thanksgiving dinner at the Pace's was a delightful affair. The table was old fashioned in its dignity and beauty. The cloth was of fine white damask ample in length and width. In the center of the table was an old silver bowl on a standard. It belonged to the Georgian period and had beauty as well as dignity. It was piled high with fruits.

Purple grapes, shimmering green and dull red ones, apples with cheeks polished until they shone, tawny oranges, brilliant kumquats, pale yellow grapefruit and dull rich red pomegranates filled the dish. A wreath of glossy leaves encircled the bowl and made a pleasing contrast on the white cloth.

The original idea had been to put favors at the children's places only. But such a wail went up from Peter when he found that he could not have a member of the zoo at his place that Nancy reconsidered.

The grown-ups had animals carved from soap. The ivory tones of the bears, elephants, cats and penguins were delightful fobs for the children's animals. These were made from vegetables. A knotty potato body with cranberry buttons down the front of the coat set off the carved turnip face with carrot ears and feet made of flat rounds of sweet potato. Toothpicks, wooden skewers, currants, carving knives and skilled fingers were necessary accessories.

Protecting Your Schoolgirl Complexion

Use ONLY a true complexion soap on face

THERE are two rules in skin care which should be observed: (1) Keeping the skin clean and pores open. (2) Using a proved soap on your skin.

Present-day beauty culture calls for soap and water. But that means a PROVED COMPLEXION soap. Soaps made for general use are often too harsh for the skin.

Thus, largely on expert advice, millions use Palmolive Soap; touch their faces with no other. It is made of cosmetic oils. It is made for one purpose only—to protect and beautify the skin.

Wash the face gently with Palmolive. Massage its balmy olive and palm oil lather into the skin. Rinse with warm water; then with cold. That is all—it's nature's rule for keeping that schoolgirl complexion.

Do that regularly, and particularly before bed. Never let powder, rouge or make-up remain on your skin over night. Note how much better your skin in even one week.

GET REAL PALMOLIVE

Get Palmolive today. Costs but 10c a cake. Use no other on your face. But be sure you get GENUINE Palmolive. Crude imitations, represented to be of olive and palm oils, are not the same as Palmolive. Remember that and TAKE CARE. The Palmolive-Peet Co., Chicago, U. S. A.

LECTURE GIVEN ON SALVATION

Christian Scientist Tells of Christ's Revelations

Man Declared to Be Pure and Upright Always

True Thoughts Asserted to Be From God

A series of Christian Science lectures recently delivered by John [illegible] Salman, C. S., of Cambridge, Mass., member of the Board of Lectureship of the mother church on "Christian Science: The Way of Salvation Which Christ Jesus Revealed" was concluded by the lecture last evening in Fifth Church of Christ, Scientist.

Mr. Salman spoke in part as follows:

One of the most important things to understand concerning God is that to think always at the standpoint of Truth, and that He alone exists at that standpoint. Man and the universe exist always at the standpoint of cause or creation; they never exist at the standpoint of causation. God is the one and only cause and creator. He produces, sustains, and governs the one and only real effect or creation, spiritual man and the universe. Man and the spiritual universe.

CAUSE AND EFFECT

From this great fact, it follows that man can possess no underived power, wisdom, or ability. The effect can do only what the cause impels or empowers it to do. Jesus recognized this fact, and acted upon it at every turn of the way.

The mankind theoretically admits that God is perfect, but is very slow to see what that fact really implies. Jesus taught and proved the allness of the everlasting God. Jesus taught his disciples that all should call God, Father, as he did not look upon themselves, in the true spiritual being, as sons of God, thus expounding Jesus' true doctrine. This makes this remarkable declaration concerning the true being of man: "Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for his seed remaineth within him: and he can not sin, because he is born of God.' Here we have plain, clear declaration, in the inspired word of the Bible, that whosoever is born of God creates never sins and in fact remains forever upright, perfect, spiritual.

"But we do not mean that the conceptions of man, or in other words mortals, are perfect. We know that a false concept of God is not that something. There are no more like the real God man than false human conceptions of God are like the perfect, all-supreme Being. False concepts can be changed and improved; they need to be. Mortals vary according to the degree of enlightenment they possess concerning the real nature of God and man. Plato uttered a great truth when he said, 'Like to like most, that thou beest.' But mankind needs above all else spiritual enlightenment. The, highest of humanity is the one who knows what God and man are. Frequently the question is asked, 'Is God personal?' Now no helpful and correct answer can be given to this question, without carefully considering what is meant by the word 'God.' Does the question imply an anthropomorphic? That is, God like a human being, with passion, jealousy, change, and so have a physique [illegible] finite and limited meaning of the word, no!

ANOTHER QUESTION

"But, on the other hand, if the question means, is God the ever-conscious Supreme Being who loves and understands those who may be loved and understood by all? then surely the answer is yes. For, as we have already seen, God is the self-existent, self-knowing, eternal, all-wise, infinite Mind who knows all that is knowable, who produces and sustains, loves and governs, all that has actual existence. Christian Science makes plain not that not only is God personal, but that the higher meaning of that word is the indwelling Christ, Jesus, that indeed God is the indwelling Presence.

"The individual who would understand God aright must never lose sight of the fact that God is the infinite, ever-active Supreme Being not only does God know, and does understand; but true thinking and true affection are made possible in man solely because God, the divine cause, is the all-knowing, all-loving Divine Mind, which is reflected in man and the universe. All true ideas emanate from God and are forever under His government.

SHRINEDOM CHIEF TO BE HERE TODAY

Al Malaikah Arranges Festival to Welcome Him; Candidates Ready

Today will be memorable to thousands of Shriners who live in Southern California, as well as a busy one for officers of Al Malaikah Temple for Illustrious Imperial Potentate Clarence P. Dunbar comes here for his official visit.

His arrival at the Santa Fe station at 12:50 o'clock will mark the beginning of a day that will end in a huge ceremonial at the temple in the evening when more than 100 candidates will cross the hot sands in the initiation ceremonies.

Preceding the ceremonial will be a special ballet, in which 500 will participate. It is being staged under the direction of Theodore Kosloff who will appear with his ballet dancers. No one but Shriners will be admitted to the ceremonies. Potentate Sim W. Crabill said yesterday that about 7000 Shriners can be accommodated in the auditorium.

When Imperial Potentate Dunbar steps from the San Diego train, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Margaret Dunbar, and other officials of Shrinedom, he will be met by a reception committee headed by Louis M. Cole. The uniformed Shrine band, the uniformed Shrine patrol and the chanters will also meet the imperial potentate.

These uniformed bodies will escort the party to the headquarters at the Biltmore. A police escort on motorcycles will head the parade [illegible] down town streets. At [illegible] potentate and [illegible] luncheon [illegible] Utah [illegible]

ALL AIDS YULE FUND

Eight Thousand at Shrine Affair to Raise Money for Christmas Charity

Yuletide cheer, and food and clothing for thousands of Los Angeles poor boys and girls was assured by the crowd, estimated at 8000 persons, which thronged the Shrine ballroom on West Royal street last night at the twenty-first annual charity ball of Al Malaikah Temple.

By 10 o'clock the ballroom was crowded with dancers and the galleries packed, almost to overflowing.

Funds derived from the affair will be used by the temple to provide candy, toys and necessities of life for approximately 2000 needy children. In addition the temple expects to distribute about 1000 baskets of food.

Potentate Sim W. Crabill extended an invitation to the public yesterday to attend the affair. Tickets were sold for $1 each.

Those in active charge of the ball were: R. W. Clapp, chairman of reception committee; Stanton A. Bruner, heading the floor committee, and Robert A. Heffner, general chairman. Music was contributed by Banjamin Laletsky's orchestra.

The Santa Claus and Christmas tree party for the children will be given at holiday time with James W. Jump as master of ceremonies.

Bishop Plant Workers Will Banquet Today

More than 700 employees of Bishop & Co. will be guests of the company today at a Thanksgiving dinner, the second annual affair of its kind, which will be served in the lunch room on the top floor of the company's building. The celebration also will mark the fortieth anniversary of the opening of the candy manufacturing plant in Los Angeles by R. P. Bishop. W. T. Bishop and J. O. Koepdi, who joined the company subsequently, have both been presidents of the Chamber of Commerce in Los Angeles. The company now occupies an up-to-date completely equipped six-story building at the terminal market with facilities for the manufacture of candies, crackers, cooking and eating chocolate.

FRENCH AUTHOR TO SPEAK

Abbe Ernest Dimnet, French author and lecturer, will address the students and faculty of the University of California at Los Angeles at noon today in Millspaugh Auditorium on "Literary France Since 1920." The lecture is one of a series of addresses given before undergraduate assemblies by Abbe Dimnet, who tours the United States annually, speaking before the leading American clubs, universities and women's colleges. On previous tours he has visited Columbia, Yale, Princeton and Chicago. On this tour he spoke at the University of California at Berke[illegible]

Retiring Police Captain Honored at Adieu Dinner

Assistant Captain of Detectives Jesse Erven, who, with Capt. Harry Hickok, started the first auto-theft detail of the Los Angeles police department and the first of its kind in the State, was given a farewell dinner yesterday by Police Captain McClary and members of the Newton-street police division. Capt. Erven has applied for retirement. He joined the department in 1906.

Capt. Erven carried away with him a gold-plated and diamond-studded badge, presented him by his friends as a token of their esteem.

Capt. Erven for six years, was connected with the Automobile Club of Southern California while head of the police auto-theft detail. He took part in the capture of many criminals, the most spectacular case being that of the round-up of the five bandits responsible for the murder of Policemen Breet and Liester.

OWNERS FILE COMPLAINT

A complaint against the manner of handling the work on Silver Lake avenue and Lake View avenue was made to the Council yesterday by property owners. The matter was referred to the City Engineer for attention and report. The complaint said sewer trenches and cave-ins are left without lights and that huge boulders are left on private property.

GERMAN AIR DELEGATION ASTONISHED

Group Finds Fast Aviation Development in America; Douglas Plant Visited

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 22.—Recent development of commercial aviation in the United States has exceeded the expectations of members of the German aeronautical delegation sent here by the German government who inspected the Douglas airplane factory at Santa Monica today after a trip across the country from New York, according to Prof. Ing. Wilhelm Hoff, who heads the party. Prof. Hoff is president of the German experimental station at Berlin, and in the delegation here to survey commercial aviation in this country are Dr. Winnibald Kam and Dr. Fritz Seewald of Berlin and Muhlig-Hofmann of Charlottenburg. Siegfried C. Hagen, German consul in Los Angeles, accompanied the party to Santa Monica.

Especially in the construction of all-metal planes, the German aeronautical experts stated, this country has made great progress. Ships of this character, according to Prof. Hoff, have not been built for commercial purposes in Germany.

The delegation was received at the Douglas plant on Santa Monica Boulevard by Donald Douglas and Harry Wetzel of the company, together with heads of the manufacturing staff. Lieut. Burgess, commander, and Capt. Moulton and Capt. Ockler of Clover Field; Maj. Brady, commander of Crissy Field, San Francisco; Lieut. Bertranbias, United States government inspector for this district, and other officials joined in the reception here. The Douglas factory is the first to be inspected by the Germans, who started today on a tour which will include all important airplane concerns and flying fields on the Pacific Coast.

Arizona Town Gets Ready for Aerial Traffic

"Airport contact will be the big business getter for cities of the future," said George E. Buxton of Douglas, Ariz., at the Alexandria yesterday. "Douglas has closed a concession with Mexico alloting one mile square on the border to tie in with the mile frontage of our airport."

Mr. Buxton is here in connection with Geronimo Lodge, the new $175,000 hotel which is to be opened under the management of Charles B. Hamilton, September 1, 1928.

"Plans have been completed by Carleton M. Winslow, architect, of your city," continued Mr. Buxton. "Old Geronimo, blood-thirsty Apache terror of the white man, will be commemorated in the name of the new hotel to be situated on the old chief's camping ground.

"Geronimo Lodge is to be built of adobe with outside walls three and four feet thick, surmounted by a massive four-story tower. The main building and bungalows will carry out the Spanish and Indian theme. It will be just one-half mile from the airport."

South is the dealer. What is the proper bidding and play?

Each day we shall publish a complete hand presented by Mr. Whitehead, together with a chart upon which the bidding and play may be noted. These hands may be played with cards by one, two, three or four players, before filling in the chart.

Tomorrow we shall publish Mr. Whitehead's explanation of today's hand, with the important features emphasized.

Fill out your own chart and compare it tomorrow with Mr. Whitehead's method. Do this each day and carefully read Mr. Whitehead's explanation, and you will find that your knowledge of the game will progress rapidly. Compare your bidding and play with that of your friends—the comparison may be illuminating.

Record the bids that each player should make, assuming that he does not see any of the other hands. These hands must not be bid or played "Double Dummy," i. e., as though all four hands were exposed.

Final Bid 4 S Played by South

Salient Points of the Bidding

North's second assist was based primarily upon his holding of four Hearts, which, together with East's assist and West's rebid of Hearts, enabled North to place South with but one Heart—if any.

Salient Points of the Play

Trick 2. West switches to Diamonds in an effort to establish one or two tricks in this suit, realizing that South is now void of Hearts, as East must have held three Hearts originally to justify his supporting bid and Dummy held four Hearts.

Trick 8. West's prompt shift to Diamonds at Trick 2 enabled East to make a trick in this suit which would have been impossible had West continued with a second round of Hearts, because in that event South would have succeeded in his attempt to establish a Club trick and would have discarded his losing Diamond, thus going game.

"TIMES" TO GIVE GAME PROGRAM

Bill Henry Will Broadcast Play by Play

High-School Championship Kick-off at Noon

Occidental-Hawaii Battle Will Follow

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

The Times will act as host to the Radioland audience tomorrow afternoon in furnishing the double-header from the Los Angeles Coliseum as the newspaper's Thanksgiving contribution to radio.

Bill Henry of The Times editorial staff, and a sports writer of some sixteen years' standing, will handle the microphone to give a graphic play-by-play description of the two games.

His brilliant predictions and feature articles in the sports realm have made Bill Henry the Pacific Coast's premier football announcer, and devotees of the game who are also radio fans will attest his ability in a deluge of fan mail immediately following each broadcast game.

The L. A. High-Hollywood High city championship game will come on the air at noon and the Occidental-University of Hawaiia fray is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Tune in on KHJ at 416.4 meters, 720 kilocycles, and hear the double-header sponsored via radio by The Times over the Don Lee-Cadillac-La Salle station.

RADIO RELIEF AID

Radio first drew national recognition of its value as a relief-work agency in the Mississippi floods of last spring. A similar utilization of broadcast was evident during the destructive tornado in St. Louis last summer, although on a much smaller scale.

The New England catastrophe again calls attention to the value of radio transmitters, both of broadcast studios and of amateur stations.

The Federal Radio Commission now calls attention of government officials and radio engineers to the opportunity of fashioning a national emergency network for service in times of national distress.

URGES EMERGENCY NETWORK

"What I have in mind is the possible expansion of the broadcast chains into a national system in times of calamity," says Admiral W. H. G. Bullard in an interview this week.

"The Navy's station at Arlington near Washington could be used as the key station, inasmuch as most emergency messages might originate in the national capital and messages from there would carry the suggestion that it was an emergency communication.

"Once receiving the message, Arlington could immediately connect up with a chain of stations and rebroadcast, thus starting machinery in operation to reach all parts of the country.

"Other stations not in the chain would broadcast the land SOS for the benefit of their own communities.

KPO FEATURES RUSSIAN GYPSY MUSIC

OAKLAND, Nov. 22. — Russian gypsy music, now the vogue in the large eastern cities, is a newly inaugurated KPO feature being given from the station by a gypsy instrumental trio directed by Robert Nurok, violinist, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons each week, from 4 to 5 o'clock.

ONE TUBE SET OPERATES SPEAKER

LONDON, Nov. 22. (AP)—A one-tube radio set, capable of receiving at good loud-speaker strength the local stations up to twenty miles and the two Daventry high-power stations up to eighty miles, is about to be put on the English market.

The set contains no transformer amplifier, and will operate on much less than the usual high and low tension battery supplies. It is extremely simple to tune, and is incapable of self-oscillation.

These results are obtained by the use of a special tube with two grids, two anodes and a filament. It fits into a six-pin base.

Hitherto it has been necessary to employ two tubes for loud-speaker work.

MILWAUKEE JOURNAL NOW HAS OWN STATION

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Nov. 22. (AP) The Milwaukee Journal is operating its own radio station, WTMJ, on 1000 watts, making it the most powerful station in Wisconsin. Since January, 1926, the Journal had operated WHAD jointly with Marquette University.

Indian Accused of Killing Wife

William B. McLane, 40 years of age, a Chickasaw Indian, was accused in a complaint issued yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Scheinman, of murdering his wife, Ada May McLane, 42.

A divorce suit was pending and, it is charged, McLane became jealous of another man and stabbed his wife in the back while she was playing a piano.

McLane, when the body was found the next day, denied killing her purposely, but said the slaying was accidental. The death occurred at 901 Palm View Drive, last Sunday.

Long Jail Term Given to Woman

Admitting three separate sales of liquor to police officers, Mrs. T. Luchina, proprietor of the Do Do Inn on Washington Boulevard, Culver City, yesterday was sentenced by Municipal Judge Turney to spend the next nine months in the County Jail.

Though seven charges of sale of liquor were preferred against the woman, it was agreed by the prosecution to dismiss four of the charges if she would plead guilty to the other three.

Deputy Sheriff Grider of Capt. Benton's county dry squad, testified he made the purchases of liquor in the Do Do Inn, the first of which occurred on August 2, last, and the final one on the 2nd inst.

Mrs. Luchina pleaded not guilty to a charge of maintaining a nuisance and Judge Turney set trial for December 6.

Police Haw Haw to Be Pianissimo

The Police Commission yesterday received assurance from Capt. Lyons that he has stopped the loud and unnecessary noises at the Georgia-street station. His action was taken on orders of the commission after several householders of the vicinity complained that their slumbers were broken by raucous laughter and loud talking.

Capt. Lyons informed the commission that he has forbidden all loud talking and laughter in the station and has ordered the officers stationed there to keep the doors closed during the night.

The commission filed the report and ordered the commander of the division to make a canvass of the complainants December 10, next, and report back as to whether they are satisfied.

Organ Tones tell, too

And they'll tell you truthfully which make of power unit will give you most in lasting satisfaction from your radio set. Tune in on organ music when there's a master at the console. Then—without retuning your set—plug in a Willard Power Unit.

HEAR the Difference!

Listen carefully from the highest treble down to the deepest bass. Check up all along the line. Then make your own decision.

The WILLARD

Super "A" Power Unit

The Willard "A" Power Unit operates from your lamp socket, providing steady, full-powered "A" current for any set. Two-rate charging switch gives choice of trickle charge of ½-ampere or 2-ampere rate for larger sets. Before you choose your power unit, ask for a demonstration.

Ask your Lighting Company, your Radio Dealer or your Willard Service Station to demonstrate for you. Let your own ears hear the difference.

EL RETIRO ROW COMES TO END

School Will be Reopened on Original Plan

Helen Montigrifo Selected as Superintendent

Grand Jury's Suggestions Followed Out

Surviving internal strife and grand jury investigation, El Retiro School for Girls, maintained near San Fernando by Los Angeles county, will be reopened within a fortnight under a new superintendent and operated along lines agreeable to county officials, members of the county probation committee and the girl inmates themselves.

This announcement was made last night following the appointment of Miss Helen Montigrifo, prominent Los Angeles social worker, as superintendent of the institution after considering numerous applicants who had been examined by the Civil Service Commission. Miss Montigrifo was chosen from a list of three who survived the examinations, it was revealed.

WALKOUT RECALLED

The new superintendent will replace Mrs. Rosemary B. Good, who was appointed acting superintendent of the school temporarily last August to replace Miss Alma Holzschuh, removed for asserted failure to cooperate with the probation committee.

Mrs. Good's appearance at the school last August was the signal for a wholesale "walkout," thirty-seven of the girl students leaving the institution within forty-eight hours and demanding quarters at Juvenile Hall.

A grand jury investigation followed resulting in a report which urged immediate changes of policy or the closing of the school.

JURY PLAN AIDS

Recommendations of the grand jury have been given every consideration in reorganization of the school, according to Mrs. Elizabeth McManus, chairman of the Probation Committee, and the school is expected to resume its normal functions on an efficient and economical basis.

Miss Montigrifo's appointment was made yesterday during a conference between Juvenile Judge Scott, Supervisor Bean, Chief Probation Officer Holland and Mrs. McManus. Appointment of Miss Katherine Ostrander as superintendent of Juvenile Hall also was made at the conference.

Lando Convicted for Craps Game Double Slaying

After deliberation of several hours, John Lando was found guilty on two counts of murder yesterday in Superior Judge Doran's court. The jury declared he was guilty of first-degree murder, with recommendation for life imprisonment, for the slaying of Jesus Mejia, and second-degree murder for the stabbing of Edwardo Mejia, a brother of the other victim.

Testimony showed that the brothers were stabbed and died following a quarrel in a Main-street pool hall during a craps game in 1922.

Lando was recognized in the County Jail recently after a search had been made for him. He will appear for sentence on Friday.

Niece Fails to Collect From Morgan Estate

Attempt of Mrs. Eleanor McIntyre, niece of the late J. J. Morgan, Hollywood property owner, who left an estate of $1,250,000, to collect $6307 for nursing and caring for the aged man over a period of twenty-five years failed yesterday when Superior Judge Ambrose ruled against her on the ground that the evidence failed to support her claim.

A. P. Morgan, W. L. Pollock and Henry Mathieson, executors and all related more or less to the millionaire, were defendants in the suit but Mathieson testified in behalf of Mrs. McIntyre, to whom he is a brother-in-law.

Two suits, one for $1000 and one for $5000, by Mrs. Eva Helander, a sister of Mrs. McIntyre, are pending against the estate and may be started in Judge Ambrose's court today.

Ex-Employee to Be Tried on Forgery Charge

Accused of altering a letter of recommendation into a check for $13,000 for personal services, J. D. Staigers was held for trial on a charge of forgery yesterday by Municipal Judge Westover. Bail was fixed at $1000.

Staigers, according to testimony adduced by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Choate, drew up a letter of recommendation on April 15, last, after terminating his employment with the Watson Perforation Company of Torrance, and had officials of the firm sign it. But later they found the letter to be a document giving $13,000 to Staigers for personal services, it was testified.

Wife Blocks Suicide Effort

Returning home from school yesterday, Mrs. Grace Walters, a student at U.C.L.A., arrived just in time to save the life of her husband, Robert R. Walters, who had attempted to end his life by taking gas in the bedroom of their home at 711 North Berendo street, according to Detective Lieutenants Carmen and Haek of Hollywood police, who investigated the case.

Mrs. Walters found the doors locked and bolted and the windows covered with paper. She gained entrance to a bedroom by breaking glass in the window, and found her husband lying unconscious on the floor with the gas going full force, she told detectives.

Walters was rushed to the Dickey & Cass Hospital, where he was revived. He will recover. Protracted ill health was given as the cause for his act in a farewell note to his wife.

M.-G.-M. ORGANIZES PICTURE TRIO

Louise Lorraine Repeats Opposite Dane-Arthur Team; Director Promises New Athletic Sport in Film; Monta Bell is on Way to Europe

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Teams seem to be the order of the day in pictures. But it remained for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to organize a sort of Tinker-to-Evans-to-Chance in picturedom.

LOUISE LORRAINE

All of which leads gracefully up to the announcement that once more Louise Lorraine has been assigned by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to play the leading feminine role in a Karl Dane-George K. Arthur co-starring vehicle, this time "Circus Rookies," in which Dane plays an animal trainer and Arthur a circus press-agent.

This is the third picture in which Miss Lorraine has played heroine to the double team of heroes, the other pictures being "Rookies" and "Baby Mine," although the latter, you will remember, is really a Charlotte Greenwood starring vehicle.

Wesley Ruggles to Direct

Word comes from Joseph Franklin Poland, head of Universal's feature comedy department, that Wesley Ruggles will direct "Young Blood," now being prepared from a novel by F. W. Wrath.

"Young Blood" is a story centering we are palpitatingly told, around a new phase of athletics never before treated on the screen, wherefore it is kept a deep, dark secret; though what sport is so far left untouched by the movies, other than tiddle-de-winks, it is hard to guess.

Monta Bell to Europe

Monta Bell sailed yesterday for Europe on the Ile de France. He will take a vacation of several weeks, after which he will return home to resume his directorial work with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Jeanne Eagles May Return

Report is to the effect that Jeanne Eagles did such a splendid piece of work in Monta Bell's last picture, "Man, Woman and Sin," co-starring with Jack Gilbert, that the optional contract given her at the time she agreed to appear in the Bell picture will be exercised on her services, provided her stage engagements will permit.

At present Miss Eagles is reported appearing on the stage in New York, to be followed by engagements in other large eastern cities; but it is likely her season will end around May 1, when, if all goes well, she will return to do another picture for M.-G.-M.

M.-G.-M. Casts Players

Norma Shearer is to have a splendid surrounding cast in her new M.-G.-M. vehicle, not yet titled. John Steppling was added yesterday. Ralph Forbes plays opposite Miss Shearer, while others in the cast are Tenen Holtz, Bert Roach, Dore Davidson, Della Peterson and Margaret Landis.

John Gilbert likewise can boast a lot of expert help in "The Cossacks." Renee Adoree plays the heroine, and others in big roles are Ernest Torrence, Mary Alden, Dale Fuller, Josephine Borio. Frances Marion wrote the story.

Elizabeth Pickett Travels

Not yet satisfied with travel despite her many location trips in pursuit of fascinating scenery for her Fox Varieties, Elizabeth Pickett is traveling to Yuma, Ariz., to visit the "Fleet Wing" company on location there for Fox. The story was written by Miss Pickett.

"Honeymoon Flats" Cast

Eddie Phillips is growing up in Cinemaland. He played the heavy in "The Collegians" for Universal, and now he has been cast as a proud young dad in Millard Webb's picture, "Honeymoon Flats," by Earl Derr Biggers. Baby Jackie Coombs will be the child.

Just in case you have forgotten who is going to play in the picture, the cast includes George Lewis, Dorothy Gulliver, Jane Winton, Bryant Washburn, Crane Wilbur, Kathlyn Williams and Phillips Smalley.

Lena Malena With United

Lena Malena, the U.F.A. actress whom Cecil B. De Mille has under contract, has been loaned to United Artists and is playing an important role in John Barrymore's production, "The Tempest," I learned yesterday. Although the little continental actress has had several small parts at the De Mille studios, the most recent of which was in "Chicago," her role in "The Tempest" is her biggest opportunity since her arrival in America.

LENA MALENA

It will be recalled that Lena's engagement to Melbourne Spurr, noted photographer, was announced recently. Their romance followed a thrilling incident at Catalina Island last summer when the actress saved Spurr's life after the small yacht in which they were sailing to the island had overturned.

Warner Brothers Sign Writers

Warner Brothers are preparing for their coming season by signing new contracts with writers who have, during the past season, proven their ability to write stories of the type which have been not only successful box-office attractions, but have received praise from critics.

Darryl Zanuck, who has the supervision of writers at the studio, has just signed Anthony Coldewey, Robert Lord and C. Graham Baker on new contracts.

D. W. Griffith's Nifty

D. W. Griffith was attempting to direct one of those pathos-filled scenes of which he is master, yesterday, and every time he started giving Mary Philbin, Lionel Barrymore and Don Alvarado directions in his clearly modulated voice, a workman, far up among the rafters, would begin a veritable anvil chorus of ringing blows. Mr. Griffith appeared to pay no heed to the annoying disturbance, raising his voice only slightly as the direction and hammering continued to synchronize. Then came a lull in the hammering as he started to speak again, and he glanced over his shoulder, calling, "Start your hammering, boy, you forgot your cue!"

John Ackroyd Signs

Those of you who remember Little Alf in Syd Chaplin's picture, "The Better 'Ole," will be delighted to learn that they are to have another peek at John Ackroyd, who played him.

Ackroyd was cast yesterday in "The Whip Woman," featuring Estelle Taylor, Antonio Moreno and Lowell Sherman, with Joseph C. Boyle directing.

The actor, before the war, was one of the foremost comedians of the London music halls. A British soldier, he was wounded and shell-shocked.

Hugh Allan With De Mille

Just as we expected he would do when we saw his shining morning face over at the De Mille studios the other day, Hugh Allan has signed with Cecil B. De Mille. He will play opposite Elinor Fair in "Sin Town," which Gordon Coop will direct.

HUGH ALLAN

Allan is one of the most popular of the younger leading men. He was under contract to First National for some time, and since leaving, has been playing in Paramount, Warner Brothers and other pictures.

Caryl Lincoln Busy

Caryl Lincoln, recently signed under a long-term contract to Fox, has been cast in the leading feminine role opposite Tom Mix in "Hello, ——enne."

CARYL LINCOLN

As a direct result of her marked leading performance in "Wolf Fangs," with Charles Morton, Miss Lincoln was given a contract for five years.

Eugene Ford is directing the Mix picture, the story of which was written by Harry Sinclair Drago. The company plans two weeks' location work at Prescott, Ariz., where the exterior scenes of the production are being filmed.

CLUBWOMAN TO BECOME COURT AIDE

Mrs. Robert A. Heffner Appointed by Judge to Help in Juvenile Work

Launching a new plan to acquaint the public with the work and problem of Juvenile Court, Judge Scott, who presides over the department, yesterday announced the appointment of Mrs. Robert A. Heffner, society and club woman, as assistant to the court.

MRS ROBERT A HEFFNER

The position to be occupied by Mrs. Heffner is not officially a county appointment and she will serve in her new capacity without remuneration. It was stated she will make it her duty to bring the work of the court before women's clubs, social and charitable organizations for the purpose of establishing community co-operation in solving the numerous problems that involve boys and girls of the county.

It also was stated Mrs. Heffner will work with the Juvenile Court committee in furthering plans for reconstructive and preventive work among boys and girls who have become wards of the court.

Mrs. Heffner is the wife of Robert L. Heffner, business man. She recently was admitted to the bar and created interest by announcing her willingness to handle without charge cases at law involving indigent persons.

It was announced Mrs. Heffner will assume the duties of her new office at once.

ASSESSMENT FOR STREET UP TODAY

VERDUN AVENUE HEARING TO BE FIRST BUSINESS OF CITY COUNCIL

The confirmation of the assessments on the improvement of Verdun avenue between Adams and Jefferson streets is the first order of business for the Council today. Hearing of protests also will be taken up by the Council today in the matter of the improvement of Florence avenue between Vermont avenue and Van Ness avenue and the improvement of Micheltorena street between Angus street and Lanterman Terrace.

The application for a spur track across Sixty-seventh street and Eleventh avenue, filed by the Santa Fe Railway, also will be heard.

UNION SERVICES

INGLEWOOD, Nov. 22.—Union Thanksgiving Day services will be held here tomorrow evening, in the First Baptist Church at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. Edward Campbell, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will read President Coolidge's Thanksgiving proclamation, the Thanksgiving sermon will be preached by Dr. Thomas Burden, new pastor of the First Methodist Church, and music will be furnished by choir and soloists of the Fairview Heights Baptist Church.

PREPARE FOR FAIR

BRAWLEY, Nov. 22.—Efforts to secure a new and larger site for the Imperial Valley midwinter fair have been unsuccessful and a crew of workmen today began preparing the grounds and erecting stock sheds at the former location inside Brawley city limits, according to the statement of Secretary Harry E. Nivens. William Donovan, Los Angeles, arrived today to erect the tent to house the main exhibits and it was stated that everything will be in readiness for the opening day on December 7. The fair is to close on December 11.

'SUNNY' GLEAMS AT THE MAYAN

Jerome Kern Music Exerts Capturing Influence

Dancing Chorus and Comedy Are Enlivening

Colorful Plot to Newest Melodic Attraction

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Ambitious and elaborate in the quality of its staging, and with a cast generally commendable, plus a chorus that knows how to step as do all choruses here, "Sunny" spread its bright spell of melody last night at the Mayan Theater. It was the first Coast production of the Charles B. Dillingham success, in which Marilynn Miller starred in New York, and drew an exceptional premiere attendance.

Starting as it does with a glimpse of circus life in old England, venturing on the high seas for a trip to America, and culminating at a "fashionable southern resort," perhaps more or less mythically associated with Florida, this musical comedy is pleasantly different, and promises when in full swing as a production to bring enticing enjoyment to its audiences.

The opening show did not move with quite the requisite smoothness. There were lapses here and there in the speed of the action, and occasionally waits between changes, but on the whole it was a refreshing performance, engaging both the eye and the ear with its attractions, and providing sufficient of mirth.

Some of the lines, indeed, are very breezy—

"You're an Englishman aren't you? Well—my clothes don't fit me either." (This one has circulated.)

"Have you chosen to marry? No, I've been choosed," says the chap who doesn't want to wed.

"I thought you'd never been on a horse." "I never have. But they're going to give me a horse that never had anybody on him."

"Pardon me, will you help the working girls' home? How far away do they live?"

It is, perhaps, the music that is pre-eminent in "Sunny." There are tunes that are insistent and haunting, written by Jerome Kern, who has always had a rare flair for the catchy and melodious. Though it is well known, "Who?" is still a number that you will go out of the theater humming and whistling. It is the theme song. There are others like "Do You Love Me?" "Two Little Bluebirds" and "Sunshine" which conjure enticement. There is a joyousness constantly evident in the score, music for singing and music for dancing.

"Sunny" without Marilynn Miller could, of course, probably never be "Sunny." That is rather too much to expect, considering that this title role was so ideally linked with her personality. Helen Patterson, who assumes it here has not the capability for its full demands of singing and dancing, though she has much of the sweetness that belongs to the character. To her credit, may it be said that she plays the part simply and without any of the usual musical comedy affectations. Her voice is pretty, but very light.

Decided hits were won by various of the specialty dancers, particularly in the second act by Nellie and Billie Hanson with their remarkable novelty number, while the chorus stopped the show with the fast and intricate pace of their work in the "reprise" of the "Who?" theme in the second act. The costumes for this made for a charming impression, and the flickering light close was effective. The general staging was under the direction of Maurice L. Kusell, as were the dances.

The work of Harry S. Miller in the outstanding comedy role, and his dancing particularly when he skids down the stairway, caught considerable attention. His performance was more than promising as was that of Ernest Wood in another comedy portrayal.

William Valentine demonstrated a satisfactory voice in romantic lead, while little Peggy Hopa, though uneven in her work, added to the amusement. The eccentric number that she did with Wood in the final act was unusually good. Fred C. Holmes slipped on his lines now and then, but gained laughs frequently. Nita Martan, wan-looking from a recent illness, captured applause for her singing of "Sunshine." She has an exceptionally clear soprano voice, that reveals the results of excellent training. Sylvia Longshore proved herself a good little dancer.

Enough ukulele playing for a contest, and singing interspersed the waits between curtains. Some of this will doubtless be dispensed with, and can well be. The two small stages adjacent to the main stage are used on occasion in this particular show.

There are twelve changes of scenes in the production, which makes heavy demands back stage, and some unexpected amusement was occasioned during the opening act, when the curtain was raised too early on a group of stage hands, and one of the carpenters tried to crawl quickly off stage behind a garden gate in a Southhampton street.

It is gratifying to have the opportunity of hearing "Sunny" in a performance that is in many respects excellent, and that will be much improved when it attains its complete esprit.

ELLIOTT REMEMBERS

Robert Elliott, the repressed Dan McCorn, sleuth of the lively Jed Harris production "Broadway," at the Mason Theater, recalls his appearance in Cecil B. De Mille's last stage production before that film magnate's departure into the films. The play was "The Reckless Age," and it did not score the success that was hoped. Elliott has been busy greeting former companions from the various studios since his arrival here with "Broadway."

"Well, You See, Pigs is Pigs"

Gay Seabrook and Emerson Treacy

In action. Miss Seabrook quite possibly is explaining the intricacies of the delightful comedy now holding forth at El Capitan Theater.

"Golden Age" of Drama Extended

Men like gods! Such were Booth, Barrett, Jefferson, McCullough, Maurice, Barrymore, John Drew. Such they are considered in the memory of the older generation when the latter recall what they term the "golden age" of American drama.

With the passing of John Drew, the dean of American actors, they declare that those days are gone forever. But on second thought, they say that now remain, Lionel and John Barrymore, whom they first saw as "lizely youngsters," when each made his first success.

Fortunately for the younger generation, they can still see drama interpreted according to the best traditions of "the golden age." The Belasco Theater management announces a limited engagement, starting Monday night, of Lionel Barrymore in "Laugh, Clown, Laugh." This marks Lionel Barrymore's return to spoken drama in Los Angeles for the first time since his memorable revival of "The Copperhead" two years ago—a peak of dramatic achievement.

Band Leaders Move Around

Two orchestra leaders will bid farewell to respective West Coast theaters tomorrow night. Gene Morgan terminates his reign at the Uptown and will move his baton to the Boulevard, while Abe Lyman takes his orchestra to Loew's State for a limited sojourn of two weeks before trekking to Chicago.

Programs of an exceptional nature are now being worked out by Director Morgan for his initial performance at the Boulevard Friday. Simultaneous with his return will be the western premiere of "A Man's Past," a Universal production starring Conrad Veidt in his first American screen play. The story is one of forbidden love, in which the supporting cast includes Barbara Bedford, Arthur Edmund Carew, Ian Keith and George Siegmann.

No Contortions in Chaney Role

Lon Chaney abandons fantastic roles to play a natural one that is even more fantastic—that of a Scotland Yard detective, ferreting out a mystery amid ghosts in a haunted manor, in "London After Midnight," his new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle, coming to Loew's State Theater Friday.

As a detective he uses many weird disguises and utilizes hypnotism to trail a criminal.

The picture is a Tod Browning production, and Conrad Nagel, Marceline Day and Henry B. Walthall are included in the cast with Chaney.

CONSULS TO GATHER TUESDAY AT THEATER

Nearly every country in the world will be represented Tuesday night at the Morosco Theater, when members of all "foreign" consulates will attend the performance of William J. Periman's "My Country."

The management of the Morosco has arranged to have the theater draped with flags and pennants representing all nations.

"BROADWAY TO DIXIE"

Presenting a two-part program in black and white, called from "Broadway to Dixie," a combination of the regular Follies burlesque company and a troupe of twenty-six colored entertainers—the Follies this week is offering one of the most novel and entertaining programs of its career. All of the Follies favorites and the chorus of forty girls appear in a cycle of solo numbers and costumed ensembles just a little stronger than ever.

Wilkes Leaves to Confer With "Vortex" Star

Thomas Wilkes is leaving today for San Francisco to confer with Marjorie Rambeau, who reportedly has been forced to postpone her trip south for several days.

Though arrangements for the appearance of this popular star in "The Vortex" have been virtually completed, Wilkes is encountering some difficulty in securing someone to play the male lead who meets with the approval of Noel Coward, the author. Coward, considered one of the most brilliant figures in English and American theatrical circles, wrote the play as a vehicle for himself. He has retained the right to pass approval on whoever is cast in what he considers the starring role.

Upon his return from Frisco Wilkes expects to announce the name of this actor.

Star Lauds Own Stage Manager

Marilynn Miller, the popular star of the Flo Ziegfeld forces, said the day after the sensational first night of "Broadway," that "it isn't every star who can have a stage manager who writes a play like 'Broadway.'" She was referring to Philip Dunning, who was her own stage manager during the "Sunny" run. Dunning, until recently known as a stage manager, is now known as the lucky author of a play that is bringing him in several thousand dollars a week in royalties.

The story of the vicissitudes of the script of "Broadway" is a long cycle of little disasters. After it had been everywhere spurned it fell into the hands of Jed Harris, who had George Abbott rewrite it. The rest is theatrical history.

ZIEGFELD STAR IS HIT AT ORPHEUM

Elsa Ersi

Los Angeles critics have been unanimous in their praise of Elsa Ersi, the Hungarian star headlining at the Orpheum this week. Miss Ersi is known to vaudeville as well as musical comedy theatergoers, having been featured with Leon Errol in Ziegfeld's "Louie the 14th."

With Nat Ayer, British composer, as her accompanist, Miss Ersi this week is offering songs in Hungarian, French and English.

Although she is only 22, she has been a featured prima donna in France, Hungary and Germany.

"BEGGARS' OPERA" IS BOOKED FOR MATINEE

"The Beggars' Opera," John Gay's melodious comic operetta of two centuries ago, will be given at a special matinee Sunday at the Hollywood Playhouse. The performance of "The Second Year," with Enid Markey and Theodor Von Eltz, will go on as usual Sunday evening.

The "Beggars' Opera" will be presented by L. E. Behymer.

CONTRALTO DRAMATIZES SONG POETRY

Braslau Intensifies Works of Notable Composers in Brilliant Concert

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Sophie Braslau, Russian-American contralto now reaching the zenith of her career as a dramatic recitalist, sang before a large and distinguished Los Angeles last night at the Philharmonic last night. Her program was architecturally built of important works written for her unusually dark and dusky voice and the edifice of tone which she erected song by song, was a magnificent one.

Her amazing intensity seemed inexhaustible and was exerted to the last encore. There is something at once primitive and exotic about Sophie Braslau, and the richness and opulence of her voice, and its giving, has the primeval quality of the soil. Consummate skill on her part has created an interpretative ability that makes each song a living entity for the moments in which she wrests it out of silence and forcefully energizes it, dominating both the song and her audience.

Choosing the "Song of the Bride," "The Sea," "Pain" and "Romance" by Rimsky-Korsakoff, Mousorgsky and Rubinstein, with which to open her program was but the first sign of her masterly intelligence. She was utterly at one with them. Towering dramatizations they were of deep feeling sung in arresting Russian—of a bride dying of grief, of the glory of a sea "beating upon the shores with all its splendor," of a "woe rendering the oak tree into tiny twigs, plucking it leaf by leaf," and at the last the healing beauty of Rubinstein's well known "Romance" put into caressing words of love.

A splendid accompanist was Louise Linder. One remembers that she has supported some other famous artist here. Was it Elena Gerhardt?

As encore to the first group Miss Braslau sang Schubert's Erlkonig in a manner so Russian as to suggest Tschaikowsky.

The second group was in remarkable contrast. Two little-known songs from Italy transcribed by Sadero, called "Amuri-Amuri" and "Curi, Curizzu," were typical of a certain expressive, peasant folk-song and sung with characteristic abandon. The first charming accompaniment was strangely reminiscent of Schubert's Serenade and the second was a simple one of strumming strings.

Respighi's "Nebbie," or "The Mists," was a miracle of difficult simplicity. The perfect opening, ascending, scale sung slowly crescendo, reached an unforgettable climax of tone and fatefully descended. The work was impressive in the way that Rachmaninoff's "Steppes" is. Here was wonderful workmanship of the composer and again of the artist who sang it.

The "Happy Isle," by Chabrier, was a musical story of warm voluptuousness, sensuously beautiful as Braslau sang it, but painted in colors of oppressive heaviness. One longed for the pastels of Ravel to illustrate such a poem.

A merry little tune called "Marie Antoinette" by Jacobsen laughingly relieved that tension and then came a "Vocalise" by Ravel, which was an exhibition of the expressiveness of one syllable when illuminated by a Spanish rhythm and a great voice. A "Tarantelle" by Dubois continued the mood and closed the group. Two encores were an operatic aria (was it by Bellini?) and Kreisler's "Viennese Melody" set to English words.

The closing numbers, a "Londonderry Air" set by Kreisler with an accompaniment written oddly enough in Cyril Scott's best manner and sung without regard for its ballad style; "The Banjo Player" by Barnett, which proved so inconsequential as to make one wonder why Braslau put so much into it; a negro song of the "Water Boy" by Robinson, effectively crooned, and finally "All God's Chillun Got Wings" by Rosamund Johnson.

Her audience was more completely hers, if possible, after she gave the familiar aria, "Love Is a Gypsy Boy," from "Carmen" and played her own accompaniment.

Braslau will appear again on Thursday night and Friday afternoon with the Philharmonic Orchestra.

LEASE ON FORUM IS TAKEN OVER

Playhouse Changes Hands Again; Goring and Truitt Named Lessees

John P. Goring and Jack F. Truitt have taken over the lease on the Forum Theater for an indefinite period, it was reported last night. The deal was made with Alexander Pantages, who operated the house for the past few months.

Just what Goring and Truitt have in view for future policy has not definitely been announced. Nevertheless, starting Sunday, the present arrangement will be entirely revised. Two entirely new shows will be given each week, with the changes being made on Sunday and Wednesday. A new scale of prices will become effective.

A selection of features will be screened, backed up with elaborate stage presentations and unusual novelties, it is said. One performance will be given in the afternoon and two at night.

On Sunday Emil Jannings in "Othello" will figure as the screen attraction. Wednesday will usher in the Duncan sisters in their first motion picture, "Topsy and Eva." Each of these productions will be accompanied by a colorful and unique stage presentation, it is said.

William Farnum is Stage Host

When the curtain goes up on the western premiere of F. W. Murnau's film, "Sunrise," at the Carthay Circle Theater a week from tonight, the audience from the film and social worlds will have an extra "treat" besides the picture, Elinor's musical accompaniment and Jack Laughlin's "surprise" prologue.

The master of ceremonies will be William Farnum.

Farnum has just returned to Hollywood after a successful stage engagement on both coasts. He is to play one of the leading roles in the Fox production of "Hangman's House," which is to go into production shortly.

When Fred Miller operated the Miller Theater on Main street some years ago Farnum was his biggest drawing card.

Domestic Felicity

Scene: Any home.

Characters: Any husband and any wife. They have just gone to bed; the husband has closed his eyes and is on the borderland between waking and sleeping.

Wife: Don't tell me you're asleep already.

Husband (apologetically:) "I'm awfully tired. Had a hard day at the office. (He closes his eyes again.)

Wife: I wish I could go to sleep that quickly just once.

Husband (with so much pathos in his tone that it almost makes him cry in pity for himself:) Can't remember when I've had such a hard day. . . . Completely played out.

Wife (absolutely untouched:) Pooh, you always say that when I want to talk to you at night.

Husband (hurt that his pathos hasn't gone over:) It's the truth. I'm so tired I'm almost sick.

Wife: Well, go to sleep, then. Don't care if I stay awake all night.

Husband: But why don't you go to sleep, too? It's after twelve.

Wife: It isn't because I don't want to. I would if I were a phlegmatic type like you. But I'm so high-strung.

Husband: Nothing's happened to get you upset, has there? (He is becoming concerned despite his intelligence.)

Wife (with a cynical laugh:) Oh, no—nothing at all.

Husband (sitting up in alarm:) What is it? Tell me, dear.

Wife: No, you go right ahead and go to sleep. I guess I can stand it.

Husband (his heart beating anxiously:) You must tell me. Tell your hubby, dearie. You mustn't keep anything from me.

Wife: Well, if you insist. But remember you made me tell you. (She takes a deep breath.) I heard today that the Parkers are going to separate.

Husband: The who? Oh, the Parkers. But, good Lord, you havn't had anything to do with them in six years!

Wife: I know. But the last time I saw them they seemed such a happy couple, and now, a bare six years later—If a thing like that could happen to them, it could happen to anyone. It frightens you—a thing like that.

Husband (angrily:) Frightens you, not me! Oh, hell! (He lies down again, turning his back.)

Wife (outraged:) Archie! To say "hell" to me! (She sobs.)

(Husband vows to himself he won't turn around. Let her cry her head off. The sobbing dies down; all is still. He becomes alarmed. What has happened? What is she doing? Worse, what is she thinking? He turns around . . . She is asleep. . . . He gives a yelp of anger, almost wakes her, loses his nerve and lies awake fuming until after four in the morning, to punish her by getting indigestion from lack of sleep and so having to renew his pills.)

Bertram Bloch.

EASY TO START, HARD TO STOP

Seagulls Adopt Huntington Park Lawn for Feeding Ground

HUNTINGTON PARK, Nov. 22.—Just whether the lawn at the Peterson home is to become an "eating place" for seagulls, is a question that the members of the Peterson family, are trying to solve.

Sunday morning, two seagulls were flying over the city, and alighted in the yard at the Peterson home. Members of the family took great delight in feeding crumbs to the birds. When they were sufficiently fed, they flew away.

Nothing more was thought of the incident until yesterday, when a large flock of the fowls made their appearance, and, of course, were treated to a similar meal.

The Petersons now wonder if this is to be a daily occurrence, and how many friends the two seagulls making the first visit will bring along on the next trip.

TURN OLD CITY HALL INTO JAIL

Pasadena Acts to Save Funds Set Aside to Buy New Police Station Site

PASADENA, Nov. 22.—The old City Hall at Fair Oaks avenue and Union street was designated today officially as the police station by the Board of City Directors, with Chief of Police Kelley appointed as its custodian.

The directors stated that the building will be completely renovated and altered to serve as police headquarters and as the City Jail, although no action was taken today to provide the money necessary for these changes.

It is believed, however, that the funds provided for another jail site, under the plans of the old Board of Directors, will be used to make the enlargements and improvements on the old City Hall Building instead.

The present police station will probably be used by the Emergency Hospital which is now next door to it. Most of the police offices have been moved into the old City Hall and the others will make the transfer immediately.

The Directors decided on the present step because they believed it would be hard to find a buyer for the old City Hall Building, which they had considered placing on the market. It was formerly planned to sell the building and to build a new jail somewhere in the vicinity of the new City Hall on Garfield avenue.

Dairy Farms Up For Sale

ONTARIO, Nov. 22. — Proposed plans for further increasing the dairy facilities in the district south of Ontario by placing a number of two-and-one-half and four-acre dairy ranches on the market were outlined to members of the Ontario Realty Board in meeting yesterday. Each dairy ranch will be fully equipped with necessary corrals, barns, milk house and whatever else is required. The tracts will then be placed on the market.

Districts south of Ontario and in Chino supply a large share of Los Angeles' milk demand and the demands for local dairy products are becoming greater, which is declared the reason for placing the small tracts on the public market. Suggestion that a cheese factory be established in the community did not meet with the favor of the dealers, as the whole milk supply finds a ready market.

PRIZE TURKEYS FOR NEWSBOYS' DINNER

TOPANGA, Nov. 22.—The first consignment from a huge flock of fat turkeys will be dispatched from the Topanga Canyon ranch of Fred H. Solomon tomorrow to Los Angeles, to grace the Thanksgiving tables of fortunate individuals.

The initial shipment of gobblers and hens are to be awarded as prizes in the annual Thanksgiving Eve masquerade ball to be staged on Wednesday night in Solomon's Grand-avenue ballroom.

The remainder of the great flock will serve as piece de resistanee for several hundred hungry newsboys in the great Christmas Day feast Solomon gives annually to his little friends on the street corners as a memorial to his mother, the late Mrs. Seraphine C. Solomon.

Solomon started the raising of turkeys in the canyon in order to provide only the finest birds for his ballroom parties. While he has demonstrated the venture is profitable and the canyon an ideal location to raise turkeys, he prefers to give away the prize flock rather than seek financial reward.

RECKLESS DRIVER BROUGHT TO JAIL

UPLAND, Nov. 22.—L. W. Gaunt, Pomona auto salesman, wanted in Upland on a charge of reckless driving and for failure to obey a court summons, was in County Jail today awaiting court hearing.

Gaunt was captured in National City, near the Mexican border Monday. In company with Mrs. Eva Davis of San Bernardino, he was arrested on October 5, last, and police charge that when they pursued the speeding car which Mrs. Davis was driving, the woman and Gaunt changed places at the steering wheel without slackening speed, thus endangering other motorists.

Mrs. Davis appeared in court on the date set and was bound over to Superior Court for trial. Gaunt failed to show up and his bail of $500 was declared forfeited. A bench warrant was issued and Gaunt was picked up near the border.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP FAILS

Long Beach Hears Report from Expert Telling of Waste and Mismanagement

LONG BEACH, Nov. 22.—This city's wildly enthusiastic venture into the field of municipal ownership and operation of public utilities, taken four years ago, is not the success which voters who authorized a $3,000,000 bond issue for the purchase of the local gas system were given to expect.

An unlimited supply of natural gas at 50 cents per 1000 cubic feet for domestic consumption was the promise held forth to the voters, but a report, submitted today to the City Manager by Joseph M. Berkley, gas consulting engineer, will be the swan song of 50-cent gas in Long Beach if adopted. Berkley, in his report, urges that the prevailing rate be raised to $1 per 1000 cubic feet for the first 1000 feet and 80 cents per 1000 for the next 4000 feet. Passage of an emergency ordinance to become effective December 1, next, for establishment of the proposed new gas rate is urged in the report.

"I feel that in introducing this report it is only fair to myself as an engineer to say that in all my experience I have never seen a gas department that has been so mishandled as this department of your city has been. If it were privately owned it would have been sold by the Sheriff long ago," Mr. Berkley's letter accompanying the report read.

In recommending an increase in rates, the report recommends that a number of steps be taken to rehabilitate the city gas department. One of these is to the effect that the city should obtain as soon as possible the services of a highly-trained gas executive who has had actual experience in California natural-gas practice.

Berkley, who was employed by the new administration to make a thorough survey and study of the gas department, scores the former management of the department in no uncertain terms and takes up at length the claim that millions of cubic feet of gas were blown into the air during the past summer because of lack of storage space.

"All I can say on this subject is that it is too pitiful to try to explain, and may yet become the most serious thing confronting the gas department. The only answer that can be applied now is that too much buying power was placed in the hands of one man and no brakes were put on the former City Manager. Ignorance of facts is no excuse in this case," Berkley's report states.

"If Long Beach is unwilling to raise the rates and follow the recommended course to rehabilitate the department it would be better to sell the system to a private corporation," Mr. Berkley told the City Council when he submitted his report.

Adopt Program of Improvement

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 22.—Inaugurating the most extensive paving project undertaken here this year Bakersfield City Council today adopted plans and specifications for paving twenty-seven blocks of city streets most of which are east of Union avenue.

The plans, which were drawn by City Engineer W. D. Clark, also call for six blocks of sidewalks and 7900 lineal feet of curbing. More than 500,000 square feet of roadway will be paved and the job will call for grading of 511,470.85 square feet of streets. Twenty-six thousand and forty-five feet of gutter will be constructed and culverts totaling 1588 lineal feet will be installed.

Two sections of streets in the big district will be paved with five and one-half-inch surfacing and the remainder with five-inch.

Streets to be paved are as follows: R street from Nineteenth to Eighteenth street; Eighteenth street from Q street to Union avenue; East Eighteenth street from Union avenue to Sonora street; Fremont street from Sonora street to East Truxton avenue; East Truxton from that point to East Nineteenth street, a distance of two blocks; Sonora street from Sumner street to Union avenue; Eureka street from Sonora street to Union avenue, and 100 feet along Union avenue to fill in the intersection between Sonora and California.

Woman Made City Planner

MONROVIA, Nov. 22. — The first woman invaded the ranks of Monrovia's City Planning Commission today. Mrs. Henry Waterman, prominent local club women, and George Williams, 328 North Myrtle avenue, were appointed last night by the City Council to fill vacancies caused by the resignation of C. R. Jones, president, and Harry Kellogg, secretary of the commission.

Mrs. Waterman is a prominent member of the Woman's Club, and has been active in civic affairs for several years. Mr. Williams, although a newcomer to Monrovia, has taken an active interest in civic work. He is a member of the Rotary Club.

The appointment of Mrs. Waterman to the Planning Commission is the result of an agreement made with the Woman's Club a year ago that a woman would be appointed to the commission when an opening occurred.

Mr. Williams was the first City Treasurer of Muskogee, Okla. Later he was a bank president in Pueblo, Colo., for about ten years, and served with the park board of Pueblo. He came to California fifteen years ago, making his home in Los Angeles until two years ago, when he moved to Monrovia.

FROST IN TULARE

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 22.—First real frost of the season visited Porterville District this morning when the temperature dropped to 32 deg., lawns and roofs being covered with a coat of white and thin ice on standing water. Nearest approach to it last season came on the 13th of December when 30 deg. was recorded. The frost is welcomed by citrus men as it will hasten coloring of oranges and by cotton growers as it will help to dry out the lint.

HIGH PRICED MEAT

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 22.—Believed to be the highest price since the World War, two cars of steers were shipped from Porterville yesterday by C. O. Gill to the Cudahy Packing Company at Los Angeles. The steers brought 11 cents per pound at Porterville, making an average of $148.50 per head. Average weight per head was 1350 pounds. Gill is one of the prominent cattlemen of this district.

Army Flyer Forced Down in Mexicali

MEXICALI, Nov. 22.—Out of gasoline and with only a vague idea of where he was, Maj. A. L. Sneed, commanding officer of Rockwell Field, San Diego, flying a one-man pursuit plane, made an emergency landing just before noon today on a small field adjoining the Lower California territorial palace here. The propeller struck a small mound of earth as the plane landed and was slightly bent. The damage was repaired locally. The Calexico Flying Club refueled the plane and the army officer took off two hours later.

He stated that he left Rockwell Field early this morning to fly to March Field, Riverside. Motor trouble developed as he passed over the Coast Range going north and he decided to make an emergency landing in Imperial Valley. A strong cross wind carried his plane to the south and he was several miles below the Mexican boundary line when he saw a town that he thought was Calexico. His gas supply gave out just before he reached the Mexicali field.

He expressed surprise when Mexican officials from the territorial offices rushed out to the plane and told him he was in Mexico.

Vocational Training to Be Discussed

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 22.—More than seventy members of the Vocational Alumni Association of the University of California at Los Angeles will gather here on December 8 for their annual convention in which talks by some of the prominent vocation figures of the Southland and election of officers for the year will be high lights.

Arrangements are being completed this week by Milfred Parker, head of the vocational training department of the Poly High School, and Miss Campaiglia, supervisor of domestic science in Riverside schools. Parker announced yesterday that probably fifteen will represent this city at the sessions, which will convene in the Y.M.C.A.

Luncheon will be served at the Y.M.C.A. at noon, after which there will be a special program of music and speaking. Miss Helen Hale, head of the Americanization activities of city schools and a representative of March Field, who will outline the academic standards of the March Field basic flight training school, will be the local person to address the assembly. Election of officers will be conducted in the afternoon session. Prof. Thistlewhite of the Jefferson High School, Los Angeles, now is president, and Prof. Thomas of the Frank Wiggins Trade School in Los Angeles, is secretary.

Speeding Train Hits Auto Truck

GLENDALE, Nov. 22.—Struck by a west-bound Southern Pacific train at the crossing at Allen street and San Fernando Road today, the truck driven by Howard A. Ratcliffe of San Fernando was completely wrecked and Ratcliffe was sent to the Burbank Hospital suffering from concussion of the brain, lacerations and possible internal injuries. Surgeons at the hospital say that Ratcliffe has a chance of recovery.

Ratcliffe was driving a truck belonging to Harris & Hull of Glendale when he attempted to cross the tracks ahead of the speeding train, which it is believed he failed to hear over the noise of his heavily laden truck until it was too late to leap or to halt his machine. The train struck the truck and carried it sixty feet along the track tearing the engine from the frame and carrying it another thirty feet before it fell off to one side.

Engineer E. W. Hurl halted the train and he and Conductor T. D. Handbury at once began to care for Ratcliffe. Officer C. A. Stickney of Burbank answered a call and took the injured man to Burbank, although the accident occurred in Glendale territory, and when the Glendale police arrived and found that Stickney had taken steps to save Ratcliffe's life they allowed the train to proceed.

WRONG PLACE TO HAVE AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

INGLEWOOD, Nov. 22.—Whether or not H. V. Asimont of Santa Monica imbibed too freely of spiritous liquors last night, a question yet to be settled in court, he certainly was unfortunate in his choice of a location in which to have a collision.

According to the Inglewood police blotter, where he is booked on a "driving-while-intoxicated" charge, Asimont crashed into a machine driven by a deputy sheriff, W. B. Williamson, and his bad luck was accented by the fact that the crash took place directly before the home of Motorcycle Officer Frank Wolter. The latter, who happened to be at home, was awakened by the crash, and, in no gentle humor because of his rudely disturbed slumbers, aided the county peace officer in escorting Asimont and his companion, G. L. Emery, also of Santa Monica, to the municipal calaboose.

CHILD INJURED

GLENDALE, Nov. 22.—Mary Ellen Jones, 5 years of age, 115-A North Chevy Chase, received a fractured skull last night when she was struck by a car driven by Franklin Kane, 2037 North Chevy Chase, and is now in the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital in a serious condition.

Kane told the police that he had stopped at a boulevard stop at East Broadway when the child ran in front of him as he started.

WOULDN'T YOU CALL FOR HELP

If You Saw Such Things on Highway in Early Morning?

LEMOORE, Nov. 22.—What would any motorist think if in the haze before daylight he saw looming up ahead on the highway and coming toward him elephants and camels of prodigious size, at a time when he was hitting up a limit speed. This was experience of O. D. Gaston of Coalinga, State highway maintenance superintendent, while on his way to Fresno. He threw on the brakes and swerved off into a ditch alongside the road.

Investigation showed the herd of big quadrupeds to consist of two large elephants and six camels, part of a road show making one night stands in the San Joaquin Valley, which two men on horseback were driving from Riverdale to Corcoran in the night, while there was little traffic on the road.

The highway official went to Hub, near by, where he telephoned here to Captain Overstreet of the Kings county traffic squad, called him out of bed and told him to come out and investigate the wild animal cavalcade. The officer turned out, though the tale sounded phony. Investigation confirmed the report of Gaston of his near collision on a public highway with a herd of mastodons from the jungles.

CHICKENS MADE WAY FOR BOOZE

Sheriff Finds Elaborate Distilling Outfit Housed in Poultry Yard

SANTA ANA, Nov. 22.—Sheriff Sam Jernigan and a squad of his deputies investigating a row of chicken houses capable of quartering 10,000 chicken at a Japanese ranch at Stanton last night found just one lone chicken. Then they found the largest liquor manufacturing plant ever unearthed in Orange county.

Seven Japanese: Y. Fugai, 38, I. Yoshi, 44, S. Goto, 22; K. Miyoshi, 28; S. Nishi, 44 and H. Ike, 22, all of Stanton, and H. Kimora, 18, Los Angeles, were taken into custody. The officers confiscated an imposing list of equipment and product, including 10,000 gallons of saki almost ready for bottling, 1000 gallons ready for bottling, 300 quarts in bottles, twenty gallons in jugs, 10,000 empty bottles, fifty sacks of rice, two giant cooking tanks and twenty-seven vats of 135 barrels capacity.

The Sheriff and his men swooped down upon the plant at 11 o'clock last night, attention having been drawn to the place several days ago when passing officers caught the powerful scent of refuse from the vats. The seven prisoners were held on charges of possession and manufacture of liquor.

Accompanying Jernigan on the raid were his chief criminal deputy, F. W. Howard and Deputies Carter, Elliott, Barnett, Reams and Humiston.

Last night's capture rounds out a month of spectacular raids by the Sheriff's force, three of the most notable captures ever made in the county coming during this month. They include the round-up of turkey thieves on November 10 and capture of a large still and five men at Westminster on November 12.

JURY EXONERATES DRIVER OF TRUCK

SAN FERNANDO, Nov. 22. — A Coroner's jury here this afternoon exonerated George Landoll, truck driver o, responsibility for the deaths of Clayton H. Nichols, his mother, Mrs. Sarah E. Nichols, and his sister, Mrs. J. W. Giddings, when their car collided with Landoll's truck at Castaic Junction, early Monday.

Landoll testified he was driving between twenty and thirty miles an hour and estimated the speed of the Nichols's car between forty-five and fifty miles an hour. Landoll said Nichols was past the center of the highway on a curve when he crashed into the truck. The jury termed the accident "unavoidable," and Landoll was released. Nichols's body will be sent to Emmettburg, Iowa, for burial. J. W. Giddings, who was in Nichols's car, was injured in the crash.

SERVICE CLUBS ENTERTAIN BOYS

REDONDO BEACH, Nov. 22.—The boy is supreme in the south bay district this week with practically every service club turning its meetings over to boys or its programs directed toward boys' work.

Three hundred boys were the guests of the Elks' lodge tonight in an entertainment, parade and dinner at the Elks' home arranged by Exalted Ruler Charles B. Robertson and Secretary Larson. At the meeting of the Rotary Club fifty boys were guests of the club, which had as its chairman Oliver Larson, a Redondo High School sophomore. Speakers and song leaders were from among the high school boys and Boy Scouts given special honors. The Kiwanis Club entertained the high school glee club and other organizations are making the boy the motif of programs.

TO GIVE THANKS

REDONDO BEACH, Nov. 22.—Union Thanksgiving services will be held by the Protestant churches tomorrow night in an assembly opening at 7:30 at the Central School Auditorium. The services will be opened by an overture by the Central School Orchestra. Music for the services has been arranged by a chorus choir of forty voices.

THANKSGIVING PAGEANT

San Diego Presents New Idea for Celebrating Famous New England Holiday

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 22.—Easter services in the open have long been a feature of Southern California religious life, but what is probably the first outdoor Thanksgiving service will be held Thursday in the Mount Helix Amphitheater near San Diego.

This Thanksgiving celebration, however, will be historical rather than religious in its character. It has been written by Wallace Moody of San Diego, especially for the occasion, and is called "Voices of the Ages." It will be presented at 4 o'clock in the afternoon by the Torick Players, Cadman Club, La Mesa Chamber of Commerce, American Legion and Boy Scouts, and will be a twilight service, drawing to a close as the sun sets in San Diego Bay within full view of the amphitheater, situated on the small mountain fourteen miles from the city of San Diego.

Mt. Helix is similar to Mt. Roubidoux, where Easter services have been held for a number of years in the same manner as they have been staged on Mt. Helix. Mt. Helix is the companion mountain to Cross-mont, famous for the homes of celebrities, such as Mme. Schumann-Heink and Carrie Jacobs Bond.

Because of the fact that Southern California is so far removed from New England history, the services have been written around the legend of the early pioneers who blazed the trail to the Golden West. The drama as presented, will depict their struggles, privations and conquest of the Pacific Coast. The drama will commence while daylight lingers, followed by the splendor of the sunset, and shrouded by darkness in the second and third scenes. Special lighting effects are being worked out to give the rocks illuminous effect.

More than 100 will participate in the Thanksgiving drama with a chorus of sixty voices from the Cadman Club. No admission will be charged as the service has been organized as a community observance of Thanksgiving.

Council Acts in Opposition to Churchmen

TORRANCE, Nov. 22.—The Torrance City Council has launched a movement to prevent the construction of a "Church of the Four Square Gospel" at the corner of El Prado and Arlington avenue, following the report of Mayor Dennis that two property owners had requested him to bring the matter before the Council. The Mayor reported the owners as declaring that they do not wish to build any more dwellings on the street if the church building is constructed on the corner.

According to the city zoning ordinance, it was pointed out, a church could not be constructed on the property unless consent were received in writing from all property owners within 300 feet of the lot. It was also contended that no zoning law could prohibit the construction of a church building in any zone, the contention being met with the counter contention that the "Four Square Gospel" has no charter as a church and therefore does not come under the same legal interpretations as govern recognized churches.

Mayor Dennis reported that a permit for a "Four Square Gospel" Church was refused in Pasadena because the church has no charter, a Councilmen Wolfe and Raymond went on record as opposing the construction of a church on that particular property. City Attorney Briney will take up the legal phases of the case to be reported later.

Give Banquet to Athletes at Redlands

REDLANDS, Nov. 22.—Mattison B. Jones, Los Angeles attorney and president of the board of trustees of the University of Redlands was the principal speaker at the annual football banquet given by the trustees today for the football squad, their "girls," faculty and trustees.

There were 150 present for the turkey dinner and Jones spoke with large satisfaction of seeing some of the football teams in action while recently in the East, especially his alma mater, Kentucky, defeating Center of such great fame a few years ago, 52 to 0 last Saturday.

During the evening the seventeen letter men were presented with their letters. They are Ivan Bell, Walter Lenhart, Aubrey Price, Hubert Smith, Earl Thomerson, Jewell Hawks, Harry Colvin, who played their last game, K. Smith, Bolen Davis, Doug Bunch, A. Smith, Dick Farquhar, Dwight Loper, Jimmy Fox, Harold Neidermeyer, Bill Greenfield and H. Smith. They met during the evening and elected Bolen Davis, guard, as captain.

A. Cunningham, head of the athletic department; President V. L. Duke, Milton Gair for alumni, S. Guy Jones for the faculty, Hubert Smith, captain; Stewart Yost, freshman captain; Elsie Hanson for the women and Jesse Curtis for the men spoke. Coach Lee Trine said that Redlands won one game this year while Occidental and Whittier with much better and more experienced material won but two conference games.

CANCEL PROPOSED ISSUE OF BONDS

CHINO, Nov. 22. — The bond issue recently voted by Chino district for funds to straighten out a financial tangle between the high school and elementary school districts, was canceled yesterday upon request of J. A. Latham and O. C. Seibel, clerk of Chino School Board.

All bids for the issue were rejected. At a recent grand jury study of the situation it was brought out that the school board unwittingly has transferred elementary school funds to the high school, and vice versa, and that as a result some of the funds were depleted and others had too much. There was no money lost in the transaction.

The $35,000 bond issue was called to straighten out the tangle, and it was not until bids were called for and received that it was noticed that the bonds could not be legally used for that purpose. So the issue has been canceled.

ARSON JURY IN SECOND DEADLOCK

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 22. — After twenty-two hours of deliberation, the jury sitting in the E. O. Allbritton arson case, seemed at an impasse today, reproducing so far, the history of the first trial which resulted in a disagreed and dismissed jury. The case went to the jury yesterday shortly after 2 p.m., when Tom Scott, assistant District Attorney, had finished his concluding address, and Judge R. B. Lambert had given his instructions to the jurors.

The State's star witnesses were two young men who admitted their guilt in connection with the burning of an apartment-house on Twenty-fourth street. One of the witnesses said he had been hired by the defendant to set fire to the place which was insured.

Allbritton denied the alleged conspiracy.

ANNUAL DAIRY DAY OF WASCO DISTRICT

WASCO, Nov. 22. — Dairymen from all the dairy districts of the county met at Giddings ranch near Wasco, today for their annual observance of Dairy Day, a feature of the dairy department of the Kern County Farm Bureau. The events of the day were held under the auspices of the dairy department and the extension service of the University of California, with J. P. Hertel, assistant farm adviser, as its representative.

The annual observance of this day marks the closing of each year's cow-testing records, kept for the purpose of eliminating poor cows of economic loss to the dairymen.

Loses Memory in Auto Crash

GLENDALE, Nov. 22.—Suffering from a complete loss of memory following an automobile accident in which he was involved at Montrose late last night, Eric Denyer, 1872 Charlevoix street, Pasadena, is in the Physicians and Surgeons Hospital with a fractured skull.

Denyer was taken to the hospital by a man who left before giving his name or furnishing the hospital authorities with any details of the accident, but when Detective-Sergeant Henderson questioned him later Denyer was unable to give any information that would lead to a solution of the mystery, and it was not until later when a member of the homicide detail of the Sheriff's office reported that Denyer had been hurt in a collision with W. H. Bettig of La Crescenta that the cause of his injuries was learned. Bettig was arrested and taken to Pasadena on a charge of reckless driving and both his and Denyer's cars are held in an Altadena garage pending the outcome of the latter's injuries, which may result fatally.

WORK SOON TO START ON GIRARD SCHOOL

GIRARD, Nov. 22.—The forty-two-acre tract near here that is to become the permanent home of the school to be founded by the Protestant Welfare Association is being made ready for the early beginning of building operations. The land lies between here and Chalk Hills. Improvements costing $250,000 will include six cottages, each accommodating twenty-one boys, an administration building, shops and agricultural building. Plans have been completed by the architects and promoters of the enterprise state that everything is in readiness for pushing the construction operations. The coming of this institution means an immediate increase of more than 150 in the permanent population of the district.

SHOT WIFE THEN JOINED THE ARMY

LONG BEACH, Nov. 22.—Fred Garlinger, wanted here for shooting his wife on the morning of September 2 at their home, 1517 Perris Road, is under arrest at Fort McDowell, San Francisco, and will be brought to this city for prosecution on a charge of attempted murder. Garlinger, after fleeing from the crime, enlisted in the Army at Fort MacArthur in San Pedro and was later transferred to Fort McDowell, detectives working on the case learned. He was to be transferred within the next few days to New Jersey.

On telegraphic advices from this city, the commanding officer of Fort McDowell ordered Garlinger placed under military arrest, pending the arrival of officers from this city.

NEW FARM ADVISOR

VISALIA, Nov. 22.—J. C. Johnson, former assistant farm advisor of Los Angeles county, has been appointed to a similar position in Tulare county. He will work in the citrus department, assuming his new duties on December 15.

NEW FEATURES IN AUTOMOBILE

Santa Barbara Man Has Novel Car

Inventor is Former Head of Timken Company

May Tend to Revolutionize Industry

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 22.—A new automobile, embodying a score of unique features, will soon reach the manufacturing stage under the guidance of A. R. Demory of Santa Barbara, retired head of the Timken-Detroit Axle Company of Detroit, Mich.

The automobile has been developed by Mr. Demory since he became a resident of Santa Barbara several months ago, with the assistance of Max Ritterath, his engineer, and a completed automobile will be taken to Detroit in a special car on Thursday.

Although the automobile as constructed by Mr. Demory is a popular six-cylinder car, it has been so developed and rebuilt that it no longer bears any resemblance to that vehicle. Future automobiles to be built, Mr. Demory indicated, will be constructed from the motor up.

While the majority of innovations on the Demory car are more or less accessories, several of them, he believes, will revolutionize the industry.

Foremost among these is a new automobile headlight, constructed on the idea of louvres. One large light, mounted on the front of the automobile, entirely eliminates glare in driving, affording, nevertheless, plenty of light.

UNIQUE HEADLIGHT

The headlight consists in shutting the light into a box and then letting it out in the desired proportions and in the required direction by the movement of louvres. With it, the reflector can be dispensed with and the lens is not needed—only an ordinary glass to house the apparatus from the weather.

Mr. Demory conceived the idea for these lights by watching the action of venetian blinds in his office, which could be so adjusted as to permit the entrance of plenty of light without the direct rays of the sun.

Another feature of the car is a reversed air action which, instead of driving the hot motor air against the driving compartment, draws it out the front of the automobile and shoots it under the car. The fan is placed in front of the radiator, which is entirely closed in front, while the louvres in the side of the hood have been reversed to catch the cold air as it strikes the automobile. In connection with this is the addition of an air-cooled manifold, which also has been so constructed as to catch the cold air as it enters.

There also has been installed on the automobile a contrivance which forces superheated steam into the air cleaner, resulting in a perfect carburetion, with increased mileage, its inventor claims.

Pneumatic bumpers, built on the principle of an automobile tire, are connected with the fenders, both front and rear, and so constructed as to protect the fenders and wheels as well. The bumpers, which resemble a three-inch fire hose, are kept inflated at 150-pound pressure through a compression tank mounted under the automobile. A pump attached to the rear springs, and working through the natural up-and-down action of the car, keeps the tank full of air at high pressure.

The tank also is connected with all four wheels, where air is carried through the spokes into the four tires, which thus are kept inflated to the required pressure at all times. A pop-off valve mounted on the present valve stem, is an assurance against overinflation should the tires become heated. A control, however, prohibits the entrance of greater pressure than is required.

MOTOR HEAT CONTROL

Mr. Demory has also invented an instrument which automatically cuts off the motor when it approaches the danger point from overheating, after it has warned the driver by means of a buzzer when the motor is too hot. It is combined with a motormeter, mounted on the instrument board, which registers the motor heat in degrees.

On the rear of the automobile is a box which carries all the tools necessary for emergency repairs, with the spare tire inclosed from the dirt and safe from theft within. Mounted in the box is the tail head, which is a combination of a left turn, right turn, stop light and illuminated license plate, which on the Demory automobile will be transparent. A similar illuminated license plate is mounted on the front of the automobile.

Inside the automobile are two cigarette boxes which will go far to prevent fires from castaway cigarettes, Mr. Demory believes. The cigarette stub is placed in a small drawer, which, when closed, masticates and tears the stub into small pieces, effectively putting out the burning embers, and then dropping them down a chute out of the automobile.

Louvres, removable, are placed in the windows of the automobile, if it is a closed car, and in front of the driver, which permits the exclusion of the direct rays of the sun while admitting plenty of light and permitting an unobstructed view of the road.

"You might call this a lazy man's automobile," Mr. Demory declared with a grin. "It is more than that. Consideration for the driver and the passenger is paramount."

ANOTHER INNOVATION

Mr. Demory is at work on an automobile which will have the engine mounted at the rear, with the transmission in front, although he does not plan to incorporate this plan in his present car. An automobile so constructed, he says, has long been the aim of the automotive industry, but none has been willing to spend the necessary large sum in developing it.

Mr. Ritterrath, who has been working on the automobile with Mr. Demory, is the inventor of cold light, with the aid of which he has taken X-ray motion pictures of microbes, is the inventor of projectiles with variable trajectories, of automatic range finders for antiaircraft work, of antiaircraft projectiles, a cannon base with new recoil action and many other devices.

Mr. Demory, still closely allied with the Timken brothers, has a large backing for his manufacturing enterprise.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

The usual Thanksgiving dinner at Switzer-Land resort, in the Upper Arroyo Seco Canyon, will be served at 1 o'clock in teh afternooft, followed by a brief Thanksgiving service at the Switzer-Land chapel at 2:30. Among the dinner guests will be Chief Thunder-Bird of the Cheyennes Indians, with his wife and son. Dinner will be served again at 6 o'clock, followed by an entertainment given by the Indian chief, accompanied by his wife and son, featuring Indian songs and dances and stories of Indian life. Dr. Spencer Atkinson will show an unusual set of lantern clides of wild animals and birds in their natural setting.

Dr. Atkinson and the Indians also will entertain on Friday and Saturday evenings, and on Sunday morning Chief Thunder-Bird will speak at the Switzer-Land chapel.

Hotel Program

A musical program of delightful character has been planned by the Hotel Clark management for Thanksgiving evening dinner. The program will be under the direction of the Heinrich Tandler Quartet.

Death Valley Dinner

A real Thanksgiving dinner with all the "fixin's," in the heart of Death Valley, would have seemed but a mirage to the traveler in that region a year or so ago. Today it is a pleasant reality at Stove Pipe Wells, a modern desert resort, reached in a day's travel from Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Eichbaum will be host and hostess at what probably will be the largest Thanksgiving dinner party ever given in Death Valley. The roads are reported in excellent condition via Mojave, Lancaster, Red Rock Canyon, Lone Pine and through the Panamint Valley over the Eichbaum road, which is the new California entrance to Death Valley via Townsend Pass.

Packing Them In

Joe Marengo's Harmony Boys still are "packing them in" at the Italian Village Cafe, according to Manager Joe Tardini.

Jack Stanley, known as the "Songbird of a Thousand Songs," is on the entertainment program.

Tardini advises that a specialty prepared menu is scheduled for Turkey Day tomorrow in his cafe.

Inn Opens to Public

Former patrons of the Pierpont Inn in Ventura will be glad to learn that the inn again is open to the public, having been operated by a private club for several months.

Charles Wade, manager of the inn, has arranged a special Thanksgiving turkey dinner for tomorrow to be served from noon until 8 in the evening.

Mile-High Dinner

A Thanksgiving dinner of exceptional quality is promised to visitors in Oakglen Lodge, situated in the mountains back of Redlands.

Oakglen is at an elevation of one mile, and will also offer snappy winter weather to Thanksgiving vacationists.

Island Expects Crowd

A record Thanksgiving crowd is expected at Catalina Island, judging from advance reservations received at the Hotel St. Catherine for Thanksgiving dinner, at which Rodney Jefferson, famed chef of the Island hostelry, has promised to serve all Catalina viands, from game fish and fowl to native fruits and vegetables.

An extensive sport program, including golf tournaments on the new grass links, wild mountain goat hunting, fishing, swimming and boat races, a baseball game on Wrigley Field and tennis matches, is scheduled on the island for Thanksgiving Day.

Old-Fashioned Feast

The stage is set for a sumptuous, old-fashioned Thanksgiving Dinner in the St. Ann's Inn in Santa Ana.

R. L. Bixby, manager, has always decorated his inn at this time of the year entirely in season, and has made arrangements to do the same this year.

MISS RALSTON IN PERSON

Tonight will be a gala night at Loew's State, with Esther Ralston, star of "Figures Don't Lie," the current photoplay attraction, making a personal appearance at 7:30. Miss Ralston will be introduced from the stage by Nora Bayes, singer, who is the principal stage attraction this week. Miss Bayes will present the star immediately after the conclusion of her own performance before the footlights.

MINIMUM CHARGE 4 LINES

To estimate the cost of want ads count 5 average words per line. Words containing more than 6 letters should be counted as two words.

Advertisers should retain receipts given by The Times for payment of Want Ads, as no mistakes will be rectified without them.

Cancellation of advertisements before appearance cannot be guaranteed to take effect until after the advertisements have appeared once. Countermands must be received by 2:30 p.m. on week days and 9 a.m. Friday for Sunday Times.

Rates for display advertising will be furnished on request.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

The inadvertent omission or incorrect publishing of advertising will be rectified only by cancellation of the charge made for the service rendered.

Friday, 8 p.m., is closing hour for the early issue of the Sunday Times.

UNDER ADVERTISED PRICES

In the many years we have been in business, this is the first time that we have ever had a used car sale—and it is your good fortune to be able to take advantage of the bona fide reductions that we are offering you at this time.

REVISED STOCK

Although our first week of bona fide reductions on REBUILT LINCOLNS met with tremendous success, we are still able to offer a most complete stock. This is due to the fact that these Rebuilt LINCOLNS were in the shops being rebuilt at the start of this sale.

THESE CARS ARE NOW READY FOR DELIVERY. We would suggest that you come in NOW and inspect our revised line of

BEATING BACK TO ADOBE DAYS

Map of Los Angeles Pueblo Displayed at Dinner

McGroarty Takes Gathering on "Trip to Rancho"

Oblivious to the clang of passing street cars and the whine of police sirens, a group of men and women sat in the auditorium of the City Club last night listening to stories about and seeing pictures of "Adobe Days of Los Angeles."

The occasion was the annual dinner of the City Planning Association. Members of some of the old-time families dating back to the pueblo days were present, many of them in costume. There were songs and there were stories.

PICTURES OF OLDEN DAYS

Lantern slides showing pictures from the Arthur Ellis Collection of California, many of them in colors, were thrown on the screen while Mrs. A. S. C. Forbes discussed and interpreted them for the guests. There was shown even a map of the old pueblo of Los Angeles as it was laid out in 1781. A number of the old adobe homes of some of the venerable families in the city were shown in pictures, and there were among the white-haired guests seated at the speakers' table those who had played about these houses as children—such as the families of Del Valle, Estudillo, Lugo, Lopez, Avila, Palomares, Rivera, Sepulveda, Yorba, Rimpau and others.

And there was John Steven McGroarty, playright, who had motored down from the Green Verdugo Hills with his wife. He was invited by the chairman, Charles G. Adams, to stand right up in the synagogue and speak a word to "the congregation of the faithful."

BEATING BACK TO RANCHO DAYS

And as John spoke his eyes twinkled, looking back into the past of California. He saw not the mad whirl of the roaring city of today, but the pueblo and a land that he described as the happiest that man has lived in ever. Soon they saw before them not an after-dinner speaker in formal dress, but a gay caballero. He was not gliding down from the Verdugo hills in his automobile, but was dashing along on the highway to take dinner with Don Antonio Lugo in his vast rancho out on the King's Highway beyond Monrovia.

"I would meet a horseman coming down to road," Don Juan McGroarty told his audience, "and when I told him where I was bound he would turn his horse and go with me." Arriving at Lugo's rancho house John would be accompanied by a dozen other friends picked up on the highway. And all would be greeted by Lugo with open arms. And the evening's visit would be stretched out, for time was as nothing in those days.

The party had been wining and dining and seeing flocks of sheep and cattle and crops of grandchildren and dining and wining at Lugo's for about two weeks when the reporter for The Times looked at his watch, leaped to his feet, rushed out onto the street and plunged into the mad whirl of present-day Los Angeles to get this item in in time for this morning's issue.

STATE'S DAIRYMEN HONOR ANGELENO

Re-election for the sixth time of D. M. Dorman of Los Angeles as president of the California Milk Distributors' Association was announced yesterday in advices received from the organization headquarters in Oakland. Dorman is president of California Dairies, Inc., here. This is the second honor paid him within the past month, he having been made president of the International Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers at that group's recent convention in Cleveland. Dorman is the first Californian ever so honored. In addition to these offices, he is vice-president of the California and Southwestern States Ice Cream Manufacturers' Association and a member of the California Dairy Council.

WINTER RESIDENTS HAVE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burns Clark of Dover, N. H., residents of Los Angeles for the past fifteen winters, celebrated the successful conclusion of fifty years of married life the first of the week. Last Sunday evening, their daughter, Mrs. Rodolph I. Lamothe, 641 St. Paul avenue, was hostess at a dinner party given in their honor, at the end of which a shower of cards, telegrams and flowers from friends in the East came as a surprise to the couple.

Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Clark entertained members of the family and friends with a dinner at the Biltmore and a theater party. Mr. Clark is a lumber merchant of Dover.

OPEN HOUSE AT HIGH SCHOOL

New Beverly Hills Institution to Give Program After Inspection of Rooms Tonight

R. D. Wadsworth, principal of the new Beverly Hills High School, has invited residents of Beverly Hills and others interested in education to visit the institution tonight, for an open house and program of entertainment and dedicatory exercises.

The general program is divided into four parts: Inspection tour of the buildings, 6 to 6:30 o'clock; banquet in the cafeteria, 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock; informal reception in the lobby, 7:30 to 8 o'clock; program and dedication in the auditorium, 8 to 9:30 o'clock. Art and home economics classrooms, laboratories, oral English rooms and other classrooms with exhibits of pupils' work will be open, and students will explain the operation of the print and automobile shops. The banquet for 300 guests will be given under the auspices of the home economics department, girl pupils being responsible for the decorations and fancy touches of the meal.

Prominent citizens of Beverly Hills and leaders in educational circles will occupy the speakers' table, including Mrs. J. J. Canavan, president of the Beverly Hills Women's Club; Eugene Sanders of the Chamber of Commerce; Business Manager Record of Los Angeles City Schools; Mayor Spaulding of Beverly Hills; Bruce A. Findlay, assistant superintendent, and Miss Harriett C. Robbins, vice-principal. John Beman will preside.

The lobby is to be the scene of an informal reception, affording an opportunity for parents, pupils and teachers to meet each other and the outside guests. An exhibition of paintings to be seen there is the work of W. A. Paxton, local artist.

The school building and equipment represent an outlay of $850,000, paid by the Los Angeles Board of Education. Although Beverly Hills is a separate municipality, with its own grammar schools, the high school is a part of the Los Angeles city high school district. A full course of study for the ninth, tenth and eleventh grades has been offered this term and next year the institution will be a regulation four-year high school.

Organization work in extra-curricular activities has kept pace with academic work, the football team getting in a full season's schedule, five issues of the school paper being published and a student-body constitution framed. The Girls' League has sponsored an old-clothes drive and a food drive for the benefit of its sister school on the East Side.

PAIR LINKED WITH CRIME BY WITNESS

E. B. Sietz and Mrs. Lowe Pictured as Plotting to Rob Women of Jewels

Mrs. Ollie Lowe, 60-year-old apartment-house owner, and Evan B. Seitz, yesterday were linked with the hold-up of a party of guests at the home of Mrs. J. W. Cummings, 855 South Manafield avenue on April 12, last, when William Rosen, ex-convict, appeared in Municipal Judge Baird's court at the preliminary hearing of the pair and identified them as the man and woman who had discussed the robbery with him.

Mrs. Lowe, who operates an apartment-house at 2225 West

Nearly six weeks before the sensational jewel hold-up, Sietz came to him and asked if he wanted to "get in on some soft money," Rosen testified. "I know some rich women with lots of diamonds and jewelry," Sietz explained, the witness said.

Rosen said he balked when Sietz explained that Mrs. Lowe had some gems on which she hoped to get insurance after the bandit's relieved her and other wealthy guests at the Cummins bridge party of their possessions.

With Rosen still on the stand at adjournment Judge Baird continued the preliminary hearing of the pair until next Tuesday, when it is expected that the witness will add to his story concerning the conspiracy.

Though Mrs. Lowe, who operates an apartment-house at 2225 West Eleventh street, and Sietz, are charged with the robbery and conspiracy to collect insurance on Mrs. Lowe's jewelry, Rosen's testimony yesterday was the first brought out at the preliminary hearing to indicate their connection with the crime.

Pending continuance of their preliminary the defendants were released on bail, Mrs. Lowe furnishing $5000 and Sietz $10,000.

Council Given Wilcox Storm Drain Protest

A protest against the Wilcox storm drain and assessment district, which extends from the hills of Hollywood south to Pico street between Seward and Van Ness streets, has been filed with the City Council by the Wilshire District Chamber of Commerce, it was learned yesterday. The huge territory covered will cause many overlapping assessments, the Chamber contends.

In a letter to the Council the Chamber says in part "We are informed that the assessment district extends over a territory two miles wide and seven and one-half miles long. Many members of our organization have asked us to protest against this assessment on the grounds that it is high and in some cases overlapping other storm drain ass
